Grid Spotlight on West--East Game Friday With Championship At Stake

The grid spotlight of Columbus will be turned toward Magly Field at West High School Friday night as the East High Tigers invade the corral of the high scoring Cowboys. West, currently on top of the City High League football title race has thus far in the league competition scored five straight victories while amassing a total of 146 points to their opponents' 25.

East, on the other hand also holds an unsullied record in the City League with four victories and no defeats. Their only setback in this season's campaign has been a tie with North, otherwise they and West would hold identical records in the race. East has scored 139 points to their opponents' 46.

Championship is written all over the game for tomorrow night. Both West and East made sure of that in last Friday night's tilts when the Cowboy eleven notched up a 40-6 win over Linden McKinley and East on the same evening took Central High's Pirates into camp with a 34-7 shellacking.

The huge West line, which has proven its mettle on several occasions this year, will have its work cut out tomorrow night when they will be called upon to halt the Bengals' hard charging ground attack, which last week completely pulverized Central. On the other hand West has a diversified attack that can grind out yardage on the ground as well as through the air lanes.

East owns a pair of fleet backs in the persons of Don Wright and Bill Sowards, who have been consistent scorers for the Bengals. They are also blessed with a pair of fine ends in Norm Ingram and Bob Salmans. The latter also handles the punting chores for the Tigers.

The Pemberton coached squad has a number of standouts too, who are potential game breakers. Vincent, Orr, Grant, Ealy, Klein and Ongaro are the scat backs whom East will have to watch carefully because any of them are fully capable of long jaunts once they break into the clear.

In Trabue and Thornton, West has a pair of pass receivers who are standouts in any league. Likewise West has Kimball and Thomas and Meyer to make matters uncomfortable for any team they oppose, plus Doug Cole's terrific line bucks.

Probable starting lineup for West Friday night will be: ends, Trabue and Thornton; tackles, Thomas, Meyer; guards, Dean, Ives; center, Warne; backs, Orr, Grant, Ongaro and Cole.

Probable East starting lineup will be: ends, Ingram, Salmans; tackles, Collins, Banks; guards, Lewis, Edwards; center, Chafin; backs, Wallace, Wright, Sowards and Scott.

West Y-Teens Aid Annual Pigskin Frolic

Several West High School Y-Teens are helping to plan the annual Pigskin Frolic, informal city-wide sports dance for Y-Teens and their dates, to be held this year on Saturday, Nov. 15, from 9 to 12 p. m., in the YWCA ballroom. Tommy Davis and his swing band will provide the music and Gene Fullen of Club 33 will be master of ceremonies for the intermission entertainment.

Donna Theisen of West High has charge of the ticket sales. Kay Glass and Mary Ann Oberting are on the promotion committee.

Annual Father-Son Banquet Is Planned

The 16th annual father and son banquet of Hilltop Lutheran Church will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 13, 6:30 o'clock, at the church. The speaker will be Dr. Roland C. Matthies, treasurer of Wittenberg College, with Pastor John Hydinger participating.

Several entertainment features are being planned. Wilbur Fish, nationally known bell ringer, will play. Phi Mu Delta quartet of Ohio State University will sing, and Donald Kruckeberg will give a piano solo. Bert Lowry will lead the group singing, with Edith Mae Wilkins accompanying.

R. W. Bartel, Brotherhood president, is heading the committees, with Francis Harvey as general chairman. The other committees are: program, R. L. Rosenberger, Earl LeMott, William Eddy, W. B. Dilsavor; tickets, Herbert Weisert, chairman., Charles Pfaltzgraf and Max Huls; decorations, John Ricker, chairman, Bob Blesch, Fred Vashaw, Rod Johnson, William Hallsteine, Hugh McCurdy.

Donald McCready Dies In Hospital

Donald L. McCready, 61, of 273 S. Powell ave., died Friday morning in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Associated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., he was a member of the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Masons.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen McCready; a daughter, Mrs. Neil Osburn of Newark, Del., a son Donald L. McCready, Jr., of Edgewood, Md.; a brother, Emerson McCready of Columbus, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday, at Jerry Spears funeral home.

Burial was made in Sunset Cemetery.

Famed Pianist Is Guest Artist Of Symphony

Eugene Istomin, piano soloist, will be the guest artist at the opening concert of the Columbus Little Symphony on Sunday, Nov. 9, in the auditorium at Central High School, commencing at 4 p. m.

This is the first in a series of five twilight concerts to be given by the orchestra the coming season.

The Little Symphony is under the direction of George Hardesty of the School of Music at Ohio State University.

Armistice Day Is Main Theme At Friday Game

The half time show at the East-West championship tilt Friday night at Magly Field will be one that will be long remembered and one that is following a pattern set last year at this time. "Armistice Day" is to be the theme, with participation of the bands of West and East plus a color guard and firing squad from Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion.

West Band Director Claire Barnard this week released the following program which will highlight the half-time intermission between halves of the game.

The famed West High Marching band will go on the field to form the letters E A S T and pay tribute to the visitors from that school. Immediately following that formation a set of "Sergeant's Stripes" will be formed while the bandsmen play "The Caisson Song," honoring the army. The navy is the next branch of service to be honored when a huge "Anchor" will be formed in the middle of the field and the familiar music of "Anchors Aweigh" sounds throughout the stadium.

"The Marine Hymn" will honor the men of the Marine Corps while the band is in profile formation of a "Garrison Cap." With the formation of the letters U S A on the field the band will swing into the tune of "The Army Air Corps" and at the same time the color guard and firing squad of Camp Chase American Legion Post 98 will enter the field at the south and proceed to the flag pole at the north end of the stadium.

When the last strains of the music have stilled, the band will come to attention as will all the

Mothers To Protest New Army Rotation Policies

Mrs. Edward Mantle (left) and Mrs. Harold C. Davis are pictured above as they go over petitions which are urging repeal of an army policy that has extended duty tours for servicemen and women.

A group of mothers from all sections of Columbus have recently banded together to form an organization to protest vigorously the action of the Army in its recent change of the rotation system for troops now in Korea, by which their tours of duty in that strife ridden country have been extended

The organization was created last Thursday night at Memorial Hall, after a blast was directed by Mrs. Alex Koterba, 45 Frebis-av, toward the army policy and her plea that mothers of servicemen organize to do something about the situation.

Mrs. Harold C. Davis, 73 S. Eureka-av, was named as chairman of the organization on the Hilltop and Mrs. Edward Mantle, 53 N. Roys-av, as assistant chairman. This week these two Hilltop mothers began organization of others on the Hilltop and the passing of petitions which protests the violation of the promise made to servicemen that they would be rotated back to the United States after they had amassed a total of 36 points.

Said Mrs. Davis this week, "A group of mothers in this city has formed the Servicemen's Rotation Organization. Our purpose is to insist on fair play for our service men and women."

"The rotation program as originally set up by the government assured no undue stress on any man as its purpose was to keep all

Kiwanians Offer Aid To Refurnish Burned Catholic Chapel

Even while the fires raged at Ohio Penitentiary last Friday night and the Catholic Chapel of the riot torn institution was crumbling into ashes as seen in the above photo a Hilltop civic organization was going into action to help rebuild that which the flames and rioting convicts had destroyed.

The Support of Churches Committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club became the first organization in the city or state to offer aid toward restoration as they voted to contribute a sum of $100 toward the refurnishing of a new Catholic Chapel within the institution. Chairman Harold Lloyd said this week that presentation of that amount will be made as soon as contact can be made with Fr. C. Valerian Lauer, Catholic chaplain at the prison.

Local Election Trends

At press time election results in which Hilltop candidates were concerned the trend of voting indicated that with 400 precincts of the county's 700 reported Robert Cooke was losing out in his bid for county sheriff while Newton Thatcher was leading in the race for treasurer and Henry Koontz and Chuck Lauderbaugh leading for county commissioner.

At Hilliards the ordinance concerning Weaver Park was defeated by 216 to 114 votes while the question on continuance of taxing at Hilliards was upheld by a vote of 223 to 124.

Results of the Franklin twp fire protection levy and school board levy were not available at press time.

Morison Heads West June Class

West High 12B students recently held final elections for their class officers. Those elected were John Morison, president; Bernard Dishong, vice-president; Opaline Rice, secretary, and Barbara Upperman, treasurer.

John Morison resides with his parents at 2904 Crescent-dr. His interests are varied but are centered in television. He works after school and week-ends at WTVN where he is MC on a teen-age show. He is an active member of the Spanish Club and was admitted to the "L" Society in May, 1952.

Bernard Dishong is drum major, president of French Club, member of Spanish Club, plays in the dance band and has appeared in football skits. He lives with his parents and older sister at 2400 Ray-st.

The secretary of the class, Opaline Rice, is vice-president of the Visual Arts Club, a cabinet member of Y-Teens and a member of Future Teachers of America. Opaline lives with her parents and younger sister at 386 S. Roye-av.

The class treasurer is Barbara Upperman, a member of Future Teachers of America and Y-Teens. She has modeled in style shows presented at West High and was in last year's Band Variety Show. She is in West High's choir and is also active in football skits presented by the dramatics department. Barbara lives with her parents at 650 Wiltshire.

Our domestic flood control program has been stowed up because of lack of funds. But did you know that between 1948 and June 30, 1951, our government has provided $1,656,709 for flood control work in other countries?

Last April the Mutual Security Agency admitted 7,518 foreign citizens who had come here as guests in the preceding two years at a total cost of $14,811,000 to American taxpayers. This averaged $1,948 per visitor.

This Problem of Juvenile Delinquency

BJR Seeks Causes Of Wayward Youth

Recreational facilities at the Bureau of Juvenile Research are a great boon to those who study the behavior and actions of children who are brought to the institution for study. Every facility is employed to keep children happy while at the Bureau, for that is the key by which the reasons for delinquency are finally revealed. The recreational features also dispel the thought or idea that the bureau is a penal institution, for such is not the fact.

Editor's Note: This the second in a series of articles concerning the Bureau of Juvenile Research located in Columbus. In this series will be told the story of how this important social agency is approaching a problem that is rapidly becoming the concern of every civic-minded citizen.

By Pat Martindale

Many know that the State Bureau of Juvenile Research was established for the study of the juvenile delinquent and the child with behavior difficulties. We know too that it is one of the oldest agencies of its kind in the United States with a continuous period of development and growth but there are many of us who know little of the daily activities of the children who have been admitted to the bureau or how they are referred to the Bureau.

According to legislative law a child may be referred to the Bureau of Juvenile Research or to one of the Day Clinics by the courts, school, public agency, parents, relatives, individuals or by a private agency. A letter must first be written requesting an examination stating why the examination is requested and giving a little of the child's history. It is not unusual to suggest a child be admitted for cottage study following the examination in a clinic.

Children in residence at the Bureau need bring no extra clothing as the bureau furnishes everything except their shoes and socks while there. They may bring their own toilet articles if they desire, but no jewelry, stationary or money is allowed them. They are permitted to write home once a week but can receive as much mail as is sent. A child is told all about the bureau before entering and is also told that exactly how long he or she will have to remain there is not certain. No false promises are made because the Bureau has found that if a child knows exactly what to expect and is properly informed of the plan more cooperation is given.

A child spends his first week at the Bureau in isolation and during this time is given complete examinations by the physician to determine health defects if any and whether or not the child has a contagious disease. Many children are able to understand that this is for the protection of their health. During this period, however, the child dresses each day and is provided with games, toys and reading and a variety of forms of amusement to help to pass the time as easily as possible.

At the end of this week the child is then placed with a group near his or her age. These groups are called classes and there are three classes of boys and two classes of girls. Eahc class has its own recreation room in which they stay when they are not in school, working or in the office. Toilet articles are kept in closets, adjoining the recreation room, showers and toilets adjoin the class rooms. All children sleep in dormitories and when the weather permits, they play on the playground rather than inside.

Each child is encouraged to assume some responsibility appropriate for his age and health. It is considered important to determine whether a child is able to assume any responsibility in carrying out a task from day to day. The school program at the Bureau is two-fold. The child is given a battery of achievement tests to help determine whether the present school attainment is the best that reasonably could be expected of the child and to offer school work appropriate for the child's needs. This program also helps each child to keep up with his or her regular school work while at the Bureau.

Another important program carried on at the Bureau is a program of evening activities. The purpose is to provide constructive recreation for the children between supper time and bedtime. There are group activities with one night a week for movies of an educational nature and another night with movies of recreational purposes. There is also an "Amateur Hour" with the children taking part.

During the summer months activities are arranged outdoors and the children are given an opportunity to serve on committees to help plan the programs. This program usually consists of a variety of games, softball, volleyball, badminton, etc. Once a week a picnic is held in place of the supper meal. Very often parents are invited to attend the picnic.

During the winter a "Game Night" takes the place of the picnic. Last winter there was a "Current Events" discussion program that any child could attend. There were also table games and gymnasium classes for the younger children and art classes conducted by students of Ohio State University and YWCA members.

Catholic children attend St. Aloysius Church, across the street from the Bureau, and a priest from the church visits the children regularly.

Sunday School services are conducted at the Bureau each Sunday afternoon for all who wish to attend, by an interdenominational group.

The insight that has been gained about the children through these various means of free expression leads the Bureau of Juvenile Research to believe that this phase of its program is very important in the study and observation of the children in their care and may help them to expand its future program.

RICH MAN, POOR MAN . . .

GOOD HEALTH FOR ALL

By Marion Lovil

EXIT CAMILLE
(For Men Only)

The legend of Camille dies hard. Many people still believe that tuberculosis is chiefly a disease of young women. Whether this can be traced to the influence of Dumas' dramatic novel and Verdi's tuneful opera, in which the Lady of the Camellias coughs her life away in the last act, or whether it was once really true, it is difficult to know. Statistics today tell a different story.

If you are a man in your late forties, according to the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, you are the central figure in the TB drama today.

The median age of those who died died from tuberculosis in 1924 was 33 years. It has risen steadily since then to 48 years in 1949.

Add to that the fact that twice as many white men as white women die from TB and one and a half times as many Negro men as women, and you see immediately where you stand.

If, in addition, you live and work in the city your chances of catching the disease are even greater. Stop a moment and picture your crowded living and working conditions and you will see how great are your chances of coming into close contact with an active case of tuberculosis—the only way you can catch the disease.

There are still other factors that may make you perculiarly susceptible to TB.

It is believed that tension and anxiety, only too well known to men who have arrived at the "executive age", weaken resistance. And if you are one of those men who grab a cup of coffee in the morning before running for the bus to work, and eat a hurried sandwich for lunch, figuring to make up with a heavy dinner at night, then poor nutrition is adding to your danger.

When the family man breaks down with TB, special problems are created for the family and the community. No one can exaggerate what the loss of income and the loss of the father's stabilizing presence can mean. In addition, the community suffers because of loss of the patient's work and possible cost of compensation, pension, and relief payments. It is estimated that each case of TB averages approximately $14,000, including what that must be provided to the family while the patient is hospitalized. Much of the cost must be borne by the taxpayer.

The personal problems for the patient himself are many and among other things he may worry about his job and his family's security, and worry can menace recovery from TB.

There are people ready and able to help him solve his problems. But there's no blinking the difficulties.

Preventive measures would be easier. Among these are a good diet, plenty of sleep, moderate outdoor recreation, clothing suited to the weather, and avoidance of unnecessary strain.

And last but not least, a physical check-up and a chest x-ray at least once a year are of prime importance.

Last year there were 530 new cases of tuberculosis in Franklin County, and 109 deaths.

You can help combat the tragedy of tuberculosis by cooperating with community efforts to check the spread of this highly catching disease.

Telephone the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, AD. 3241, for information about a free Christmas seal X-ray.

STARLING EXHIBITS TROPHIES
By Betsy Greene

Starling's trophy case symbolizes its past and present. On the top shelf are trophies won in the past and presented to Starling by Wilson, Spalding, and Co-Champ Companies.

Some of these trophies were won before our school was named Starling. Those are the Avondale trophies won when it was called Avondale Junior High. This group consists of the Starling Junior High Field day trophy and ones won at the indoor relay Carnival which took place at the Ohio State University, Feb. 24, 1923, where Avondale won first place. The "Ole Timers" award was presented to Carl E. Smith because of his 22 years of service, for trophies from his coaching career are also a part of our collection.

In the lower shelves are art work displayed by the present eighth and ninth grade pupils: Tom Evans, Connie Daily, Bill Justus, Judy McKnight, Carl Maier, Janet Hickey, Sue Ysseldyke, Judy Fisk, Rodney Graham, and Everett Graves.

Above the display case is a motto placed there by the present Y-Teens, "No youth gets very far who burns midnight oil in an automobile."

Glenwood Center News

While the nation's adults were listening to election returns the teen-agers of Glenwood Recreation Center were busy casting their vote for officers of the club. Campaigning was done by the nominees, James Nitrauer, and Bob Hummel for president; Jim Decker, Norbert Berry and Tom Hedges for vice-president; Dee Holman, Donna O'Harra and Clara Hammell for secretary and Jim Darby, Joe Watt and Tom Barrett for treasurer.

Members of the club were required to register before voting and then their votes were cast in a booth that had been previously erected and mimeographed ballots similar to those used in the national election were used. Officers will be announced next week at which time they will take the oath of office and committee chairmen will be appointed.

The Teen Club will sponsor many service projects throughout the year. The first of these will have an Armistice Day theme of "Thanks to the Yanks" for those who served in the armed forces. Each teen-ager will bring a candy bar to the meeting and they will also collect candy bars from other clubs at the center. A movie will be sponsored requiring a candy bar for admission and after all candy has been collected the club will pack the bars and take the boxes to the Veterans Hospital in Chillicothe. "Thanks to the Yanks."

Sadie Hawkins Dance was quite a success. Everyone seemed to have a good time at the Nov. 5 dance. Dances will be held every other Wednesday from 8 to 10 p. m. Once a month a special dance will be held. Watch for the annoucement of the "Sock Hop" in the Record soon.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Is Held At Glenwood

Wednesday night this was a familiar scene at Glenwood Recreation Center when boys and girls attired as characters from the popular comic strip "Li'l Abner" gathered for a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. Tom Kolsbun as "Li'l Abner" is trying to escape the clutches of Patty Patterson (Daisy Mae and Charlene Smith (Moonbeam McSwine). Unlike the popular "Li'l Abner" Kolsbun didn't make any great effort toward escape.

Westway Postscripts

We are mourning for the third time within a month in the post because of a death. The mother of Daniel Russell, 350 N. Sylvan-av, was buried Saturday, Nov. 1. We offer our deepest sympathy to the family of this comrade. Besides the commander and his wife, Mrs. George Ell, the auxiliary president and Mrs. Roy Polus were at the service.

Who are the forgotten veterans? They are the veterans of World War I—the same veterans who were very instrumental in making sure that the veterans of World War II were received back into civilian life in better condition than any other veterans in history. It is high time that we really take the plight of the veteran of World War I into hand and do something about it. To do this we need more and more attendance from these members. Our meetings in November will be on the first and third Fridays of the month. Come one and all.

We have a very important parade coming up. Nov. 11 is Armistice Day—celebrating the end of World War I and that would be a fitting way to begin our probe into the problems of the veterans of World War I. We want to have the largest turn-out ever and be sure and wear all your ribbons.

There will soon be a bulletin out carrying news of all the activity that the post plans in the month of November. The commander promises that it will be enough to keep each and every member busy and only hopes that each and every event will have the adequate attendance that it merits.

SKIDMORE SCOUTS

Mothers Protest

things equal pertaining to the amount of time spent in danger zones. After a man had spent nine months or earned 36 points he had earned the right of rotation and was to be relieved by a replacement. This act was passed by Congress in 1950—but the promise has been broken and it can be broken again. It applies not only to our servicemen in Korea but Germany, Japan and other danger zones."

"Regardless of whether they were drafted or enlisted, they have done their part; many have suffered injuries, and really suffered all kinds of hardship to get their points. All we mothers are asking is that they be treated fairly."

"We are going to form a committee to present this plea to the proper officials in Washington that the government return to the original point system of rotation as originally promised our service men and women."

Recently formal announcement was made in Washington that the army had toughened its rotation system by increasing the number of points needed for a soldier to complete his tour of duty in Korea.

The total points needed for rotation home from the Far East has been increased from 36 to 38 for October, but officials say that the total may change again next month. It has remained at 36 with little change since the system was first set up in August, 1951.

Troops earn points at a rate based upon their closeness to combat. The highest rate, four points a month is for service in the actual combat zone.

Eighth Army officials announced in Korea when the system was set up that the number of troops returned to the United States each month would depend upon the number of replacements available and upon other factors. Rotation credit requirements would be changed accordingly to assure the army of having the personnel it needs, they said.

While the rotation system applies to servicemen in Korea, it has nothing to do with the length of service required of draftees. By law this is set at not more than 24 months.

Mrs. Davis said Wednesday that petitions favoring a re-establishment of former rotation system are now available for signing at the following Hilltop locations: Harmony Gift Shop, 2423 W. Broad-st; Johnny's Coney Island, 2429 W. Broad-st; Wolfe's Electric shop, 2427 W. Broad-st; Miss Muffett Restaurant, 2415 W. Broad-st; Hilltop Jewelers, 2421 W. Broad st; Fox Food Shop, 2422 W. Highland Students Stage Halloween Parade

By Pat Martindale

An annual custom was observed and loads of fun had by the children as well as the neighbors who watched the parade of colorful costumes from Highland Avenue School as they paraded last Thursday afternoon.

After marching up one street and down another the pupils returned to their school to be entertained in their home room. This year the party was held on Thursday, Oct. 30, because there was no school on Friday. The room mothers and mothers of many of the children provided refreshments and helped to serve the "party goers" in each grade.

Now that all Hallowe'en festivities for 1952 have passed into oblivion and the costumes of goblins, spooks and skeletons have been placed on the closet shelves until another year, pupils have returned to school with happy memories of the past week. Within a few weeks, however, these same children will be giving serious thoughts to another "All American" holiday, Thanksgiving.

And so it goes, as time marches on from one holiday to the next, both children and adults enjoy each of these feasts to the fullest extent because this is "Our American way of life."

Parties Curb Halloween Vandalism On Hilltop

Except for the teen-age dance at Westgate Park the Hilltop Community Council's annual Halloween party was not as successful as in previous years. Because the party was broken into two separate parties and because parents felt that it was too late in the season to hold the party in the open the attendance fell off among the younger children.

In 1950 approximately 3000 children attended the party and in 1951 there were approximately 4000 in attendance. All parties were held in West High School until this year. There were an estimated 1500 children and adults at both the Glenwood Recreation Center and Westgate party combined.

Many Hilltop organizations and their committee members were on hand at Glenwood Recreation Center and Westgate Park to help give the children a good time and many organizations donated funds to help cover the expense of the parties.

In the costume parade the following children were winners at Westgate Park: In the 2 to 6 year old division, Linda Jo Rentler, 63 N. Hague-av, prettiest; Michael Fleer, 148 S. Powell-av, most original and Terry Ryan, 148 S. Powell-av, funniest. In the 6 to 9 year division the prettiest was Marialice Schmitt, 286 S. Brinker-av, most original was Denny Ryan, 44 S. Powell, and the funniest was Jane Mapel, 3027 Wicklow-av. In 9 to 12 year division the prettiest was Dowana Bornhiem, 141 S. Sylvan-av; most original, Sharon Younkin, 300 Pewhatan-av, and the funniest was Jacqueline Cramer, 71 S. Westgate-av. The 12 year olds and up were John Pruitt, 684 Racine-av, prettiest, Ivan White, 280 S. Chase, most original and John Young, 46, Huron-av, funniest.

At Glenwood Recreation Center the winners were Rita M. Conard, 1443 Thomas-av, prettiest in the 2 to 6 division with Tommy Trimbal, 168 Whitethorne, as the most original and Billy Gill, 1894 Dorenav, as the funniest. In the 6 to 9 year group Marile Dessl, 311 Wrexham-av, was the prettiest, Connie Sue Conard, 1443 Thomas-av, most original and Carole Mitton, 79 Chicago-av was the funniest. In the 9 to 12 division, winners were Billy Ardle, 26 Whitethorne, prettiest, Richard Trimbal, 168 Whitethorne, most original, and Mike Ritter, 195 Belvidere-av, funniest. In the 12 year old and up group the following were winners: Charlotte Fulton, 205 N. Oakley-av, prettiest, Nancy Thompson, 217 N. Oakley, most original and Barbara Jones, 180 N. Ohio-av, funniest.

Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, chairman of the party and F. N. Reister, her assistant, reported that there wasn't even one minor casualty among the crowd.

Rated as one of the best safety men in the City League, West's Jim Vincent (43) proves that what they say about him in that respect is true as he starts off here on a spectacular jaunt of 90 odd yards to score for West against Linden. To all appearances the West back was trapped but after three times reversing his field he outran the Panther defenders to score.

There's a fumble in this mix-up of West and Linden players during last Thursday night's game at Magly field. Question is though, "Where's the ball?". Result of the play, however, was a recovery by West of the Panther fumble.

By Woody Owens

Last Thursday night at Magly Field West High's Cowboys remained undefeated in city league play as they took Linden McKinley in stride by a score of 40-6 before the smallest crowd of the season.

The locals counted three times in the first period. The first came on a 28 yard dash around right end by Dick Orr. The second came on Tom Origaro's 20 yard scamper around the left flank and the third on a brilliant 28 yard pass play from Orr to Bob Thornton, who made a leaping catch between two defenders in the end zone.

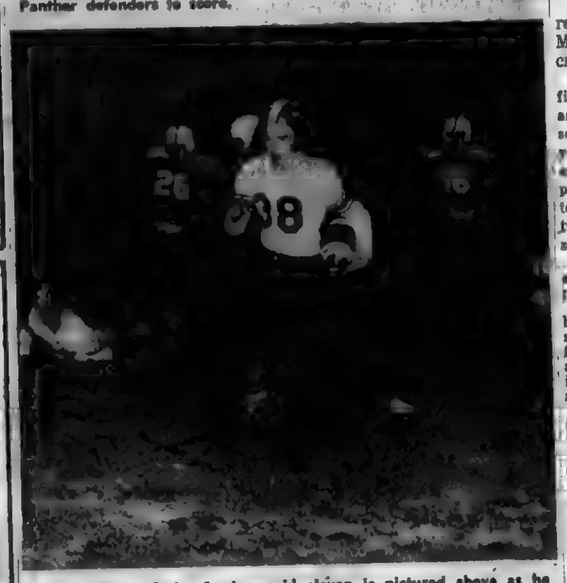
The versatile Jerry Trabue added two of the three points after via placement.

The second period was scoreless but the locals added two more scores in the third stanza. Number four came on a 15 yard scoring aerial from Orr to Trabue, climaxing a 72 yard drive. Trabue again added the point after.

The second and third stringers then entered the fray and counted DD number five as "Jarrin'" Jim Kimball blasted through center for one yard out to climax a 63 yard march. Trabue again added the point after.

Touchdown number six came in the final period on a brilliant individual effort by the City League's ace defensive safety man, Jim Vincent. Fading to pass from his own 28 to the 10 and seeing all receivers covered, he decided to run and by reversing his field three times he outsped the Panthers to dash 72 yards to pay dirt. Vincent failed to add the point after.

The Panthers counted their only score on Le Cortes' one yard smash over center with only 10 seconds remaining in the contest. His try for point after failed.



This Friday night at Magly Field, before a "Dads' Night" crowd which may reach the 7000 mark if the weather is good, the 1952 gridiron season will end with the clash between the undefeated Cowboys and the equally undefeated but once tied Tigers of East High for the City League title.

The biggest threat to the Cowboys' title aspirations will be two very speedy Tiger halfbacks, Don Wright (league leading scorer) and Bill Sowards, but the Cowboys have four big scoring threats of their own in the persons of Orr, Ongaro, Cole and Grant, along with two brilliant pass snatching ends Trabue and Thornton.

The contest may be decided in the forward wall, where the Cowboys, spearheaded by Tommy Thomas, Jim Kimbal, Jerry Trabue and Jim Kruckeberg, have a slight edge.

A total of 15 seniors will be closing out their gridiron careers for the Cowboys and they don't intend to let that title which they so greatly deserve elude their grasp. They are Dick Orr, Ron Grant, Fred Ives, Bill Haire, Earl Redman, Bob Guiffre, Ron Raike, Dan Krebs, Roger Meyer, Bob Thornton, Jerry Trabue, Paul Cochran.

Dick Orr of the Cowboy grid eleven is pictured above as he scampered across the Linden goal for the first score of the game last Thursday which the Cowboys won 40-6. In this play Orr traveled 28 yards on an end sweep.

Hilliards Takes 53-7 Walloping From Urbana

The passing wizardry of quarterback Gary Cook of Urbana proved too much for the Hilliards High football team to cope with last week as the Hillclimbers racked up eight touchdowns to smother Hilliards by a 53-7 score.

"Threading the needle" for two TD passes in the first quarter Cook gave the winners a 13-7 half time advantage and then climaxed the evening with three more payoff heaves in a wild and frenzied fourth quarter.

Frank Lowe, Urbana fullback however administered the back breaker to the Hilliard gridders with a 75 yard jaunt off tackle in the third quarter. This was almost immediately followed by an amazing 100 yard return of a pass interception by Urbana end Dick Sanders. Sanders latched on to the wayward aerial toss on his own goal line and by the aid of two key blocks traveled all the way for the score.

Gra-Y Football Title Chase Becomes Hotter As Two Tie

YMCA Gra-Y League Standings

West Broad	4	0
Highland	1	3
West Mound	0	4

Action was hot in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Football League at West High field Saturday morning as two tilts were decided by close scores.

Highland Gra-Y almost upset the league leaders from West Broad but the latter eked out a 7-0 victory. The Highland defense was outstanding as it stopped cold the West Broad star, Tom Hartranft.

In the second quarter, Bob Shay, who up to this time had been primarily a blocking back, scored for West Broad on an end sweep. The extra point was scored by Tom Hartranft, who was passing around end.

In the closing seconds of the game, Howard Shepherd of Highland had master-minded his team to the West Broad five-yard line. His last desperation pass was knocked down in the end zone as the gun sounded ending the game.

Officials: Brannon, Jenkins; scorer: Wilson; timer: L. Furry.

John Burroughs remained in the running for the league lead as they outscored a scrappy Westgate team 12-2. The Westgate defense kept Bill Ingle, the J. B. passing quarterback, under control; but they were unable to stop a new passing find in David Francis.

"Francis the Mule", as his teammates call him, continuously heaved to end Fred Ash, who scored both touchdowns for J.B. The extra points, tried from a "T" formation, were stopped by the light but hard charging line from Westgate.

Westgate Gra-Y ends: Mann, Penberton; tackles: Shroer, Morris; guards: Myers, Lamano; center: Sanford; backs, Schmidt, Swan, Linson, Kern and Eagen.

West Junior H-Y won once again from the Y clubs, but was tied for first.

Evangelist Services End At Burgess EUB

The evangelistic services which have been in process during the past week at Burgess Avenue EUB Church will continue on through this Sunday night and will be concluded at the 7:30 Sunday evening service Nov 9.

Rev. John D. Westley has been the speaker each night and Rev. Melvin George who is in the evangelistic field in full time service has been the director of song services.

The entire meeting has afforded ample opportunity for instruction in Sunday School evangelism with emphasis given both to the Sunday School and worship services. Seventeen certificates were given to persons who qualified in the week of training school. A fine class of 34 was enrolled for the week of Oct. 27-Nov. 2.

The Laymen's Christian Fellowship of the Hilltop Church of Christ (Disciples) elected the following officers at a recent meeting: Charles Dew, president; Ed Mantle, vice-president; Allan LaRue, secretary; Mathew Kilpatrick, treasurer.

The government wastes more than $20 millions a year, its own experts admit, by conducting research in fields already adequately investigated by private agencies.

November 11th

Seeing them like this on this day, you would want them to have your sympathy.

They would appreciate it. But they wouldn't need it.

You see, he left them so many things . . .

He left them a home, good principles, a good name, and an unshaken faith in God and their Church. And it has been their Church that has proven the worth of that faith in the years just passed, and that will be so welcome in the years that lie ahead.

They now have the things for which he fought. Freedom of the nation. Freedom of the vote. Freedom of the home. And Freedom of the Church.

His valiance made those things real to them in the war. His church is keeping those things alive now that he has gone. By going to Church, you help the Church to help them live the life he would have wanted for them, even though he gave up his own life for them—and for you.

You see, they don't need your sympathy. For through their Church they know the great truth:—that to live in the hearts left behind—as he now lives in theirs'—is not to die . . .

It is to live forever . . .

For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith . . .

THE CUMBERLAND RIFLES
By Noel B. Gerson

A story of the early days of Tennessee. It was first known as the territory of Franklin. Most of the early settlers came from Virginia and the Carolinas.

These brave people had to fight the hostile Indians and outlaw bands; guard against the Spaniards; and face poverty and want. Yet the widely separated villages and settlements established a state government. They had courts and law enforcement. Franklin settlers had an armed guard; made laws, minted money.

Among those who came was Janus Elholm, a Danish soldier. He planned to join the Spanish Army in Louisiana. On his way he came in contact with American customs, political beliefs, our way of life, freedom of speech and our liberties. Liking all of these things, he left Louisiana and joined the army of Tennessee to fight for the cause of Liberty.

Rosalind Walker, orphaned spinster and school teacher, is given a contract to open a girls' seminary in Franklin. This brave woman leaves the settled society of Boston and travels alone to Philadelphia; then by caravan over the mountains and rivers to Tennessee. Enroute she is saved from bandits by the brave Captain Janus, who was on his way from New York to Louisiana. They traveled with the same caravan to Nashville, Tenn. It was there that Rosalind met another Bostonian, Harold Jordan. Both men were Spanish agents and rivals for the beautiful teacher. Harold Jordan leaves the Spanish service, fights for his country and loses his life.

Captain Elholm arrives in Louisiana and is arrested by Spanish police. He escapes, flees Louisiana and joins the army to fight against the Spanish. Later he becomes a citizen and marries Rosalind Walker.

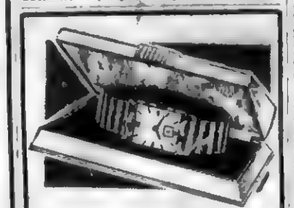
JOHN BONWELL
By Charles K. Pulse

John Bonwell is a swift moving historical novel by Charles K. Pulse, a well known Cincinnati attorney. It should be highly successful in creating an interest and appreciation for the coming sesquicentennial year celebration in Ohio.

The background of the action is described so well that you can easily visualize the rough terrain and undeveloped land of that period of time in 1818 to 1862 and also see the embryo of the present day towns.

There is action from the first line to the last. But if you find that the horse and buggy travel is too slow and you are tempted to skip a page or two to see if John reaches his destination, do not do it, for you will have missed a very important incident that affects the whole story.

There is humor and tragedy interwoven in the lives of the people. For those who like mystery, you will find one here that will mystify the most ardent of Gardner's fans. You may think you have solved it in several chapters, but the whole complete solution remains to be part of the last chapter.



John Bonwell seeks his fortune and finds it. In the meantime loving and being loved by two women. Woven into his life story are interesting meetings with such historical characters as Henry Clay and Ulysses Grant.

The novel begins with John as a young man. As he grows to maturity, he reaches a plateau when life holds little meaning and still less interest. But events and old friends revive his interest and his life becomes one of action again which continues until the end. This is a novel to read on a cold winter night sitting in the warmth of your home, but living for a little while with John Bonwell during a crucial period of that region bounded by Maysville and Lexington, Ky., Chillicothe and Cincinnati.

Community Should Consider Vacancies in City Council

Three or more vacancies will exist in Columbus City Council around Jan. 1.

We should carefully consider what this means and urgently request that some representation be allocated to this community when the posts are filled.

While the job is a low salaried one it is likewise very important that each post be filled by capable men who have the best interests of the city at heart rather than by someone who is interested in the job just to serve as a stepping stone for political ambitions or as a figurehead only.

It should be an important matter of business on the agenda of every civic organization to discuss this matter and come up with some worthwhile suggestions that the political party will feel inclined to follow.

That it is extremely important that men of the highest calibre be named to city council is evident in the present situation. After the first of the year a councilman, Robert Oestreicher, will be elevated to the position of mayor.

Rumor has it that Mr. Oestreicher may retain the job only a short time due to ill health. If this is so it appears that Dr. H. J. Fillinger, another member of the present council, will be elevated to the post of mayor.

Interference Incident Myth Exploded By Movies Of The East-West Game

A story which has made top billing with one of the downtown sports scribes concerning an incident which was reported to have taken place during the East-West championship football game, went a soaring into the "wild blue yonder" today and proved to be but a myth. Earlier reports had it that genial Mack Pemberton, head coach of the Cowboys had interfered with a runback of an intercepted pass by Chet Taylor of East and by that interference had cost East a touchdown.

Movies of the game taken from atop the press box at Magly stadium prove the account of the incident as reported in the daily press to be quite inaccurate and that the comments made in the succeeding days to be without basis of any fact. As a matter of fact it has been proven also that accounts that East had lodged a protest are also without basis.

The movies of the game reveal that Pemberton did step onto the field of play but immediately turned and fell to one knee when he saw what was happening. The movies show also that the ball carrier did not once break stride and that he continued for another thirty yards before being tackled. He did not change course in his run as was reported.

As the result of the incident a parley was held between [illegible]ton, the game officials and [illegible] Coach Ralph Webster just prior to the beginning of the second half. In this conference Pemberton explained his action of having inadvertently stepped upon the field of play. It was pointed out by the officials, that had they witnessed such an incident they would have penalized West 15 yards from the point of infraction, but that inasmuch as the player had evidently not been hindered and that he went 30 more yards before being tackled there was no justification for any penalizing action on their part and that there would be no penalty and no award of a touchdown. Coach Webster of East accepted the explanation of the affair and the decision of the officials and DID NOT lodge a protest as was reported.

The movies of the game taken last Friday also showed another factor which has never until this moment ever been revealed. Late in the game Grant was about to tackle the ball carrier on a punt return at the East 20 yard line, an East player unquestionably clipped Grant causing him to miss a tackle which would have nipped a long run by an East ball carrier. Had that play been called East would have been penalized to their five yard line and forced to put the ball in play there instead of midfield.

In exploding the myth that Pemberton had interfered with the East ball carrier and definitely branding it as untrue, officials at West High School today said that the movies taken of the game and particularly of the so-called interference were available for viewing at any time by any of the daily sports scribes who had inferred that such an incident took place.

As a matter of fact, the West coaching staff, the players and the student body and faculty this week were voicing no "sour grapes" over the fact that they had lost a championship. On the other hand they were high in praise of the East team.

The report by a downtown sports scribe that the incident was witnessed and obvious to all of the [illegible] present was branded today as a distortion of the truth inasmuch as the entire incident was witnessed by but a few persons who were on the sidelines of the field. The entire incident would not have been mentioned had it not been for the one sports writer who had elaborated on the incident.

School officials were quick to point out this week that they would not be governed by "downtown coaches or quarterbacks", and that the situation at West is not the same as at Ohio State where downtown sports scribes can crucify a coach to the extent that they will be governed by their opinions.

Korean Veteran Hurt When Car Crashes Dwelling

A 22-year-old veteran of Korea was injured last Friday when the car he was driving plowed into the back of another car, caromed off a parked car and crashed into a house at 3572 W. Broad-st.

John Hammond, 348 Buena-Vista-av, was driving east in Broad-st when his car struck the back of a car driven by James J. Murnane, 26, of 2253 Gerbert-rd, to set off the chain of events in the freak accident. Murnane was making a left turn into the parking lot of the Old Trail Bowling Alley.

Hammond's car struck the frame house of Otto G. Ohrstedt with such force that the stone foundation was caved in and plaster walls of three rooms were cracked.

Sheriff's Deputy Harry Hill said Hammond was lying beside the car bleeding when he arrived at the scene. The young veteran was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment of cuts on the face, body and left knee and possible internal injuries. His condition was listed as "good".

New J. C. Penney Co. Store Will Open Thursday At Central Point

Hilltoppers and West Siders have further incentive to do their shopping near home, with the formal opening Thursday of the new J. C. Penney Co. Department Store at the Central Point Shopping Center, Central-av., and W. Mound-st. The new West Side Penney store is the third outlet of that nationwide chain in Columbus, the others being on High-st downtown and at the Town & Country Shopping Center.

The opening of the Penney store at Central Point brings to eleven the number of stores in that huge development which is rapidly being completed. Spencers', Inc., operating a "Tots to Teens" store for children's apparel and toys opened on Oct. 31.

The new J. C. Penney store is almost an exact replica of their store at Town & Country, with the main floor being devoted to men's wear, women's lingerie and accessories, children's clothes, and a complete shoe department. The mezzanine houses the women's wear and millinery department and executive offices, and the downstairs floor is devoted to household necessities, yard goods, draperies, etc.

P. C. Kirby, who served for three years as assistant manager of the Town & Country Penney store is the general manager of the new outlet. The Central Point Penney store is located just east of the Gray Drug Store in the shopping center.

The Penney opening is to be followed shortly by the opening of the S. S. Kresge Co., and Schiff's Shoes, which are located in the same section of the shopping center. Each of the new stores plans to be open in plenty of time for Christmas shoppers.

The Kroger Company, Adeline Dress Shop, Salvatore Shoes, the Jonas Shoppe, May & Company Furniture and others will be opening in subsequent weeks.

The complete parking area, with free parking for 1500 cars, has been completed and shoppers now are provided with ample accommodations for their cars only a few steps from any store in the shopping center.

Formal opening of the Penney store will be held at noon Thursday, with a ribbon cutting ceremony to be attended by top executives of the Penney Company, Don M. Casto, Jr., developers and builders of Central Point, and representatives of the Central Point Business Association.

THE CUMBERLAND RIFLES
By Noel B. Gerson

A story of the early days of Tennessee. It was first known as the territory of Franklin. Most of the early settlers came from Virginia and the Carolinas.

These brave people had to fight the hostile Indians and outlaw bands; guard against the Spaniards; and face poverty and want. Yet the widely separated villages and settlements established a state government. They had courts and law enforcement. Franklin settlers had an armed guard; made laws, minted money.

Among those who came was Janus Elholm, a Danish soldier. He planned to join the Spanish Army in Louisiana. On his way he came in contact with American customs, political beliefs, our way of life, freedom of speech and our liberties. Liking all of these things, he left Louisiana and joined the army of Tennessee to fight for the cause of Liberty.

Rosalind Walker, orphaned spinster and school teacher, is given a contract to open a girls' seminary in Franklin. This brave woman leaves the settled society of Boston and travels alone to Philadelphia; then by caravan over the mountains and rivers to Tennessee. Enroute she is saved from bandits by the brave Captain Janus, who was on his way from New York to Louisiana. They traveled with the same caravan to Nashville, Tenn. It was there that Rosalind met another Bostonian, Harold Jordan. Both men were Spanish agents and rivals for the beautiful teacher. Harold Jordan leaves the Spanish service, fights for his country and loses his life.

Captain Elholm arrives in Louisiana and is arrested by Spanish police. He escapes, flees Louisiana and joins the army to fight against the Spanish. Later he becomes a citizen and marries Rosalind Walker.

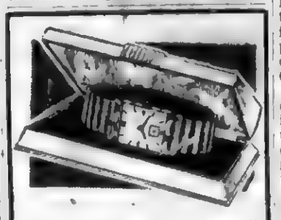
JOHN BONWELL
By Charles K. Pulse

John Bonwell is a swift moving historical novel by Charles K. Pulse, a well known Cincinnati attorney. It should be highly successful in creating an interest and appreciation for the coming sesquicentennial year celebration in Ohio.

The background of the action is described so well that you can easily visualize the rough terrain and undeveloped land of that period of time in 1818 to 1862 and also see the embryo of the present day [illegible].



There is action from the first line to the last. But if you find that the horse and buggy travel is too slow and you are tempted to skip a page or two to see if John reaches his destination, do not do it, for you will have missed a very important incident that affects the whole story.

There is humor and tragedy interwoven in the lives of the people. For those who like mystery, you will find one here that will mystify the most ardent of Gardner's fans. You may think you have solved it in several chapters, but the whole complete solution remains to be part of the last chapter.

John Bonwell seeks his fortune and finds it. In the meantime loving and being loved by two women. Woven into his life story are interesting meetings with such historical characters as Henry Clay and Ulysses Grant.

The novel begins with John as a young man. As he grows to maturity, he reaches a plateau when life holds little meaning and still less interest. But events and old friends revive his interest and his life becomes one of action again which continues until the end. This is a novel to read on a cold winter night sitting in the warmth of your home, but living for a little while with John Bonwell during a crucial period of that region bounded by Maysville and Lexington, Ky., Chillicothe and Cincinnati.

Community Should Consider Vacancies in City Council

Three or more vacancies will exist in Columbus City Council around Jan. 1.

We should carefully consider what this means and urgently request that some representation be allocated to this community when the posts are filled.

While the job is a low salaried one it is likewise very important that each post be filled by capable men who have the best interests of the city at heart rather than by someone who is interested in the job just to serve as a stepping stone for political ambitions or as a figurehead only.

It should be an important matter of business on the agenda of every civic organization to discuss this matter and come up with some worthwhile suggestions that the political party will feel inclined to follow.

That it is extremely important that men of the highest calibre be named to city council is evident in the present situation. After the first of the year a councilman, Robert Oestreicher, will be elevated to the position of mayor.

Rumor has it that Mr. Oestreicher may retain the job only a short time due to ill health. If this is so it appears that Dr. O. J. Fillinger, another member of the present council, will be elevated to the post of mayor.

Interference Incident Myth Exploded By Movies Of The East-West Game

A story which has made top billing with one of the downtown sports scribes concerning an incident which was reported to have taken place during the East-West championship football game, went a soaring into the "wild blue yonder" today and proved to be but a myth. Earlier reports had it that genial Mack Pemberton, head coach of the Cowboys had interfered with a runback of an intercepted pass by Chet Taylor of East and by that interference had cost East a touchdown.

Movies of the game taken from atop the press box at Magly stadium prove the account of the incident as reported in the daily press to be quite inaccurate and that the comments made in the succeeding days to be without basis of any fact. As a matter of fact it has been proven also that accounts that East had lodged a protest are also without basis.

The movies of the game reveal that Pemberton did step onto the field of play but immediately turned and fell to one knee when he saw what was happening. The movies show also that the ball carrier did not once break stride and that he continued for another thirty yards before being tackled. He did not change course in his run as was reported.

As the result of the incident a parley was held between Pembertos, the game officials and East Coach Ralph Webster just prior to the beginning of the second half. In this conference Pemberton explained his action of having inadvertently stepped upon the field of play. It was pointed out by the officials, that had they witnessed such an incident they would have penalized West 15 yards from the point of infraction, but that inasmuch as the player had evidently not been hindered and that he went 20 more yards before being tackled there was no justification for any penalizing action on their part and that there would be no penalty and no award of a touchdown. Coach Webster of East accepted the explanation of the affair and the decision of the officials and DID NOT lodge a protest as was reported.

The movies of the game taken last Friday also showed another factor which has never until this moment ever been revealed. Late in the game Grant was about to tackle the ball carrier on a punt return at the East 20 yard line, an East player unquestionably clipped Grant causing him to miss a tackle which would have nipped a long run by an East ball carrier. Had that play been called East would have been penalized to their five yard line and forced to put the ball in play there instead of midfield.

In exploding the myth that Pemberton had interfered with the East ball carrier and definitely branding it as untrue, officials at West High School today said that the movies taken of the game and particularly of the so-called interference were available for viewing at any time by any of the daily sports scribes who had inferred that such an incident took place.

As a matter of fact, the West coaching staff, the players and the student body and faculty this week were voicing no "sour grapes" over the fact that they had lost a championship. On the other hand they were high in praise of the East team.

The report by a downtown sports scribe that the incident was witnessed and obvious to all of the 9000 fans present was branded today as a distortion of the truth inasmuch as the entire incident was witnessed by but a few persons who were on the sidelines of the field. The entire incident would not have been mentioned had it not been for the one sports writer who had elaborated on the incident.

School officials were quick to point out this week that they would not be governed by "downtown coaches or quarterbacks", and that the situation at West is not the same as at Ohio State where downtown sports scribes can crucify a coach to the extent that they will be governed by their opinions.

Korean Veteran Hurt When Car Crashes Dwelling

A 22-year-old veteran of Korea was injured last Friday when the car he was driving plowed into the back of another car, caromed off a parked car and crashed into a house at 3572 W. Broad-st.

John Hammond, 348 Buena-Vista-av, was driving east in Broad-st when his car struck the back of a car driven by James J. Murnane, 26, of 2253 Gerbert-rd, to set off the chain of events in the freak accident. Murnane was making a left turn into the parking lot of the Old Trail Bowling Alley.

Hammond's car struck the frame house of Otto G. Ohrstedt with such force that the stone foundation was caved in and plaster walls of three rooms were cracked.

Sheriff's Deputy Harry Hill said Hammond was lying beside the car bleeding when he arrived at the scene. The young veteran was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment of cuts on the face, body and left knee and possible internal injuries. His condition was listed as "good".

New J. C. Penney Co. Store Will Open Thursday At Central Point

Hilltoppers and West Siders have further incentive to do their shopping near home, with the formal opening Thursday of the new J. C. Penney Co. Department Store at the Central Point Shopping Center, Central-av., and W. Mound-st. The new West Side Penney store is the third outlet of that nationwide chain in Columbus, the others being on High-st downtown and at the Town & Country Shopping Center.

The opening of the Penney store at Central Point brings to eleven the number of stores in that huge development which is rapidly being completed. Spencers', Inc., operating a "Tots to Teens" store for children's apparel and toys opened on Oct. 31.

The new J. C. Penney store is almost an exact replica of their store at Town & Country, with the main floor being devoted to men's wear, women's lingerie and accessories, children's clothes, and a complete shoe department. The mezzanine houses the women's wear and millinery department and executive offices, and the downstairs floor is devoted to household necessities, yard goods, draperies, etc.

P. C. Kirby, who served for three years as assistant manager of the Town & Country Penney store is the general manager of the new outlet. The Central Point Penney store is located just east of the Gray Drug store in the shopping center.

The Kroger Company, Adeline Dress Shop, Salvatore Shoes, the Jonas Shoppe, May & Company Furniture and others will be opening in subsequent weeks.

The complete parking area, with free parking for 1500 cars, has been completed and shoppers now are provided with ample accommodations for their cars only a few steps from any store in the shopping center.

West Broad PTA Plans Open House - Bake Sale

Planning the forthcoming open house and bake sale at the West Broad Street Elementary School which is scheduled for Nov. 20 are these members of the planning committee, left to right, Mrs. James R. Jackson, 215 N. Harris-av; Mrs. Robert G. Mead, 165 N. Chase-av; Matilde Stuart, West Broad School, and Mrs. Norman P. Halstead, 163 N. Harris-av.

Fathers and mothers! Would you like to see your children's progress in school? Meet their teachers? The principal, Miss Stuart? Then attend the open house at West Broad Street School on Thursday, Nov. 20, between 7 and 9 p. m.

This is the one big opportunity you will have to observe your children's school handiwork plus an opportunity to meet their teachers and really become acquainted.

There will also be a bake sale that evening featuring all sorts of goodies—cakes, cookies, pies, cup cakes, and candy. The returns from the bake sale will enable the PTA to purchase some one of their yearly projects. This list includes reference books and racks, kindergarten slide, record albums, bicycle rack and drapes for the auditorium, all sorely needed by the school.

To obtain funds the Band Parents annually sponsor the November card party, sell Christmas cards, hold two dances after football games and two after basketball games, and present the annual band variety show.

In addition to the financial aid, the Band Parents also provide supervision at all dances, games away from home, and variety show rehearsals.

West High News

By Gayle Acker

Nov. 7 was the last football game for the West Cowboys and, although they lost to East, they deserve a big hand for their fine job in playing the other games and winning them. The co-captains, Ron Grant and Jerry Trabue, also deserve a big hand for their playing and good sportsmanship. To go along the same line, the marching band also deserves praise for its good showmanship, as do Karen Griffith and Carolyn Dobbs, who marched for their last season.

The G.A.A. intramurals have started for the 1952-53 basketball season. The captains for this season are Sue Krull, Sis Dobbs, Sarah Steele, Nyla Grabill, Nancy Moss, Suzie Richards, Janet Reed, Mary Smith, Ann Cockfield, Donna Theisen, Rita Elliott, Marilyn Donahue, Barbara Harlow, Barbara Dewhurst, Wilma Kenworthy, Barbara Barbee, Yvonne Brewer, Sue Key, Mary Ann Oberting, Kay Tracy, Pollie Wright, Pat Thompson, Bettie Fleming and Vera Adams.

The 12A P.O.D. classes were to go to the museum for an assignment in P.O.D. for Mr. Randall. Some of the reports which were brought back were pretty funny.

Beverly Greene, a 12A registering in B.C., is now Mrs. Earl Tindell. Congratulations, Beverly, and good luck in the future from your classmates.

The intramural director is Yvonne Brewer, and the faculty advisers are Miss Helen McCormick and Miss Helen Wheeler.

He has served in the capacity of public relations director for the Central Ohio Council for the past two years and was formerly associate field scout executive with Northeast Ohio Council.

This Problem of Juvenile Delinquency

By Pat Martindale

It has long been recognized by the Bureau of Juvenile Research at 2280 W. Broad-st, that a more scientific and more defensive approach is needed to reduce delinquency and the Bureau has begun to feel that their methods have proven effective but their advancement and accomplishments should not stop here.

It is assumed that a community greatly reduces delinquency by the building of recreation centers, giving the proper personnel to schools and churches, supplying or sponsoring small groups or clubs such as Boy Scout and Girl Scout Troops, Camp Fire Groups, 4-H Clubs, YMCA and YWCA Clubs and activities or similar clubs but there are other popular advocated anti-delinquency measures such as improving our divorce laws, purification of the movies, restriction on the sale of liquor, elimination of gambling places, law restricting the employment of mothers, stringent regulation of prostitution, increasing use of foster homes, increasing use of social services, radio and TV programs dealing with delinquency problems, juvenile bureaus in police courts, co-ordinating councils and many others that should also be considered.

Many of our schools have already, or are, contemplated a program for maladjusted children which is proving satisfactory in the majority of cases. Many schools are carrying out remedial reading classes and speech therapy classes which as surprising as it may seem, have greatly improved behavior problems.

Handicaps and medical attention which has not been given very often create behavior problems which grow into maladjustment and juvenile delinquency. Delinquency and unusual behavior is very often found in children of average intelligence and quite often the situation is related to the attitude of parents. Parents can frequently contribute to the delinquency of their child without realizing it.

Recent statistics show 87.9 percent of juvenile delinquency is caused either in whole or in part in the home; 62.2 percent, in whole or in part, in the self; 13.6 percent, in whole or in part, in the community; 4.8 percent, in whole or in part, in the schools.

In our own community we are fortunate in having a very low percentage of juvenile delinquency as compared to other communities of the same population.

Our city and state as a whole are far ahead of many states of the same size and larger populations as far as juvenile delinquency programs and research are concerned, yet there has been an increase of 20 percent in delinquency in the past three years and by 1960 even if delinquency does not increase, law enforcement agencies will be dealing with 50 percent more children 10 to 17 years old (the age bracket in which most juvenile delinquency cases fall) than in 1950 because the number of youngsters of these ages increase as the result of high birth rates during and after World War II.

A million or so boys and girls are picked up by police each year and every time a child doesn't get the kind of help he needs at such a time, society is the loser. Far too many of our adult jails and prisons are filled with men and women who have juvenile-delinquency records. The maintenance of our adult criminals runs into millions upon millions of dollars each year.

The problem of juvenile delinquency has been with us before and many times during World War II, delinquency rose to a new peak. We have gained against it by training juvenile authorities and by research methods and training schools and it is hoped that with a better understanding and knowledge of child problems controls over delinquency will develop in the future for a better future for all concerned.

Rep. Ken Regan, Texas Democrat, discovered in 1951 that the army had bought 58 million yards of cotton webbing for belts, "enough to put a belt completely around the world at the equator, with sufficient surplus to give every man in the armed services a belt for every day in the week and two for Sunday."

John Burroughs Wins Hilltop Gra-Y Football Championship

By Dick Wilson

John Burroughs' inspired Gra-Y team pummeled unbeaten West Broad into a bewildered but scrappy victim of a 30-0 defeat in the Hilltop Gra-Y championship game held at West High field last Saturday morning.

The West Broad resurgent Gra-Y boys were a far cry from the powerhouse they were in previous games. Their running attack was completely stalled by the stout J.B. defense, and the game little guys from West Broad just didn't have an effective passing attack to fall back on after their seat back, Tommy Hartranft, had to leave the game because of a minor leg injury.

The J.B. Gra-Y hit plenty of pass es, but it was their sterling running attack which was responsible for all three of their touchdowns. Up to this time the boys from Sullivant-ay had not displayed any particular running stars, but Saturday they had guys who ran, ran, ran, and ran some more.

In the first period, "Little Peanut" Barnes showed his stuff as he went around end for 30 yards into pay dirt territory. Bill Ingle, in the second period, showed that he can also tote the pigskin as well as pass it, when he went for 15 yards into the coveted territory. Dave, "The Mule" Francis gave notice that he also has potentialities as a triple threater by intercepting a Cruse to Shay pass and going all the way for the third J.B. touchdown.

The final score came in the form of a safety against West Broad when the entire J.B. line caught Louie Cruse behind his own goal line. The victory left the John Burroughs Gra-Y at the top of the Hilltop Gra-Y Football League, with five victories and no defeats. West Broad ended the season in the runner-up spot with four victories and one defeat.

The battle for third place in the league between Westgate and Highland almost stole the show from the main event championship game. The two teams fought to a standstill up to the last 16 seconds of the game when the Westgate line blocked a Highland punt and recovered the ball on the Highland two yard line. The Westgate quarterback immediately called time to map out his strategy. This was the crucial play of the game, and it was masterfully executed as Schwan took a lateral from Ed Schmitt and ran around end to score just as the timer called the game. The point after touchdown was no good as a disappointed but courageous Highland line swamped the Westgate offense.

Westgate—ends: Mann, Pemberton; tackles: Phillips, Lamano, Morris; guards: A. Newkirk, Shroer; center: Sanford; backs: Schmitt, Schwan, Lindsoe, Kern.

NATIONAL FHA WEEK

There were some crazy doings the week of Nov. 2-7 at Hilliards High School. Monday the new members were initiated into the FHA organization, and were required to wear a house dress and an apron, carry a cook-book and a wooden spoon, wear a cooking utensil around their necks, a hair net, a sign on their backs identifying themselves, their sock tops up, and no make-up.

The poor girls couldn't talk to any boy until 12:30, but they could talk to girl friends and teachers, providing they started off with a little, memorized speech.

After struggling through this day with the whole school laughing at them, the FHA members got their revenge on "Gripe Day." Everyone they heard griping was reported to Doris Brown, and she read them over the P. A. system Friday morning. This was quite embarrassing to many a student at the school.

Teachers were honored Wednesday with corsages and boutonieres for the men in the red and white colors of FHA.

Miss Kohler was honored Tuesday with a beautiful white carnation corsage given to her by the Future Homemakers Chapter here. Outstanding board displays were another part of this memorable week.

PRINCE OF PEACE
By Dick Roesch

The annual Prince of Peace contest at Hilliards High School was held Nov. 3. Owen Ervin led the Pledge of Allegiance and Doris Bohlen gave the devotional.

Four stirring speeches dealing with the turbulent trials and tribulations of the world situation today, followed. Carolyn Daniels explained just what the Prince of Peace contest was and announced the speakers.

These speeches were presented by Mary Jo Johnson, Doris Brown, Edward Green and Bob Kent.

The judges, Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Robert Snider and Rev. Clyde Pennell, after a long discussion, declared Edward Green, the Hilliards Prince of Peace winner for 1953, and Bob Kent his alternate.

Edward has a chance to win the county, district and state finals for a four-year scholarship and $200.

It was also discussed how money could be raised for equipment.

HONOR SOCIETY
By Sharon Hobbs

The Franklin County Honor Society held its fall induction service on Monday, Oct. 27, at Worthington Elementary School.

The candidates from Hilliards were Leona Brown, Donna Cowgill, Wanda Sherwood, Sharon Hobbs, Josephine Murray, Carolyn Kidwell and James Trachsel. Bob Comeans was the "Spirit of Character", and gave a speech.

After the service the members went to the auditorium where they engaged in an autograph game. Bob Kent of Hilliards was the winner in this game.

Later there was a square dance with Milton Hall's band playing.

The boys participated against 11 other teams from the district. Five teams rated the gold award. They were Hilliards, Grove City, Westerville, Walnut Township and Canal Winchester.

Cunningham Pays-Off

"You said the dollar's devaluated . . . So's the corn," was the retort of Harold Cunningham to the complaint of Russell Carter over the sparse ears when Cunningham (at the right) paid off an election bet. Seems as though the two had wagered 10 bushels of corn on the outcome of the Nov. 4 election.

Cunningham, a staunch Democrat, backed Stevenson and Carter, ika. Said Cunningham, "I worked two days in the field picking up nubbin' corn just to pay off this bet and if there are anymore complaints I'll dump it right here in the doorway of your business."

Older fellows can join the group and prepare to take and pass the Ohio state officials' test (for basketball).

Call at the Center for complete information or join the group on Monday or Friday. Don't put it off. Do it now.

The American Society of Women Accountants will have a dinner meeting Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 6 p. m., at the Boulevard Presbyterian Church. Walter J. Mackey will speak on wage and salary stabilization.

The Cornelia P. Spencer Ray of the Columbus Cancer Clinic will meet Thursday, Nov. 13, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Dora Kaiser, 43 S. Princeton. Mrs. Cora Griffith will assist.

The St. Mary Magdalene Parish Altar-Rosary Sodality will meet Nov. 13 at 8:15 p. m. in the school hall. Ilsa Graf, a student at St. Mary of the Springs, from Germany, and Delfina Aqugi, a student at Ohio State University, from Guam, will tell of their experiences in their native land and in America. On exhibit will be the contents of a CARE package. Infant garments that will be collected for missions, and the types of clothing needed for the annual Thanksgiving clothing collection for Korea. East Tigers Edge West To Win Title

The referee signals a touchdown for West in this photo of the East-West game last Friday night as Dick Orr, Cowboy quarterback, utilized a sneak play from one yard out to rack up West's second score of the evening to put them ahead temporarily 14-6.

Hardhitting Wright of East is pictured here scoring the winning touchdown for the East Tigers. Note the huge whole which had been opened in the Cowboy line as the Tigers turned on the steam in the closing quarter of the fray to come from behind to win 19-14.

In this action shot from last Friday's East-West game ball carrier Tom Ongaro (59) of West is being racked up but plenty hard by East's Chet Taylor (73) as he attempted a wide end sweep. Sowards of East and Wally Collins (77) East are also pictured coming up to add their bit of mayhem to the tackle.

By Woody Owens

East High School's Tigers, led by their brilliant halfback, Don Wright, and a hard charging forward wall, staged a blazing final period rally which netted them two touchdowns and the 1952 City League gridiron crown as they took a bitterly contested 19-14 decision over the previously undefeated Cowboys of West High, before an overflow "Dads' Night" crowd at Magly Field last Friday night.

East received the opening kickoff and failed to advance. Salmans then punted to Kline, who returned 10 yards to his own 40, from which point the Cowboys marched to the Tigers' 23. There a first down fumble, recovered by Johnson, stopped the drive. The Tigers, led by Scott, Wright and Sowards, then drove to the Cowboys' 12, where three running plays were stopped. Wright then attempted a field goal from the 18, but it was wide. The Cowboys failed to gain on three plays as the first period ended.

Trabue punted to the Tigers' 37 as the second period opened. Wright, Sowards and Scott again led a drive to the Cowboys' 12, from which point the Tigers lost six yards on three running plays and with fourth down and 18 yards to go, Mackey passed to Ingram on the 10 and he outran the Cowboy defenders to the end zone. The pass from center went astray on the try for the point after TD.

The score remained at 6-0 until less than two minutes remained in the first half, when Dick Orr, brilliant Cowboy quarterback, faded to his own 37 yard line and lofted a long pass to Ron Grant on the 15. He outspeed the Tigers' defenders to score. (Officially the pass and run covered 53 yards.) Trabue's try for the point after was good, giving the Cowboys a halftime lead of 7-6.

Wright kicked off to Trabue, who returned 10 to his own 40. Grant and Ongaro alternated in toting the pigskin and, with an unnecessary roughness penalty thrown in the Cowboys were soon on the East 15. Orr then passed to Trabue to the five, from which point Orr plunged for the TD on fourth down. Trabue's placement was good. Score: West 14, East 6.

East then received the ensuing kickoff and marched from their own 31 to the Cowboys' 33 as the third period ended.

Fourth period: Scott and Wright in three blasts at the line carried to the four. Scott then drove through center to score. Wright's try for the point after was no good. West 14, East 12.

Several minutes later the Cowboys were forced back to their own one yard line by a penalty. Trabue punted to his own 35. Wright blasted through guard for 19, then added eight more through the same spot to the Cowboys' eight. Scott then made a first down on the four. Three plays later Wright plunged over for the score and added the point after to send East ahead, 19 to 14.

The Cowboys took the kickoff and marched to the Tigers' 36, from which point Salmans intercepted Orr's pass on the 24. The game ended four plays later.

The Tigers are to be congratulated on their brilliant victory but this writer as well as the student body of West High School and the Hilltop in general are justly proud of our Cowboys. No team or individual player need hang their heads in shame from losing to a team such as East exhibited in this game.

The Cowboys can be very proud of their 7 won and 2 lost record.

The fine coaching staff is also to be congratulated for a job well done.

Several of the Cowboys will receive plenty of recognition on the All City teams. They are Jerry Trabue, probably the best punter in this area as well as a fine pass receiver, kickoff specialist and extra point man and also outstanding defensive guard; Tommy Thomas, brilliant offensive and defensive tackle; Jim Kruckeberg, league's outstanding defensive end, and Jim Kimball, fine defensive tackle.

Government agencies just buy and buy. Recently one was found to have enough electric light bulbs on hand for 93 years. Another had enough loose leaf binders for 247 years.

Puzzle

As many as half the pupils in the small town grammar school had been absent with colds at one time. On a day when the attendance was comparatively good, the teacher decided to give a little talk on the dangers of exposure. To clinch her point, she concluded: "I had a little brother just seven years old who took his new sled out in the snow one day and caught pneumonia and three days later he died."

The classroom was heavy with silence and she was satisfied with the effectiveness of her story. When suddenly a small voice piped up from the rear: "Where's his sled?"

GOOD HEALTH FOR ALL

By Marion Lewis

(Editor's note: This column is presented in the interests of better community health by your Christmas seal agency. Pamphlets on a variety of health subjects may be obtained free by phoning or writing the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, 888 Oak St., Columbus.)

HOPE FOR TWO MILLION

Where is the blind beggar who was once so prominent on the American scene?

He is supporting himself as an expert craftsman.

The man who spent years in a wheelchair, bitter and hopeless, because of a childhood injury that cost him his legs, now walks to work, a little stiffly perhaps, but soundly.

These and many more handicapped persons are discovering today that they need not live a life of dependent invalidism.

Modern scientific knowledge has restored many who would formerly have been looked upon as hopeless cripples. In hospitals and special training centers both children and adults learn to use unaccustomed muscles. Devices of unbelievable efficiency replace lost limbs. Under medical supervision, expert teachers aid halting steps. Public and private organizations throughout the United States are helping people disabled by illness or accidents to help themselves.

According to the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, there are about 2,000,000 disabled people in this country who can, and should be employed or placed in more productive jobs.

Vocational rehabilitation programs for men and women who are handicapped are carried on in all of the 48 states. There are medical, surgical, psychiatric and hospital services available, as well as artificial limbs, braces, hearing aids, and the like. Guidance and training for the right job are given. Tools, equipment, licenses — whatever is needed to give the disabled person a fair start—are provided when necessary. Placement in the right kind of job, and follow-up to make sure that the person and job are well-matched, these services, too, are available to the handicapped today.

In these days, when the defense program requires the work of every available person, it is important that every handicapped person, who can be rehabilitated and employed, take advantage of the opportunities open to him—both for his own sake and for his country's welfare.

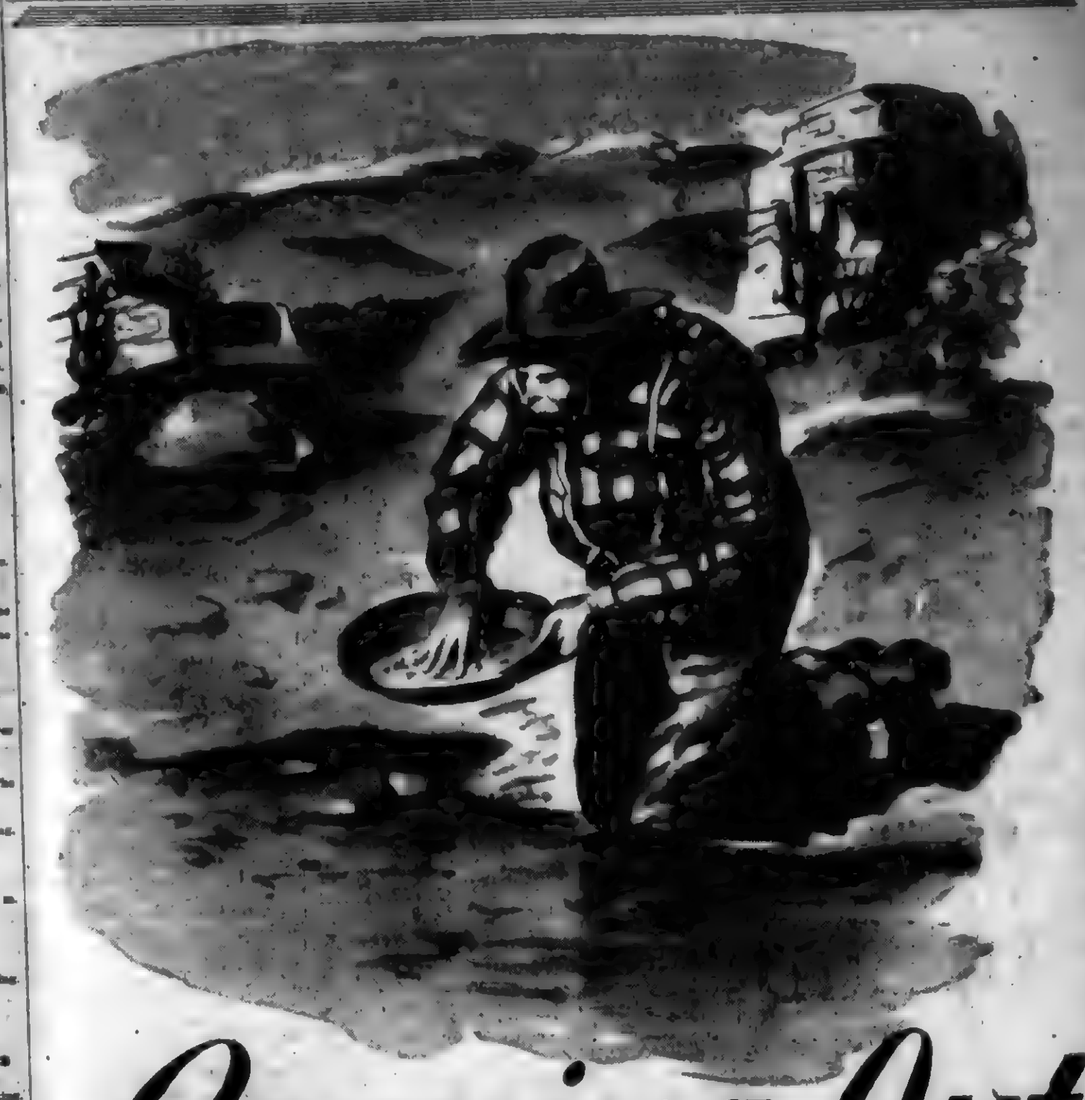
Highland School News



On Tuesday morning, Nov. 4, Highland Avenue School teachers of the first three grades attended a work-shop in reading at Westgate School. Girls from West High School who plan to make a career of teaching took over their classes. It proved to be an educational experience for all concerned.

On Tuesday afternoon many of the rooms held straw votes to decide whom they would prefer for the president of the USA. Many of the boys and girls seemed to be quite familiar with the candidates' views taken. This is the first time and issues involved. ...y have had individual pictures

Panning Out

The old forty-niner knew what hardship and risk really were. He traveled thousands of miles—by stagecoach, covered wagon, packhorse and foot—to reach his objective. And at his weary journey's end was a big question mark.

Gold?

Or nothing?

That was the chance that he took. . .

Although gold is mined more scientifically these days, men still take chances to earn their living or make their fortune, as the case may be. And in the course of their life work, most men meet up with disappointments which are enough to discourage their enthusiasm for living and their efforts to meet their goals.

Check those persons who allow temporary setbacks to ruin their hopes and chances for happiness, and you will find that the church has not been brought into their lives. For it is just as true today as always that "man cannot live by bread alone." He needs, more than ever in these swiftly-moving days, the inner comfort and faith that only the church can give.

Religious principles still count. They shine through every page of the Bible. Do not neglect to make them a part of your own life as well, through partnership in the church of your choice.

. . . It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God. . .

Twigs Of Children's Hospital Plan For Annual Bazaar Nov. 14

The members of the Twigs of Children's Hospital will hold an "Old-Fashioned Bazaar" on Friday, Nov. 14, from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. on the mezzanine floor of the Neil House.

A variety of hand made items for every member of the family will be offered for sale. There will be antiques, white elephants, aprons, baby clothes and toys, terry cloth bathrobes, needlepoint billfolds, bulletin boards, bridge cloths and aprons to match, children's hand knit sweaters, mittens, clothing and toys, figurines, glassware, argyle sox and hand made neckties, dolls and their beds, blankets and clothes, Christmas decorations for the door, tree, table, fireplace and stockings.

Parcel post packages from all over the world and "Surprise Balls" will be offered for sale.

The 102 Twigs, consisting of over 2,000 members, who have the interest of Children's Hospital at heart, are participating in this bazaar and some of them will use the small ballroom at the Neil House for a huge "Bake Sale", highlighting old family recipes and many unusual foreign baked goods. Aside from all the cookies, cakes, rolls, fruitcakes and pastries, there will also be available jams, jellies, homemade noodles and homemade sauces.

The "Bread Box" will offer breads for every occasion and the early shopper may be able to purchase home canned pickles or treasured recipes.

In the evening there will be a card party, style show and auction sponsored by Twig 43. The members of this Twig will model the styles for their style show and the commentary will be by Leah Shapiro. Tickets for the evening activities will be available at the bazaar or reservations may be made by calling Ki. 8078.

All proceeds from the bazaar will go to Children's Hospital to continue the support the Twigs have extended to the hospital for over 30 years.

YOUTH

Bob Schmidt, Dick Wilson

And now that the autumn air is turning colder and colder, we take our sights away from the football pigskin and start focusing them on the sphere-like ball called basketball. The Hilltop Gra-Y Football League came to an official close last Saturday as John Burroughs won the championship game from West Broad. The league was a great success, and Bob and I wish to compliment all the boys who participated on their good sportsmanship, splendid teamwork and cooperation with the officials. I also wish to personally thank all the Junior High and Senior High boys who volunteered their services as coaches and officials. You all did a wonderful job, and I will be looking forward to your help when our Gra-Y Basketball Leagues start on Dec. 1.

Speaking of cold autumn air reminds me that "Old Tom" Turkey has just about had his reprieve. Yes, Thanksgiving is just around the corner. All of you readers will be interested in knowing that each of the five Hilltop Gra-Y clubs and the West Junior Hi-Y have voted to make up baskets to give to needy, deserving families. These boys are truly showing the real Thanksgiving spirit, and I believe we should all follow their Christian example by sharing with others and saying a word of prayer for those less fortunate than we on this day for giving thanks.

No words can express the words of appreciation to you who bought candy from the Gra-Y boys and Jr. Hi-Y boys. The candy sale has been a great success, and you can bet your bottom dollar that all of the proceeds from this sale will go towards worthy causes.

I reckon all you people would be disappointed if we didn't mention in our column that we have craft for boys every Monday and Wednesday at 3:30, free movies on Tuesday at 4, girls' craft on Fridays at 3:30 at the "Y" office at 2503 W. Broad-st. Well, seriously speaking, these classes and events are growing and growing, but we can always find room for one more. So—come and bring your friends. Bob and I will be glad to meet you.

Congratulations to John Burroughs on the organization of a new Indian Guide tribe! I am certain that all you dads and your sons will have a fellowship and Christian experience you have never had before. Bob would "frown upon me" if he knew that I was going to say what I am but I believe that real genius should be acclaimed. Yes, you Hilltop Indian Guides are really lucky to have an Indian Guide leader like Bob because he is known all over the Ohio-West Virginia area for this particular skill in organizing and developing new tribes. I am certain you can look forward to a wonderful year.

Ed Sedgwick, adviser to the West Sr. Hi-Y, wishes me to announce that the club has had its election of officers. The results are: president, Chuck Lewis; vice-president, Ronald Klein; treasurer, Ronald Grant; secretary, Dick Sensenbrenner; chaplain, Erwin Kuhn; sergeant-at-arms, Richard Hutchison. Congratulations, fellows!

I know you will lead your club to a profitable year, filled with many wonderful experiences. So with that, I will close your column about your youth for another week. "Bye now"! See you next Thursday.

Glenwood Center News

The Teen-Age Club of Glenwood Recreation Center has elected the following officers: Jim Nitauri, president; Tom Hedges, vice-president; Jim Darby, treasurer; Dee Holman, secretary. Committee chairmen are Tom Kobsbeen, social chairman; Bob Bauer, ways and means, and Margaret O'Harra, service chairman. The service committee was in charge of "Thanks to the Yanks" project held Armistice Day. Candy bars are being collected and will be sent to the Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital.

A dance is being planned for the near future by the teen-agers.

The meeting Tuesday, Nov. 11, will be devoted to formation of charter and rules for the purpose of forming a constitution for the teen-age club.

Glenwood Teen Club is hostess for the City Center Teen Club on Nov. 18.

Square dancing has now begun. Dance steps will be taught as the dance proceeds so that anyone who doesn't know how to dance may learn every Thursday from 8 to 10 p. m.

Open craft classes are Monday from 7 to 8 and Friday, 7 to 9 p. m. Many new crafts will be taught this year. Bring any old articles such as felt hats, bottle caps, tin cans, jar lids and spoons.

The boys are now learning to jitter-bug in the dance class on Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p. m. The boys may ask a girl to come to the dance with them to learn the basic steps.

The girls' dance class is conducted on Thursday from 7 to 8 p. m.

The charm class will have a visiting speaker Monday, Nov. 17, from one of the beauty salons. A date party is being planned in the near future.

The cooking class is learning to prepare various Christmas delicacies. Not only are they learning to cook but they are having a grand time. Classes are on Friday at 6 p. m.

Monday afternoon is game day. The girls have an opportunity to learn all kinds of games.

The Glenwood Echo is in need of more reporters. The newspaper meetings are held on Wednesdays at 7 p. m. Why not join this club?

A special thanks to the boys who helped Jack clean up the center after the Halloween party. A very special thanks to Bob Bauer and Dean Halsworth.

In January, 1950, the ECA sent millions of dollars to France to buy wheat. But later the same year France sold $2,500,000 worth of wheat to Holland.

Did you know that ECA money had been used to stimulate gambling? In 1950 ECA provided funds to rebuild a gambling casino at Le Havre, France.

The British have done pretty well in the form of loans and other assistance from us. But business is business with them. A year ago we paid Britain a service charge of $95 per year for every uniformed soldier we stationed there.

Hunting Safety

Before you head into the field this hunting season we suggest that you give serious consideration to the "TEN COMMANDMENTS OF SAFETY."

Be familiar with these correct gun handling practices so as to assure your own safe hunting pleasure, as well as that of your fellow hunter.

Make these rules a part of your gunning habits.

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Guns carried into camp or home must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be encased until reaching shooting area.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond reach of children and careless adults.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Yardage Gained Often Misleads Ball Fans

Yardage gained per try is often a misleading statistic in football. A good player will often run five yards each on a succession of three good plays, only to be thrown for a 15 yard loss, and look—no average! We feel, however, that the yardage gained per try with a Hilltop Record and West Side News classified ad is way above average.

To vouch for this is Mrs. Earl Byerly, 110 Cypress-av, who placed the following ad last week:

WASHER with twin tubs; large playground gym set; 2-piece living room suite; lady's fur coat, size 18. AD. 9436.

She sold the washer and tubs, the playground set and the living room suite!

The ad cost her only 88c in each paper.

Otto H. Magly

Wednesday morning at 8:45, students at West High School held a memorial service for Otto H. Magly, 79, former West High School principal who for 30 years at that school occupied the principal's office. The students and the faculty of West High in the services paid homage to the man who gave 43 years of his life to the school system of Columbus, the major portion of that time to West High. Otto Magly died at his home in Worthington Monday night.

A colorful figure who commanded the respect, and admiration of students of West High who studied under his guidance and administration and one who knew thousands of the parents of his charges, Otto H. Magly from 1906 until 1938 was the principal of West High School.

When he first came to West it was in the building now occupied by Starling Junior High School on S. Central-av. His interest in the new school on Powell-av was avid and he watched the new structure rise stone by stone until 1929 when he took charge of the new West.

His interest in sports was such that when West High's new athletic field was dedicated, it was named in his honor. He was there when it was dedicated and it is said that when he appeared on the field at the time of the dedication he received an ovation such as never had been accorded anyone in the history of the Hilltop.

Otto Magly came to Columbus when a child with his parents from his native Cincinnati.

His father, the late Peter Magly, was a preacher.

Mr. Magly attended the Columbus elementary schools and high school. When he finished high school in 1891 he went to Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea. He first planned to follow his father into the pulpit but changed his mind at Berea.

His first teaching job was at East after he got his degree at Baldwin Wallace in 1895.

He taught first at East High School, where he also coached baseball. During 1903, 1904 and 1905, his teams defeated all opposition.

He became West's principal in 1908.

Mr. Magly was a former superintendent and secretary of the Lakeside Camp Meeting Association at Lakeside, Ohio. He was a member of Magnolia Lodge of Masons and Knights Templar.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Ann Magly; two sons, Capt Austen V. Magly with the navy in Washington, D. C., Oram H. Magly of Columbus; a daughter, Madelyn Magly of the residence, and a brother, Bliss Magly, and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Hermes, both in California.

Private services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the McConaha Funeral Home in Worthington with burial in Green Lawn Cemetery. Rev. Carl E. Hickes, pastor of the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, presided at the services.

"What's This For?" Dec. 20 To Give Answer As Local Legion Post Builds Kids Party Fund

The question soon displayed above the mirror at Smith-Barratt Post of the American Legion, 2332 Sullivant-av, has reaped many dollars to further a worthy cause as visitors ask "Why?". To get the answer it costs you anything from a quarter to a dollar. So far a total of over $270 has been collected by the veterans' organization to provide a Christmas party for crippled children. John W. Bowsher, chairman of the event, smiles his approval as the dollars mount and the party is assured of success...

Orphaned crippled children who are wards of the State of Ohio on Dec. 20 will have the time of their lives at a gala Christmas party that is complete in every detail, just because the American people and especially those of the hilltop area are "curious."

Members of Smith-Barrat Post of the American Legion had knowledge of the natural inquisitive nature of the human race and they banked on that knowledge to build a Christmas Fund to give a lavish Christmas party for these "Kids who otherwise seem to be forgotten."

The sign, "What's This For?" was erected over the mirror in their club rooms. Each person who asked the reason for the sign was asked to give his bit of cash in order to find out the answer. After the cash was affixed to the mirror with scotch tape, the donor found out the reason and on more occasions than one immediately gave more or sought out a friend, who when confronted with the sign would also make the inquiry of "Why."

As a result the idea has caught fire and now the happy Legion members are sure that their little guests on the afternoon of Dec. 20, from 1 to 5 p. m., will have ample gifts, plenty on toys, Christmas dinner and all of those other things so dear to the heart of children at the Yule season.

And as for the members of the Legion Post who have worked so hard and diligently on the project, when Christmas Day finally arrives they will be able to think back a few days hence, and have a feeling that they helped to make life a bit brighter and more worthwhile for those handicapped children who were their guests.

"Sure it's a lot of hard work getting everything ready," and especially seeing this fund get to the point where it means something," said John Bowsher, the post's child welfare chairman, "but on Dec. 20 when those kids are all here, just one look at their faces will satisfy anyone that it's worth every bit of the effort."

Owner Change Announced For Fox Food Shop

Richard C. Steward

Announcement was made this week by Harold Fox of the change of ownership of the Fox Food Shop, located at the corner of W. Broad-st and Eureka-av. New owner of the grocery, operated by Fox at that location for the past 18 years, is Richard C. Steward, 819 Wiltshire-rd.

In announcing the sale of his business this week, Fox said that he has no immediate plans for the future, other than he plans to take a rest before entering any other venture.

Steward, who assumed operation of the business the first of this week, has had 15 years previous experience in the grocery field. He was at one time associated with the Kroger Stores on the Hilltop for a five-year period.

The new grocery owner is a graduate of West High School, class of 1937. A veteran of World War II, he served three years with the QSS. He is married and resides with his wife and three children at the Wiltshire-rd address. His daughter, Mary Ann Brook, was a graduate of West High last year.

Steward plans no immediate changes at the store and will continue with the policies established by Fox with delivery service, the same store personnel and store name.

Hilltop Mothers Press Demand For Sidewalks

A group of Hilltop mothers invaded City Council's meeting Monday night to press their demands for sidewalks. The mothers, fearful of the lives of their children because they are forced to walk in the street, had 986 residents' names on petitions requesting that sidewalks be put in.

The area affected is bounded by Sullivant-av and Broad-st, Powell-av and Demorest-av. Three schools are in the area—Westgate elementary, West High School and St. Mary Magdalene.

Council delayed action on the proposal for two months in order that the opposition to the sidewalks may be heard. Council can have the sidewalks built and assess the property owners.

There are approximately 1200 homes in the area, many of them new ones, according to Mrs. Adrian Downes, 72 Letchworth-av, one of the leaders in the movement to get sidewalks built.

Forcing the building of sidewalks in the area would tie in with the city's avowed intention to reduce traffic accidents and save lives, Mrs. Downes points out.

Revival Services

Revival services will begin Nov. 28 and continue through Dec. 7 at Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, 650 S. Warren-av, according to announcement this week by Harris B. Anthony, pastor.

Help Needed

A Hilltop family of six is direly in need of a place in which to live. The home they now rent has been condemned and must be torn down, but as yet the family, although diligently seeking a new home on the Hilltop, has been unsuccessful.

This week an appeal was made to the Record to aid them in finding living quarters. The family consists of man and wife, with two children in West High School and two enrolled in West Broad Elementary School. They are willing to pay up to $50 per month rental. A call to the Record office will materially aid this family in keeping their residence on the Hilltop.

Chest X-Ray Unit To Visit Hilliards Soon

A practical demonstration of the use of Christmas seal money will be given Dec. 1 and 2, when Hilliards High School and the Hilliards community will receive free chest X-rays to find TB.

The Hilliards X-ray program is one of nearly 70 such projects given by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society during 1952. The annual Christmas seal sale, which opened Monday, is the sole support of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society and will provide its operating funds for 1953. The Society is not a member of United Appeals.

Gerald D. Fry, executive director of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, had a hearty word of praise today for Hilliards residents. Their cooperation in the county's TB program has been outstanding, he stated.

He commented on the interest among Hilliards High students in the school press project, now under way, and the requests for educational programs on tuberculosis by the school. Mrs. Ollo B. Smith, Hilliards teacher, is a member of the Society's press project advisory committee.

Urging local residents to support the current Christmas seal sale, Robert G. Kelley, general chairman, pointed out that more than 800 cases of tuberculosis have already been found in the county during 1952.

A request of the agriculture department for six millions to print fancy booklets of statistics for farmers at $1 20 per copy was in the words of Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat, "the most barefaced performance of raiding the public treasury in behalf of fake printing bills and in favor of an inflated organization I have seen for some time."

'Small Fry'

By J. Curtis Allen

"Yessir, Ike was my man."

Jenny Roland, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Roland, 156½ S. Burgess-av, gives out with a smile that might be appropriate to many of the followers of the General during this past week. Trouble is though that Jenny has quite a few years ahead before she can give out with that "I told you so" smile after having picked an election winner.

Pvt. Robert Mantle

Pvt. Robert E. Mantle of 58 N. Roys-av, is now serving in Korea with the 7th Infantry Division. A former student at West High School and an employe of the Kroger Grocery Co., he entered service Aug. 16, 1951, received training at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and arrived in Korea on Feb. 27, 1952. Entering the front lines about May 1, he has served there almost constantly except for a five day rest last September which he was able to spend in Osaka, Japan.

His last letter written on Oct. 25 stated, "We had to go back on the line for two of the most bloodiest days of my life. The only things we took were our sleeping bags and our weapons. That night all Hades cut loose. It was just one of the lucky ones who came through alright. My company lost (killed) about 35 men, and everything we had. The other companies lost heavily also.

The 7th Division lost a great many men and this might slow down my rotation home, so don't worry about it. I'll get there somehow. Thanks for cookies and candies. They arrived in good shape and I was surely glad to receive them. The Lord, himself, saved my life that night. Thanks for praying for me."

1953 Plymouth To Be Shown Here Thursday, Nov. 20

The 1953 Plymouth will be presented to the public throughout the United States on Thursday, Nov. 20, West Side Motors, Inc. announced today.

"Advanced engineering and styling make the new Plymouth more than ever before the outstanding car of the low-priced field," Edgar Planck said.

The 1953 Plymouth models will be on display at West Side Motors, 1350 W. Broad-st, and are the most completely new Plymouth to be presented to the public in the quarter-century since the original model rolled off the assembly line.

Plymouth Motor Corporation executives predict motorists will be delighted with the new, streamlined exterior the luxuriously tailored harmonizing interiors, the increased horsepower and the scores of engineering innovations in the 1953 line.

Nine different body styles are offered in the two Plymouth lines for 1953. In the Cambridge line are the four-door sedan, two-door sedan, business coupe and the exciting and popular suburban. The Cranbrookw line this year includes the Savoy, a four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible coupe and the dashing Belvedere hardtop.

Planck, in announcing the first showing of the new Plymouth at the West Side Motors on Thursday said too, that all visitors will be accorded the opportunity to enter the "Meet the New 1953 Plymouth" contest which opens Thursday and closes Monday, Nov. 24. Planck said that he has plenty of the official entry blanks on hand and hopes that one of his visitors may be the winner of a handsome new 1953 Plymouth or one of the many cash prizes which are being offered in the four-day contest.

Cutting out the waste in military procurement alone would save about four billions a year. The authority for this is Admiral J. W. Fowler, an expert in military purchasing.

Here is a classic example of waste. The Atomic Energy Commission built a cat and dog hospital in Los Angeles. It cost $300,000. Then the AEC rented it to a veterinary for $150 a month.

MUNICH, GERMANY — Air Force Airman Third Class Wayne A. Riebel of Route 2, Grove City, recently graduated from the Seventh Army's Non-Commissioned Officers Academy at Munich, Germany.

During the six-week course, he was taught techniques of combat leadership, including infantry squad tactics and deployment of men and equipment in the field. Students were carefully selected by their organization commanders before attending the school.

Riebel was employed by the Westinghouse Electric Co. in Columbus, as a clerk, before entering the air forces in September, 1950.

All Stars Defeat Glenwood's Champion "Cubs"

A last second desperation pass gave the All Stars victory over the Junior Touch Football League champs 24 to 18 in the last second of the game of last Wednesday, at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Johnny Hummel threw a long pass to little Bob Young for the touchdown that beat the Champion Cubs. The play of Mike Sweeney, Al Nichols and Wayne Robbins aided in securing the victory for the All Stars. The stellar playing of the Cubs, led by the fine play of Dick Ramey, Norman Tracy and Kenny Whitman was not enough to stave off the All Stars and prevent the Cubs' first loss of the year in this classic of the Junior Touch Football.

The fine play and the see-saw battle made the game quite interesting to the small crowd that stood in the cold to watch this final game in this popular sport at the Glenwood Recreation Center.

This Problem of Juvenile Delinquency

BJR Seeks Causes Of Wayward Youth

A Columbus daily newspaper recently printed a startling story concerning outbreaks and misdemeanors committed by escapees from the Juvenile Bureau of Research and damage amounting to a large sum that was done in the new building which is near completion on the grounds of the Juvenile Bureau at 2280 W. Broad-st.

After many citizens had become concerned about this story and alarming rumors of a vast increase in juvenile delinquency in this community an exclusive interview was held this week with Dr. Maurice Newburger, Ph. D. and executive psychologist at the research bureau. The doctor made available information and statistics never before given to another newspaper.

Although it is a fact that there are 120 paid employees at the bureau and 120 juveniles housed there at a time, there are actually only 34 attendants divided between three shifts for the boys' and girls' cottages. The remaining personnel is assigned to the recreation department, research bureau offices, stenographers, office, laundry, kitchen, sewing room, hospital, research, social service in field and day clinics, branch offices, maintenance and supervision.

There are from 15 to 30 children (according to number in residence at a time) to one attendant.

According to youth leaders one adult leader should be assigned to each eight children inasmuch as the children at the research bureau are not ordinary children but children with extreme behavior problems in most cases there is a shortage of personnel.

As to the run-aways Dr. Newburger said although they do have some run-aways the percentage is low. That very often boys who were in the habit of smoking before they entered the bureau will leave the grounds in an attempt to obtain cigarettes. Newburger said, "Regardless of why the juveniles leave the grounds or whether or not they have returned voluntarily the police must be notified immediately and they are listed as run-aways."

"Unfortunately," said the doctor, "there are a few who do commit theft and who do not return voluntarily."

In regards to the two boys who left the bureau several weeks ago and committed a burglary, one is responding to research treatment very well and authorities feel that his behavior is improving, but because of public sentiment the bureau felt that the other boy must be placed in the Boys' Industrial School.

Contrary to reports of a large amount of damage being done to the new building, the building supervisor said, "Not more than $100 worth of damage has been done during the entire time of construction, which is not unusual, and anyone could have been responsible for that."

Upon touring the various buildings at the research bureau, it was found no drastic damage has been done by "irritant" juveniles. The oldest parts of the building do show signs of hard wear and the recreation equipment needs to be replaced.

HARVEST

The copper kettle, the silver bowl,
Are made of metal, fashioned whole.
Their entity no one can question;
The eye may see without suggestion.
But the poem's field of weightless worth
May find a yield untold at birth.
It will grow or shrink from the finished whole
As the years wink, as the tongues roll.

For the friends of Courage, Incorporated (which includes just about everyone): An all-day bazaar will be held in the Deshler Ball Room on Nov. 29, so make a ring around that date, lest you forget. Many of the articles to be sold at the bazaar were made by members of Courage, Incorporated. Most of your Christmas gift-giving could be solved right there. There will be hand-woven luncheon sets, guest towels and rugs; knitted and crocheted baby sweaters, caps and booties; embroidered pillow cases and aprons; leather goods; plastic articles; stuffed toys; dolls; greeting cards; painted wall plaques; African violets; hankies of all kinds; artificial flowers; dolls; gift wrappings; books for children; sea shell jewelry; candy; baked goods and well, just about anything anyone would want. Ruth McDonald is chairman of the affair, with "Sandy" Sanford, Margaret Frost, Hazel Haggard and May Lisk on the committee. Publicity is in charge of those two sweet gals — long-time shutins—Irene Parthemer, 246 W. Fourth-av (UN. 4306), and Rachel Irwin, 2266 Indianola-av (LA. 9039). Rachel told me about the bazaar and I hope I've done as good a job as she did, of telling you all about it. Now that you know—we're sure you will want to be at the Deshler Ball Room, Nov. 29.

POLITICAL VIEWS OF A MOTHER OF FOUR BOYS

I'd gladly vote for Adlai
If he could just invent
A plan so shrewd
It would keep my brood
All out of devilment.
But if the other party
Would just invent a bike
That never needs new tires or tubes,
I'd make my X for Ike!

Excerpts from mail—"Now that election is history, the next big noise you will hear will be Father groaning over Christmas bills" . . . "The man who had to roll a peanut along the street with his nose was lucky—I had to eat a big can of (ugh) spinach!" . . . Do you like walnuts? We have two trees and the kids have been gathering them. The 10-year-old said his hands look like his Dad's fingers from smoking too much. You're a city slicker so maybe you don't know that walnuts stain!"

Now that the leaves are all raked, the lovely mums along West Broad-st are beginning to fade, election is over, Santa Claus has safely landed and Her Majesty's coronation gown is being whipped up, this seems a good time to give that pint of blood. ANY time is a good time for that, as you know.

Try's stop me if you've heard this one: The customer walked out of the Aberdeen Pharmacy absentmindedly leaving his change on the counter. Instantly Sandy, the proprietor, looked about for something to use to rap on the window, so as to call the customer back. Presently he found what he wanted. It was a sponge.

East, West Dominate Record's All-High Team

By Woody Owens

The East High School Tigers 1952 City League champions and the runner-up West High School's Cowboys dominated positions on The Hilltop Record's 1952 all-high defensive and offensive teams as selected during the past week.

The Tigers and Cowboys each placed seven players followed by North with three, South three, and Central one. Aquinas and Linden McKinley failed to win a position.

Larry Evans, South High end, was such a stand out on defense that he was placed at a tackle position; because Salmans and Kruckleberg were such standouts and the city league was very lacking in good defensive tackles.

Tommy Thomas and Jerry Trabue of the Cowboys are honored with positions on both offense and defense.

To Doc Wright, the Tigers brilliant halfback, goes the honorary captaincy of the offensive unit, while Tommy Thomas of West is likewise honored with the leadership of the defense.

The selections are as follows:

Offensive Team

E—Trabue, West.
T—Hicks, North.
G—Rickenbacker, East.
C—Billingsley, North.
G—Oatis—Central.
T—Thomas, West.
E—Ingram—East.
QB—Orr, West.
HB—Wright, East (c); Grant, West; Sowards, East.
FB—Collander, South.

Defensive Team

E—Kruckleberg, West.
T—Thomas, West (c).
G—Banks, East; Trabue, West.
T—Evans—South.
E—Salmans, East.
LB—Wertz, South; Yeamans, North.
HB—Ongaro, West; Wallace, East.
S—Vincent, West.

Honorable Mention

E—Thornton, West; Brockmeyer, Central.
T—Taylor, East.
G—Guiffree, West.
HB—Karow, North; Wihl, Aquinas; Morlan, Central; Peake, South; Scott, East; Cole, West; La Corte and Kessler, Linden.

Legion Colors At Game Honoring Armistice Day

John Burroughs Margins Gra-Y All Stars 12-6

By Dick Wilson

John Burroughs, Hilltop Gra-Y champions, margined the Gra-Y All Stars 12-6 in a thriller held at West High Field last Saturday morning. The J.B. boys, without the services of their "Francis the Mule", resorted back to their early season passing combination of Ingle to Ash. With this deadly weapon, J.B. made the first score of the game in the second period. The pass was good for 20 yards, and End Fred Ash covered the last 30 yards like a Hilltop housewife running to a Christmas sale. The attempted kick by Ash was no good.

Dick Furry, coach of the All Stars, had his star quarterback, Howard Shepherd, running and passing continuously. His strategy paid off in the third quarter as Shepherd went for 50 yards into pay dirt territory on a quarterback sneak play. The attempted extra point was blocked, and the game was deadlocked with two minutes remaining in the third quarter.

J.B. coach, Keith Jenkins, made good use of these minutes by having his passing ace, Bill Ingle, heave one pass right after another. Finally one of them connected with end, Jack Sims, who went 50 yards for the T.D. and the final score of the game. The extra point kick was blocked by a determined All Star line.

In the last quarter, Coach Furry had his backfield covering the Ingle passes to perfection just as Coach Jenkins had his line stopping cold the All Star running attacks. As a result most of the play in the last quarter was in the middle of the field with both teams exchanging punts for about an even trade of yardage.

John Burroughs Gra-Y — Ends: Ash, Sims, Timmons; tackles: Cooper, Wendell; guards: Sigler, Knisely; center: Everett; backs: Ingle, Morris, Barnes, Morrison.

Gra-Y All Stars—Ends: McElroy, Spears, Mann, English; tackles: Merrick, Sines; guards: Glass, Lawrence; center: Francis, Sanford; backs: Voorhees, Shay, Engle, Esgen, Hartranft, Shepherd.

John B. Gra-Y 0 6 6 0—12

High Scoring Marks Senior Cage League

The second week of the senior boys pre-season league at Glenwood Center has stepped up the tempo of the play with the scoring mounting and the play becoming faster.

The games of Thursday with the near upset of the Firehouse by Nance 40-38 and the run away of the Atomic Five over the DeMolay 74-27, high lighted the week's action.

The underdogs played a fine game to nip the Grace Methodist team 44-43 in a game that was real action packed. The Nance took the measure of the DeMolay 43-26 to complete the action of the week.

The 21 points Harrington picked up in his first game and the 18 he picked up in this week's game put him well ahead in the scoring race with a total of 39 points. Davis of the under dogs with 32 points is just behind him as is Reynold of the atomic with 31 points.

The tempo of the action should pick up in the next week as the teams battle for a spot in the play-off of the league.

Glenwood Athletics

On Wednesday night, Nov. 17, the first round of the girls' pre-season Senior League opened its play. The opening games featured the Wheatland MYF against the First Baptist; Grabil's against "The Butterfingers"; the "Boochies' playing the "Blue Sockers' and in the last game the "Sharpshooters" playing the "Hilltoppers."

Last Wednesday the girls played a round robin warm up with each team playing the other teams in the league for a quarter.

The results of the round robin follow: Boochies 8, Hilltoppers 8; Wheatland 6, Boochies 11; Wheatland 8, Blue Sockers 3: Boochies 0, Blue Sockers 5; Hilltoppers 5, Wheatland 7; and Hilltoppers 13, Blue Sockers 2.

The Junior Girls' League got under way Wednesday, Nov. 17 in the afternoon with the "Scutters" tangling with the "Martinetts"; the "Queens" playing the "Blue Eagles" and the "Tigers" mixing it with the "Leopards."

The Girls League schedule for Wednesday, Nov. 26, follows: 4—Scutters-Queens; 4:45—Martinettes-Tigers; 5:30 — Leopards-Blue Eagles; 7—First Baptist-Grabils; 7:45—Wheatland-Boochies; 8:30—Butterfingers - Sharpshooters, and 9:15—Blue Sockers-Hilltoppers.

The second week of action in the Intermediate Pre-season League saw abbreviated but action packed games. The league activity was cut to one night of play by Armistice Day.

The "Stevens Five' won a close contest from the Hilltop Church of Christ 28-24 in their opening game of the season, while the Atomic Five had little trouble in subduing the Rockets 45-13. The Atomics seem to be the team to watch in the Pre-season Intermediate League. The Cardinals won a forfeit game from the Dispatch 30 squad in the windup of the league play for the week.

Johnny Long of the Stevens Five got off to a flying start in the league individual scoring with 17 points in his first game to lead Bowman of the C of C who has 12 points in two games and Longmire and Bryant of the Atomic Five who have 13 and 12 points respectively, in one game.

The Officials Club held its first meeting on Friday with 14 boys present. These boys will form the group that will officiate in the Junior and Little League games. The better officials from this group will officiate in the intermediate league.

The officials will meet each Monday and Friday at 4:30 p. m. for instructions and practice.

Boys and girls at Glenwood Center are active in a continuing ladder tourney in the activities of checkers, chess and table tennis. The table tennis ladder is the most active of the tourneys.

Glenwood Recreation Center

By Pat Martindale

The Golden Agers of Glenwood Recreation Center are interested in securing additional members, consisting of persons of 55 years of age or over. This club meets every Tuesday from two until 4 o'clock. Members have been playing euchre and other games, watching movies and planning for party tours in the near future.

Boys in the Tuesday night dance class are progressing very well. Jitter-bug steps seem to be holding their main interest.

So that the boys can't get ahead of the girls with their dancing, girls' classes will be taught on Thursday at 7 p. m. A new variation of steps will be taught.

Craft classes are now beginning to prepare for Christmas. They are learning to make decorations, Christmas seals and cards and gifts for the parents. Last week this class made posters for the big turkey hunt.

With the weather getting colder the game room at the center becomes more and more popular. Every one is invited to come to the game room and participate in the pingpong ladder tournament, a swift game of shuffleboard or a musical evening around the piano.

Dangers Of Monoxide Poisoning In Cold Weather Pointed Out

If you become drowsy while driving your car, regard it as a friendly but serious warning. It might be carbon monoxide at work, suggests Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, Columbus health commissioner.

Particularly when they get older, many automobiles develop leaks in the exhaust mechanism from rust, loose connections or an unsuspected break in the tubing which causes all or part of the exhaust gases to leak into the car itself. This might be unnoticed during the warmer months when the car usually is driven with the windows open.

But when the weather turns cold and the windows go up, there's a lack of ventilation which prevents carbon monoxide from escaping. Since it has no color, taste or smell, the only method of detecting carbon monoxide's presence is through the symptoms it produces.

In the early stages, these are sleepiness and perhaps the beginning of a headache. This is followed by coma and then by suffocation.

Immediate treatment is fresh air, with artificial respiration indicated if prompt results are not obtained. In extreme cases the gas may cause swelling and pressure on the brain, which can be fatal.

Within the body, the function of the red blood cells is to carry oxygen from the lungs to various parts of the body. But since these cells will as readily absorb carbon monoxide as oxygen, presence of the poison curtails or depletes the carrying space for the oxygen. It has the same effect on the body as if the breath had been shut off.

For that reason, effects of carbon monoxide poisoning should not be coddled. Not only does it present a real danger to passengers in an offending car, but drowsiness can be the cause of an accident, not only to the driver and his passengers, but to other cars on the road.

YOUR YOUTH

"Can of corn! Can of beans! Here is some vegetable soup! Bag of cranberries! and many more similar remarks are being heard this week at the meetings of the Hilltop Gra-Y and Jr. Hi-Y clubs. Yes, you guessed it. The boys from all six clubs are working on Thanksgiving baskets to give to needy and deserving families. Each of the clubs is having an "admission movie", instead of their regular club meeting, at which the price of admission is one item of food to be placed into their club's basket. These baskets will be distributed on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 5 p. m. The representatives from each club are to meet at the Hilltop YMCA office at this time.

Readers will be interested in knowing that the Hilltop Senior Hi-Y and Junior Tri Hi-Y sent representatives to the 48th annual southeastern Ohio Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y conference held at Ohio University in Athens last Saturday. The theme for the conference was "Help Wanted" and centered around the point of how youth needs help on problems facing them in everyday living. Rev. Charles Harrison, chaplain of the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster, was the main conference speaker, and all the representatives present at the conference seemed to be truly stimulated by his wisdom and wit. Attending the conference from the Hilltop were Betty Knight, adviser to the Jr. Tri Hi-Y, Phyllis Guyton, Barbara Herbster, Nancy Heil, Dick Hutchison, Bob Harman, Bill Haire, Bob Delph and myself (Dick Wilson).

Last Sunday a Phalanx Fraternity conference was held at Massillon, O. The theme for this conference was "What Can We Do To Build?" The conference speaker was Robert Knight, associate area secretary from Columbus. In case some of you have never heard of Phalanx, I will give you a brief description of what it is. It is a YMCA club for young men 18-28 years of age who want to work together on common interests and ideals. Phalanx promotes fine friendships, and it helps young men face problems intelligently, as young citizens and Christians should face them. At the present time your Hilltop YMCA has not had a Phalanx chapter; but you young men can watch out for further details concerning the organization of a chapter because Bob and I most certainly think we have a need for one in our Hilltop community.

Speaking of club organization, you mothers will be interested in knowing that a Mothers' Council is being organized by Mrs. Warren C. Leeka, 204 S. Richardson-av. Membership in this club is for mothers whose sons hold memberships in the Hilltop YMCA; for all women who have no sons but are nevertheless interested in the council, and for mothers whose sons are not yet the stipulated age to join "Y" clubs. In other words, ALL you women of the Hilltop are cordially invited to attend the organizational meeting to be held on Friday, Nov. 21, 8 p. m., at the "Y" office at 2502 W. Broad-st.

And now all you basketball players will be interested in knowing that the Gra-Y basketball leagues have been organized and are ready to go as soon as the first whistle blows on Dec. 1. The YMCA church leagues are in the process of being organized. Athletic directors of the various Hilltop churches will be hearing from me this week concerning an organizational meeting.

No — this is no relic.

You're looking at something that scholars would call a "symbol of apostasy." In plain English, an apostate is one who has completely forsaken his faith. This church — one of thousands like it today in one country — stands as a dreary, broken monument to religious faith that has been lost.

This picture wasn't made from memory. It's authentic — drawn from a photograph. Within the lifespan, perhaps, of our generation, this church was once an essential keystone of its community where a man brought his problems and fears, and went out of those doors with new hope soaring in his soul.

. . . . Now the wind whistles through the decaying structure, and sweeps over a land that has lost faith in God.

Remember this church when you hear that freedom of worship is a non-essential freedom. Remember this church when you hear that religion is an outdated force. Remember this church when you hear that man's word is stronger than God's.

Think of how life must be lived in this Godless land. Bear in mind what we hear and read about conditions there. But, most of all, remember this church — and all that it fails to stand for today.

And you will thank God for your own!

If ye forsake the Lord, and serve strange gods, then He will turn and do you hurt, and consume you . . .

Thanksgiving Festival Dance Planned By NCCS

The annual Thanksgiving Festival, sponsored by the Columbus Committee of the National Catholic Community Service for the benefit of disabled veterans of the Chillicothe VA Hospital, has been set for next Friday (Nov. 28) at the Valley Dale. The Chuck Selby orchestra will furnish the music from 9-12 p. m. Tickets are on sale at the Cathedral Bookshop, Heaton's Music Store, from all NCCS members and at the door the night of the dance. Pictured above is Bishop Ready buying the first ticket for the affair. With him are, left to right, Mrs. Harold Breitfeller and Pauline Albert.

On Friday, Nov. 28, the Columbus Committee of the National Catholic Community Service will have an informal Thanksgiving Festival Dance at Valley Dale from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight, for the benefit of the disabled war veterans at Chillicothe VA Hospital. Chuck Selby, and his orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

All proceeds of the dance will be used for continuation and expansion of the NCCS' voluntary service program at the Chillicothe Hospital as outlined by the Veterans Administration for the rehabilitation of disabled war veterans.

This once-a-year benefit, the only fund raising project of the organization, aids the NCCS to give dances for the patients; picnics and watermelon parties in season; smokers with athletic and musical programs; gifts and delicacies throughout the year, with special emphasis on all family holidays, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Mother's Day. In these activities the volunteer worker is representative of family and home atmosphere to the hospitalized patient.

A feature of the Thanksgiving Festival Dance will be the announcement during the evening of the winner of a popularity contest, which will culminate in special honors to the queen and her court. The contestants are Karen Kenny, Carol Garrity, Patricia Stember, Margaret Ann Casbarro and Nancy Bolin.

General chairmen for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Breitfeller, with John A. McAndrews, 1936 Fairmont-av, chairman of entertainment. Decorations are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Murphy, Pauline Albert, Donald Flynn and Gene Kowtch. Finance chairmen are Edward O. Ryan and August C. Grodrian.

Mrs. Theodore Hinterschied and Margaret Gallen, chairmen of tickets, will have a local assisting committee composed of Mary Jane Bartilucci, Mary Frances Schoppelrei, Donna Davies, Sally Welker, Helen Monaco, Judy McAndrews and Irene Luckhaupt.

Mrs. John McAndrews is in charge of posters.

Tickets for the dance are available at Cathedral Book Shop, 205 E. Broad-st, Heaton's Music Store, 50 N. High-st, from all NCCS members and at Valley Dale on the night of the party. The dance is open to the public.

Chuck Selby will crown the winning contestant "Queen of the Festival" at the dance. Three entries represent the Hilltop area: Carol Garrity, 345 Binns-blvd, senior at St. Joseph Academy; Nancy Bolin, 754 S. Wayne-av, senior at St. Mary's High School, S. Third-st, and Margaret Ann Casbarro, 1079 Walters-st, senior at Holy Family School.

The other two contestants are Patricia Stember, 135 E. Norwich-av, senior at St. Mary of the Springs Academy, and Karen Kenny, 233 Brevort-rd, senior at Our Lady of Victory Academy.

Hilltop Man Wins Central Point Award

Winner of the $2200 1952 deluxe Chevrolet given last Saturday at 3 p. m., by the merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center, was R. A. Humphrey, 309 S. Ogden-av. Mr. Humphrey, who is on the assembly line at Jaeger Machine Co., was not present at the award time, but arrived at the shopping center within 20 minutes after he had been called by Bob French, executive secretary of the Central Point Business Associa-tion.

Mr. Humphrey was awarded the automobile only a few hours after he had been discharged from a Columbus hospital after an emergency operation. The car was awarded in a contest in which more than 250,000 names had been deposited by Central Point Shoppers. No purchase was necessary to qualify.

Eight consolation prizes were awarded by Central Point Merchants. E. A. Ishler was awarded an "Evening in Paris" cosmetic set by Gray Drugs, Inc.; Peggy Prior won a $5 merchandise certificate from Spencer's, Inc., "Tots to Teens" shop; a turkey roaster for Thanksgiving was given to Daniel Emmelheinz, by Zettler Hardware; Thomas Collins took away a $5 sport shirt from Tom Benua, Inc., men's store.

Reeves Bros. Sporting Goods Stotre awarded $5 in merchandise to Ruth Russell; L. Decker was the winner of $5 in merchandise given by Miller-Jones Shoes; Mrs. A. Hanna took home $5 worth of poultry from Cool Brook Farm Store in time for Thanksgiving, and the final consolation prize of a pair of shoes from Schiffs Shoes went to L. E. Ucker.

Cowboys Open Cage Season Friday Night

West High School's basketball quintet, under the capable leadership of Coach George Williams, will open its 1952-53 cage campaign Friday when they invade the lair of the Newark High School Wildcats, who hold two victories over the Cowboys during the 1951-52 campaign.

The local squad, however, should be greatly improved this season, with the return of five regulars and a fine array of reserve talent, something that was sadly lacking on the '51-'52 team.

The returning regulars are all-city Jerry Trabue, 6'3" forward, who scored 401 points last season; all-city Bob Thornton, 6'5" center, who tallied 276 points and is considered by many as the finest rebounder in this area, but who is hampered by a knee injury at present; Dick Hutchinson, 6' forward, a very steady performer on both offense and defense.

The two sparkplugs of the quintet are two scrappy midget guards, Ron Bowman and Jim Vincent, both 5'10" and fine play makers.

Another performer, 6'3" Earl Redman, who will give the Cowboys added strength at any position, was a regular on the South High team last year. He is a fine all around team man and has practically cinched a starting position.

The reserve strength will come from the performances of Dick Orr and Billy Haire, both of whom saw considerable service last season, and Jerry Ruffner, Herb Brown and Roger Meyers.

The Cowboys open their local season Tuesday night, Dec. 2, when they tangle with Bexley on the home court.

The home of Richard Mash, 350 S. Ogden-av, was set afire Monday afternoon by children playing in the bathroom. Loss was estimated at $1000.

Nearly 200 Kids Enjoy Hilltop's Big Turkey Hunt

Rain and damp weather didn't halt more than 200 Hilltop youngsters in their desire to participate in the Hilltop's first big turkey hunt since the days of the early settlers in this area. More than 200 of the youngsters descended on Glenwood Recreation Center last Saturday morning to register, receive their turkey hunting licenses and await the starting gun that sent them all scampering into the wooded sections of the huge recreation center.

Robert Grove, aged 10, of 122 Clarendon-av (pictured at left), gathered in the top prize of the day, a huge turkey donated for the affair by the Southworth Poultry Market. Young Bob captured the festive bird on the second run of the Turkey Hunt. In the first heat "Mr. Gobbler" managed to get loose from his bonds which kept him in his hidden spot and escape into the grounds of Columbus State School. After he had been retrieved and again hidden, the hunt was resumed.

Second prize was won by Bobby Lampson, age 11, of 2534 Ridgeav after he too had chased a rooster which had also [redacted] loosened from the ties that bound his legs. Third prize, a hen chicken, was won by Patty Jones, 171 S. Burgess-av. Patty found the bird which was well hidden in a small thicket in the Glenwood woodlands. The second and third prizes were also given by Southworth Poultry.

Fourth prize in the contest, a huge box of groceries containing everything for a complete Thanksgiving dinner and donated by Fox Food Shop, was won by Melvin Nichols, aged 10, of 223 Catherine-av. Melvin's sharp eyes spotted the bunch of carrots which represented the prize by noting the brighter green of the carrot leaves against the other foliage in the woods.

Hilltop Shrine Club Preparing Candidates' Pre-Ceremonial Rites

Almost anything can, and usually does, happen at the annual get-together of the Hilltop Shrine Club and the new candidates when they meet in the semi-annual affair at West Gate Masonic Temple prior to initiatory rites at the downtown Masonic Temple. This year will be no exception to the rule is the promise of entertainment chairmen Rev. Joseph Shellhaas and Spang Spangler as they prepare for the gathering of the Shrine Club with 25 local candidates.

Hilltop Shriners will convene at West Gates Temple Thursday night Dec. 4, at 6:45 to conduct the 25 new candidates "across the burning sands," according to secretary L. E. Saunders, who said this week that the pre-ceremonial program will begin promptly at that time and urged all local Shriners to be in attendance early to prepare for the candidates' proper reception.

Announcement cards on the event have been mailed to all Shriners in this area who are on record, according to Saunders, who said however, that the meeting and dinner is open to all Shriners regardless of whether or not they have received notification of the pre-ceremonial rites.

Officers of the Hilltop Shrine Club are George Levisay, president; L. E. Saunders, secretary; Joseph Briggs, vice president; Harry Marshall, treasurer.

Chairmen for the evening are: Entertainment, Rev. Joseph Shellhass and Spang Spangler; refreshments, Loren Galloway and Jerry Watson; reception, Harold Elliott, and tickets, Curt Wilcox.

Starling High Students Get Health Info

Seven members of Helen Krumm's class at Starling visited the Benjamin Franklin (tuberculosis) Hospital last week to gather material for the Christmas seal school press project. The day after the hospital tour the students inspected the Columbus Tuberculosis Society headquarters and Ben Franklin Clinic at 503 Oak-st.

Essays concerning health education and its application in an anti-tuberculosis program are entered in the school press contest. Winners are given awards by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society.

The Christmas seal sale, now in progress in Franklin County, continues through Dec. 24. Funds from the sale support the free chest X-ray service, health education, rehabilitation of TB patients —all part of the program of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society.

Gifts For Yanks Plan Adopted By Camp Chase

Commander Roger H. Myers of Camp Chase Post No. 96 of the the American Legion, said today that the Post is sponsoring a program to provide Christmas gifts for all veterans in Veterans Administration Hospitals. Called "Gifts for the Yanks" Who Gave," it is the purpose of the state-wide plan to sell 5,000 shares to individuals and organizations at $5 a share.

Gifts such as bed-room slippers, canteen books and woolen socks will be provided for these sick and wounded veterans on Christmas Day, according to Commander Myers. The gift idea was started in 1944 by actor Eddie Cantor to express our thanks to those who have given themselves to our country's service in time of war.

The commander asks that those who wish to buy a share in this worthwhile plan, or who wish to contribute any amount, call RA. 9152 or mail the donation to the post at P.O. Box 817, Hilltop Station, Columbus 4, Ohio. All gifts of $5 or more by individuals will be acknowledged by the sending of a billfold card or to an organization or group of individuals a certificate.

Many of those being treated in VA hospitals at Christmas time will be forgotten unless the community helps do something about it.

Twelve Seniors Are Tapped For National Honor

Sonya Albery, Rita Elliott, Ronald Grant, Ronald Raike, Gene Burch, Marion Goolsby, Marcia Lowery, Donna LeFever, Carol Rickert, Shirley Deitchle, Ann Cockfield, and Donna Theisen were tapped as new members into the Magly Chapter of the National Honor Society, in a senior assembly held recently at West High School.

Principal Young told the story behind the tapping ceremony. In the early days of King Arthur, a soldier, upon receiving knighthood, was tapped on the shoulder by a scepter or sword to make the honor official. Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Randall, and Mrs. Thomas had the pleasure of bestowing the honor on their students. The scepter used was designed by Mr. Miller. The twelve students were then escorted to the stage where they were pinned by Miss Brown, vice-principal.

The formal National Honor Society assembly will be held Dec. 4 with newly elected officers Gene Burch, president, and Marcia Lowery, secretary.

Police Recover $400 In Loot; Capture Escapee

Police Monday recaptured one escapee from the Columbus State Hospital, 1960 W. Broad-st and recovered $400 in loot taken in the burglary of a Hilltop store Sunday night, but as yet have not apprehended another 55 year old escapee who is still at large.

A 17-year-old youth escaped the institution last Friday night by sawing his way through window bars. Since that time he once burglarized his own home for something to eat, ransacked the car of a brush salesman and burglarized the Val-U-House at 2824 W. Broad-st.

Detectives Robert Brush and Tony Sylvester learned of the youths hiding place in a rude lean-to shack he had constructed along the Big Four Railroad tracks at the north end of Wheatland-av and made the capture Monday.

All of the loot from the store was found in the shack with the youth who was found wrapped in a stolen blanket and listening to a stolen portable radio.

Volunteer Firemen Aid Local School Playgrounds

Franklin Township firemen put out fires without fee or salary. But frequently folks grateful for their volunteer services made contribu-tions.

Last week firemen in company No. 3 turned over $75 to the three schools of their community for use in buying athletic or playground equipment.

Briggsdale School, Wilson Elementary and South Franklin School each received $25. Money was presented by Woodrow Eckardt, assistant chief, Martin Fleming, treasurer, Harold Cartwright and Robert Steele. Howard Smith was installed president of the company.

Hilltop Men Hold Key Positions In Annual Charity Newsie Drive

Hilltop men have been assigned key duties in the 46th annual drive of the Charity Newsies, the welfare organization founded back in 1907.

Fred (Fritz) Moritz of 90 N. Warren-av, is drive chairman, directing all details of the paper sale to be held Sat., Dec. 13, on the streets of greater Columbus. Moritz is assistant superintendent of the Ohio State Highway Patrol, and has been a Charity Newsie 12 years.

Meanwhile, the some 140 members are staging an advance solicitation of funds in offices, stores, plants and wholesale houses. The factory solicitations committee is chairmaned by Leroy S. Weigand of 3181 W. Broad-st. He is proprietor of Weigand's Health Food Store, 47 W. Long-st.

William F. (Bill) Krause of 125 N. Terrace-av, contractor and West Side civic leader, is co-chairman of the "Pep Dinner" committee. This unit stages the traditional kick-off event to precede the climactic street sale. The dinner is set for Thursday, Dec. 13, in the Southern Hotel's grand ballroom.

Still another Hilltop resident—Robert L. (Bob) Durham of 199 S. Brinker-av—is taking an active part in the drive. He is first vice-president of the organization, and was the 1951 drive chairman.

The Hilltop also may boast of being the home of one of the oldest members, both from point of service and age. He is J. C. Harrington of 3327 W. Broad-st.

Others from our community assigned to an active duty in this drive to raise funds to provide new shoes and new clothing for needy children of school age are these well-known residents: William Henry Haire, 2107 Ellis-pl; Otho Hayner, 1995 Floral-av; C. C. Hartley, 2465 W. Broad-st; W. Herbert Dailey, 815 Belvidere-av; Max Gutkind, 476 S. Burgess-av; A. Louis Holzbacher, 97 S. Algonquin-av; James W. McDevitt, 482 S. Huron-av; A. T. Vollmann, 206 Binns-blvd; Theodore E. Vollmann, 75 Whitethorne-av.

Newsie officials this week emphasized the fact that all funds collected by the organization go for the sole purpose of alleviating distress among needy children. This is made possible because all campaign expenses are paid from profits of the organization's annual fall outing, a social event for members and their friends held at Beulah Park.

Woman's Day Speaker Is Announced

Mrs. H. B. McCormick

Mrs. H. B. McCormick will be the special Woman's Day speaker at the Hilltop Church of Christ at Burgess and Olive, Nov. 30, at the regular morning worship service.

Mrs. McCormick had the privilege of attending the first meeting of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam, as a visiting delegate. She had formerly served on the American Committee of the World Council as the first woman to have a place on that board. She has also been active in the World Peace Commission of the United Christian Missionary Society and was a delegate to the International Peace Conference at Cleveland and at Drake University, Des Moines. For five years she has given considerable time to world relations.

She has given special attention to high school young people and took an active part in state work of the Disciples Brotherhood. She has served as president of the women's missionary organization both in Michigan and Ohio.

Annual To Be Dedicated To "Our Parents"

Audrey Smith, editor of the Annual has just announced that the annual staff will dedicate the 1953 book to "Our Parents." A beautiful page has been planned to pay tribute to them.

The parents will be "guided" through the book as a student would go through a school year.

The book will also touch on how the community and school have grown together with each helping the other.

There will be a diary of a typical student during a school day done in informal pictures and story form. These special pages will be unusually impressive because of the modern layout done in color.

Annuals may be ordered in journalism room 220.

Junior Cagers Will Open Dec. 4

The West Junior High Cagers have been going through their practices in preparation for their opening game Dec. 4 at Linden McKinley.

Coach O. D. Lehman led his squad to a second place finish last year behind Barrett; and from that squad he has returning All-City Forward Bill Spratley, guard Bill Chappelear, and Guard Gary Nebinger. All three of these boys are 9A's and will graduate at mid-year along with Dick Durry. Coach Lehman will probably start Dave Randall at the pivot post with either Gary Burlew or Durry at the other forward position. Battling Nebinger and Chappelear for the guard positions are George Watkins and Chuck Coe both 9B's. Also figuring in possible playing time are Bob Courtney a 9B and 8A Mike Posey.

With Spratley, Nebinger, and Chappelear graduating at mid-year the Broncos will have to make hay while the sun shines. All three of these boys are top scorers and the team is being built around them. After mid-year Coach Lehman fears that the going will be tough, but he is glad that his team will face the toughest of the opposition before mid-year. He did predict though that his team would have a better than average season.

Holy Family Seniors To Give Play

The Senior Class Play at Holy Family High School will be presented Dec. 3 and 4 in the school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Part of the cast for "Hi and Sis in New York" are, left to right, Mary Gene Cook, 848 S. Wayne-av, "Trixie LaBelle;" Josephine Mohl, 91 E. Hartford-av, "Mrs. Brown"; Jim Maxwell, 122 Belvidere-av, "Hi Hawkins"; Patty Cooke, 186 S. Brinker, "Belle Stephens;" Marlene Kuhn, 1314 Lamme-av, "Mrs. Jackson."

The Kiwani-Anne's will meet for a luncheon Tuesday, Dec. 2, at noon in Parlor D at the Athletic Club. A short business meeting at which Mrs. T. R. Walker, president, will preside, will be followed by a musical program. Members will again this year bring Christmas gifts for the patients at Alum Crest Hospital. Santa Claus will distribute gifts to all club members.

The following interesting information was submitted to your correspondent by Cecil R. Meharry, principal of Prairie Township School, which is worthy of reprinting: "More than 53,000,000 daily newspapers are sold every day. Nearly 400,000,000 are borrowed from libraries each year 500,000,000 copies of books will be printed this year. It's self-evident: People who buy books and magazines know how to read. Do you remember the large number of people who in past generations signed marriage bonds, wills, deeds and checks with an X? When was the last time you saw someone sign his check in that manner? Does this illustrate the fact that schools ARE teaching children how to read and write? I think it does."

Olympus Charity League Plans Holiday Ball

Members of the Olympus Charity League are busy contacting sponsors for the 1962 "Holiday Ball". This year's formal dance will be on December 27 at the Deshler-Wallick with dancing from 10 until 2 to the music of Francis Carl's orchestra. As in the past, all proceeds will go toward the purchase of hearing aids for the deaf and hard of hearing children enrolled in the Day School of Indianola Elementary. By Jo-Ann Strauss

Six different demonstration rooms were set up, containing audio-visual helps for teachers to observe and use. Movie machines, film strip machines, and opaque projector, flannel board, educational bulletin boards, were in charge of teachers who had actually used them in their class work.

The meeting was planned and directed by Dr. Clyde Miller, director of audio visual education for the state of Ohio assisted by Miss King of the county office and a committee of teachers from various county schools.

Any ideas that come for this alleged column usually arrive at deadline time. At that time for this one, the idea was that of calling several friends and acquaintances and ask what they are most thankful for this Thanksgiving. Of course the idea isn't original, and the anticipated answer received from most of those called was that there are so many things they couldn't name any one thing. Most of them mentioned family, friends, good health, and that they are Americans. The list is too long for this space, so only the few who gave one specific reason for being thankful will be quoted—verbatim, if my shorthand isn't too cold.

Alphabetically, and ladies first, here are the answers: Marilyn Bare, age four—"Santa Claus and Roy Rogers." Dolores Burton, high school student — "I'm thankful that I'm young in America." Blanche Meachum (WTVN)—"I'm thankful for the friends I've made and hope and pray I may keep them even after I am not on television." My favorite shutin, R. V. —"For the friends who take time to be interested in all of us who have had to fall out along the way, and show their interest by calls and letters." Linda Jean Weakley, age four—(Not being as gabby as her G-ma, she wanted no words) "Sunday School." Walter Furniss (WCOL)—"I'm thankful I'm alive; that the election is over and that we have the privilege of voting; that we have freedom of speech and the right to worship and thank God as we please." Mr. Greene, editor of The Hilltop Record—"Having been a newspaper man for several years, also a soldier, I have seen the rights of citizens of other countries taken from them, so I am thankful for the things for which our forefathers fought and for the God-given right we have to say what we please and to pray as we please." Rev. Delbert S. Mills, pastor of Avondale EUB Church—"We pause to thank God for His wonderful miracles, and especially would we say 'Thanks to God for His unspeakable gift of Jesus Christ to the world'." Jack Shank, of Shank & Saunders—"Too often we forget all we do have to be thankful for and take them for granted—family friends and home." Being J. S., he had to add "And I'm thankful I'm only 39, like Jack Benny."

Not that anyone will be particularly interested but it will fill up space, so here are a few of my own reasons for being thankful: the 20-year-old who was missing in action in Korea so many months has been heard from . . . the promise in John 3:16 . . . the sirens' wailing was only "practice" . . . my coat will last another winter . . . there is a breathing spell between Thanksgiving and Christmas. . . . I am sure Mr. Greene will be thankful for this little item too—I've a new typewriter ribbon . . . what they feared was polio that has happened to my friend's baby, WASN'T.

"We give thanks to God." Col. 1:3

THANKSGIVING EVENING IN KOREA

The evening sky is faintly touched with fire, and silhouetted in the dimming light,
he stands alone and tired; his young eyes old.
He reads a letter over once again—the one that came last month, or yesterday.
He reads again of Junior's last black eye and Mom's new dress—she'd needed one so long—of how they'd miss him on Thanksgiving Day, his first away from home. They hoped he'd have a lot to eat that day. The letter told of how the leaves were burned;
the garden dead, and in the post script: "Betty sends her love" . . .
he reads it over, and he's home again—
his eyes are young. He sends a little prayer of thankfulness for family and for friends, and for his Betty, who had sent her love.

PRAYER OF THANKS

Lord of my life, can life be bare
With beauty springing everywhere?
Can I forlorn and lonely be
With sweet bird-song from every tree?
Can I succumb to doubt and fear
With tasks to do and friends to cheer?
What matter it that I am poor,
With roses blooming at my door!
Can I complain, by sorrow pent,
Knowing I have the boon, content?
Trouble shall flee and fear take wing,
For life still brings me songs to sing.
Lord of my days how thankful I
For a thankful heart, as life goes by!

Starling School News

BOOK WEEK
By Donna Holton

Mrs. Gertrude Wright, Starling's new librarian, will talk to all the English classes this week about the new books in the library as a part of the school's observance of National Book Week. Starling has received 75 new books which will be on display. Each student will be permitted to reserve two books and each will be given a book marker.

PUPILS DISPLAY WORK
By Alan Hooper and Richard Dupler

A wide variety of pupils' work was on display at Starling's open house on Thursday, Nov. 13.

The metal and wood shops had the articles the boys had made, such as plumb-bobs, hammers, desks and bookcases. The cooking classes had food that the girls had prepared and the sewing classes had aprons and the other things the girls had made.

Some of the rooms had posters and booklets and some had test papers and drawings. Room 15 had some very fine and unusual drawings on the board of Rip Van Winkle and Ivanhoe. The typing room had papers on the walls that the pupils had typed. Some pupils were also in the room typing.

The band played some selected songs in the auditorium. In the main hall coffee, doughnuts and potato chips were for sale.

Franklin County Society For Crippled Children Doing Job Considered Impossible In The Past

By Pat Matindale

This is a story of one more achievement that would have been considered impossible not too long ago. More than that, it is a story of little children being given an opportunity to live a more nearly normal life in spite of a terrific handicap.

The Franklin County Society for Crippled Children, Inc., located ate 555 E. Town-st, whose major project is the treatment of cerebral palsy for pre-school children, was organized in 1940. It is incorporated according to the laws of the state of Ohio and its aims are to meet the needs of crippled children without duplicating the services of another agency. It wasn't until 1945, however, that this organization was financially able to help the type of handicapped children for whom the least had been done and for whom there were few facilities in the county for treatment. These are the victims of cerebral palsy or spastics.

This is the first center for the treatment of pre-school children to be established as a county project and although it took quite some time to acquire the proper facilities, occupational therapist and physical therapist, registrations came in so fast that before long additional room and therapists had to be obtained.

Although there are estimated to be 500,000 cerebral palsy cases in the United States, few people know exactly what it is, or its cause.

There are five types of cerebral palsy: spasticity, athetosis, ataxia, tremor and rigidity. Spastics and athetoids constitute 85 per cent of all cerebral palsies. Fifteen per cent come under the last three classifications. The condition is characterized by awkward or involuntary movements, irregular gait, incoordinate use of hands, defective speech, facial contortions and drooling. The degree of disability varies. Sometimes only one arm and one leg are involved (hemiplegia); sometimes both arms and legs (quadriplegia). In some cases the child is completely helpless physically and remains so all his life. About 70 per cent have speech defects or no articulate speech at all.

Cerebral palsy is caused by damage to that part of the brain which controls motion. It can occur before, during or immediately after birth. It may be caused by congenital malformation of the brain; or by disease or injury any time during life. It cannot be prevented, nor can it be inherited. It can happen in any family of any social or economic level.

Most victims are born with it but because its symptoms are slow in appearing parents often times do not realize that their child has cerebral palsy and think that their child is just slow in walking and talking. So often the diagnosis comes as a shock.

While basically the Cerebral Palsy Center is a treatment program the children treated are also prepared for a well-adjusted and useful adulthood. While very young the victims need speech training and association with others of his own age in nursery school. Nursery school takes the child out of a home atmosphere of over-protection and handicap consciousness and supplies him with a normal childhood experience and the social adjustments which he needs. It offers training in self-help, dressing and feeding. Parents are also instructed in how to give treatment at home and what can or cannot be expected from their child.

To date more than 400 children in and around Franklin County have been treated at the center and at present there is an enrollment of 104 youngsters. This organization also treats other forms of crippledness. It is a non-profit organization supported by funds obtained through the sale of Easter Seals and the Lily Parade and from private donations. Parents pay only what they can afford and in many cases no fees are charged. Orthopedic shoes and braces, wheelchairs and hospital beds, summer health camping, parent and public education toward understanding of crippled children, inter-agency referrals and graduate therapists training are the services provided regardless of crippling cause.

It is hoped that in the near future there will be facilities for children to be treated who are over nine years of age, for it is necessary for them to achieve physical independence in order to find a proper place in society. The cost is great but the value of our children cannot be measured in dollars and cents, so that is why the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children is working so diligently to make our little victims a part of us, not apart from us.

If You Can't Stop . . . Smile As You Go By

With a National disposer you simply remove sink drain cover, "scrape your food waste down the drain."

Replace sink drain cover, turn to grind, turn on cold water and presto, food waste grinds into tiny particles, washes away in cold water.

THAT'S right, your worries are over when you get a National Disposer. The National handles all food wastes in a hurry — before they become garbage. You just drop your wastes in the sink drain — insert the safety Lok-top cover — turn on the water — and you're done. You can forget about handling those dripping, foul smelling bundles of garbage — quit running to the unsightly, unhealthy garbage can — stop scrubbing and spraying the dirty garbage can — and cut down on your after mealtime "clean-up" in the hot kitchen.

What's more a National is easy to buy and easy to install. You can buy it on an approved FHA plan today and have it working for you tomorrow. A few dollars a month can save you a lot of time, a lot of effort, and a lot of peace of mind about family health.

Highland Garden Club Learns To Make Christmas Decorations

How to get the most out of your festive decorations and how to colorfully display them was answered by Mrs. C. F. Neiswender, Grove City, when the Highland Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. J. Earle Taylor, 171 S. Harris-av.

Mrs. Neiswender pointed out the origin and history of Christmas decorations, by reminding her listeners that Christmas comes to all nations and races and since America is a melting pot—a country made up of many different races, we have a combination of symbols and traditions from all over the world.

Evergreen has always been a symbol of feasts and ceremonies and because of its hardiness and ability to withstand rugged weather, it has attained an important place in the picture of Christmas, according to Mrs. Neiswender.

Through the years Americans have cut too many trees commercially, said Mrs. Neiswender, but through intercession of garden clubs and conservation agencies, evergreens have been set out in great numbers each year.

The most plentiful of evergreens are balsam fir, juniper, white spruce, English ivy and privet. The speaker cautioned on cutting holly, ground pine and laurel which is scarce in this area.

The firs, being soft to touch, are the most popular for decorating at Christmas time. Balsam and white fir hold their needles very well.

The hemlock is noted for its grace, beauty and lovely dark green color, but it is not advisable to use it indoors, unless kept in water, the speaker added.

Evergreen branches should be cut on a slant with a sharp knife, put into deep water and kept in a cool place for a few hours before making any kind of decoration. To give an arrangement a highlight, shellac, plastic or white paint could be sprayed on the evergreen.

Among the artistic arrangements easily made at home was an evergreen ball or "kissing ball". Mrs. Neiswender started with a ball of sphagnum moss, soaked in water and wrapped with cord. Sharp-pointed stems of evergreen sprigs were tucked into the moss to form a round ball. Mistletoe or white berries tucked in at the bottom and a red ribbon at the top made it complete.

Mrs. Neiswender used yew for one wreath, mixed with sprigs of pine and white pine, which gave a delightful airy look. This had been shellacked and sprayed with fleck.

Another wreath was made of wire wrapped with newspaper to get the desired width and then wrapped with gold paper. Twigs of evergreen, cones, milk-weed pods were painted gold and a streamer of green ribbon was an added accessory.

In the center of a cheese box lid, which had been painted white and outlined with arborvitae, were three snow men, cut out of white

Hilltop Chorus Will Entertain Polio Patients

Mrs. Ernestine Schuman, 115 Demorest-av, entertained members of the Hilltop Women's Chorus Nov. 19, at her home. Mrs. Thelma Neal, president, announced that the group would give a Christmas program for the polio patients at one of the local hospitals. The group practices Wednesday evenings at the Hilltop YMCA.

Mrs. Neiswender had made and presented to Mrs. Taylor, the hostess, a lovely corsage of rose tips, acorns, chenille and ribbon in shades of gold and bronze.

She also suggested as Christmas favors, making miniature green gardens, using ash trays as the base; or small sprigs of evergreen decorated with tiny glass balls.

Veteran Reporter Will Celebrate Her 84th Birthday On Nov. 27

By Mrs. James W. Whalen

Mrs. Belle Boucher

Kind, genial Mrs. Belle Boucher, 37 Pasadena-av, New Rome, is celebrating her 84th birthday, Nov. 27. She was born Nov. 27, 1867, in Jackson Township near Salem Church on the Oliver Holt farm. In 1871 her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Bodle, moved to Grove City on Park-st, where her father went into the butchering trade.

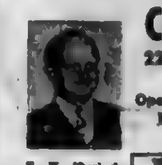
Among Mrs. Boucher's early memories of Grove City are the stage coach days, as well as Joe Bryden, the driver, who wore a plug hat and carried a long buggy whip that he used on the four little horses bringing them into town on the run.

When he would arrive at Voelkel's Tavern, two hostlers would run out, take the stage horses back to the livery barn and bring back four fresh ones. Then the coach would set out on the gravel road for the next portion of its journey towards Mt. Sterling. On top of the vehicle, as Mrs. Boucher recalls, were carpet bags, valises and trunks, and some of these were also strapped to the back of the coach.

She remembers also that the walks in those days were nothing but patches of sawdust that soon became mud after a rain. Remembering vividly her schooldays, she can tell many a story of happenings at the German school she attended in the summer and the English school that occupied the winter days. Of her classmates, only Mrs. Emma Flach and Lee Grant of Grove City are living today.

Mrs. Boucher has many happy memories of her pleasant hours with her only brother, Alonzo N. Bodle, who later became known as the "Bard of Darby." Mr. Bodle and his sister shared their literary interests and were an inspiration to each other. Mr. Bodle passed away on Jan. 23, 1951, at the age of 87.

A portion of one of Mrs. Boucher's favorite poems of her late brother's composition is from "A Rhyme of Darby" . . .



"I am dreaming tonight of the valleys and hills
Where the soft streams of Darby are gliding—
"Of the green-shaded haunts of the whippoorwills,
And the vales where the squirrels are hiding.

"And my heart drifts back to the days gone by,
With a love that is warm and tender,
As a crimson cloud in the evening sky
Hangs over the sunset's splendor.

"It was there that I roamed in my childhood days,
When the pleasant hours were given,
And life was and endless song of praise,
Sung low to the music of heaven . . ."

In 1885 Mrs. Boucher became the reporter for the Columbus Record, now known as the Columbus Citizen. Since that time she has been a correspondent for The Hilltop Record, The Columbus Dispatch, The West Jefferson Star, The Madison Press, the Hilliards Times and The Grove City Record.

Thanksgiving has a double meaning this year for this remarkable lady, who is still doing her own housework and maintains her keen and active interest in people and community affairs. She is eagerly looking forward to the arrival of a great-great-grandchild in the near future.

With Peg Warren:

About The Hilltop

There is no place like home on Thanksgiving Day, the family gathered around the dining room table, loaded with good things to eat, with true humility, and heads bowed, we offer thanks for our countless blessings, and ask for peace and more understanding in this troubled world . . . Our neighbor, Fred Schmidt (Smitty) the telephone man, bagged two pheasants and a rabbit Monday . . . . Pretty Sally Ann Rapstock, Junior at OSU, is a new member of the Swan Club . . . Next Dec. 18, Joan Clark will wed Dick Statt, of Athens, O. . . . just a week ago, Ruth Ogle received a diamond engagement ring from Andy Anderson . . . Margaret Ann Lombard, West High grad, is up in the air, and tickled pink, over receiving her wings, and being assigned to flight duty, out of Cleveland Hopkins Airport . . . A get well wish to J. B. Kreitzman, who is ill in Mt. Carmel Hospital . . . Dorothy and George Bremer, Daytona Beach, Fla., arrived just in time for the arrival of their new grandson, Mike, son of Eddie and Joby Whitehead. Mike boasts of great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Jacques . . . Newly-weds Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Welker will be at home at Beverly Manor Apartments after Dec. 1.

Hilltop girls who were recently initiated in the Pleides, independent women's group at OSU, are Shirley Willing, Judy Gompers and Barbara Furry . . . This Saturday, Ed Mulholland will wed Mary Catherine Rodgers at 10:30 a. m. in an open church ceremony at Holy Name Church . . . At the age of one month, Walter Allen Goldhardt took his first trip to the barbershop for a haircut . . . Sgt. Richard A. DeRubertis, of the 37th, will report to an overseas command as an individual replacement . . . Last week Elmer Young of Camp Chase Post was elected chef de gare of Am-Le Voitre No. 15 of the 40 and 8. The Jack Stewarts are the proud parents of a baby girl. The mother is the former Marcelliene O'Malley . . . Pfc. Earl Ratliff has left for Camp Stoneman, Calif. While he is overseas his wife, Norma, will live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Doughty . . . This Friday evening Mrs. Leo Miller and Carol Pollock will model clothes at the Beta Sigma Phi's sorority style show and card party at the City National Bank club rooms.

When the Charity Newsies, "Have a Heart Paper" hits the streets this Dec. 13, Lee Weigand will solicit Broad-st; Henry Haire, Sullivant-av, and Bill Krause, the West Side. Bob Durham is president, and Fritz Moritz is the drive chairman . . . Pete Edwards, Joe Gregory, Bill Hanson and Carl Jenny, new members of the 13 Club, are planning to attend the club's annual Christmas party Sunday, Dec. 14 . . . Attorney Emile Reiss, 1909 Sullivant-av, is seeking the Democratic nomination for mayor of Columbus in next August's primary election.

. . . And so THE OUTBOARD MOTOR WAS INVENTED!

Ole Evinrude got "fed up" with pulling heavy oars every time he wanted to visit his fiance across the lake. Result: the outboard motor.

Adventists To Observe Week Of Prayer

Nov. 29 to Dec. 6 has been appointed a week of prayer and sacrifice for Seventh-Day Adventists in Columbus and throughout North America, Pastor Richard T. Minesinger, minister of the local Eastwood Church, announced today.

Believing that the present unrest of nations points only to the approaching climax of the ages, the coming of Christ, Pastor Minesinger explained, church members will unite in prayer for the advancement of Christianity in the world. Meetings will be held on Sunday, Wednesday and Friday evenings this week at 7:30 o'clock in the Eastwood Church, 26 N. 21st-st, in designated homes in various sections of the city on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and at the regular Sabbath morning service at 11 o'clock on Saturday, Nov. 29, and Dec. 6.

A sermon prepared by one of the denomination's leading churchmen will occupy a portion of each service. The topic for the 11 o'clock Sabbath service Saturday, Nov. 29, will be "What It Means to Be a Seventh-Day Adventist," and the concluding service on Sabbath morning, Dec. 6, "God Calls for Entire Consecration."

Other topics during the week will be "Separation The Price of Holiness," "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart," "Growth in Grace," "In Such an Hour as Ye Think Not," "This Gospel Shall Be Preached," "We Have Not Followed Fables." Pastor Warren N. Wiltenberg, leader of the Ohio youth, will be present on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5 and 6.

Coupling action with their prayers, the pastor stated, members will on Dec. 6 make contributions that represent a personal sacrifice during the week. Some, he said, have observed this personal sacrifice throughout the year in order to have a larger offering For a church of 800,000 members the task of carrying on mission work in 194 of the 230 countries of the world is no small undertaking.

Christmas Games Booklet Ready

The Columbus Recreation Department has prepared another pamphlet which is now ready for distribution as a public service. The booklet is known as "Christmas Games."

In this booklet are various types of games that are popular at Christmas time and are arranged according to the size, age and type of groups.

The booklet is free and may be obtained only at the office of the Recreation Department, Room 134, City Hall.

There will be much written and said about Thanksgiving Day this year, just as there is every year. For this is one of our great days...

The story of the Pilgrims will be retold. The long voyage in the little ship, the Mayflower. The freezing winter. The fight for food, for survival. And then, the spring, the summer, and the harvest... Thanksgiving Day.

There will be the speeches, telling of America's might, of her place in the community of nations, of her plenty, of her people. Great speeches that will be reprinted in the papers—for everyone to read... Thanksgiving Day.

There will be the visits, perhaps from neighbors a few doors up the street who have dropped in for a chat and a piece of pumpkin pie, or perhaps from far-distant relatives who always return to spend this holiday at the old home... Yes, Thanksgiving Day.

And yet, the whole story of Thanksgiving is also here in this little picture. A man and his wife have asked God's blessing on their food, and happy in each others' love and work, they are enjoying the day together.

Your neighborhood church—which is helping to mold the lives of such fine young people as these—has this wish for you: that your Thanksgiving Day will be as happy and content as theirs'.

I exhort therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men.

YOUR YOUTH

By Bob Schmidt and Dick Wilson

The Junior Tri Hi-Y Girls' Club is busily preparing for its induction Dec. 4. The Hilliards Tri Hi-Y induction team will induct our girls into the National Tri Hi-Y Fellowship. This program will be at the St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, Warren-av, and all parents are cordially invited to attend.

The "Y" office as usual has been a busy place the past several weeks. The beat of the typewriter and the hum of the mimeograph promise plenty of action packed events for the month of December. This schedule has now gone to press and it will be mailed by the end of November. Boys and girls, if you don't receive a December schedule, please call the "Y", JO. 4641 and we'll have a schedule sent out your way—via pony express. DON'T FORGET TO LOOK FOR THE CHRISTMAS FUN CLUB SCHEDULE—two weeks of jam packed events for all the boys and girls of the Hilltop. Get your schedule today.

Thanksgiving baskets to the needy are being prepared this week by the members of the Junior Tri Hi-Y, Junior Hi-Y and Gra-Y Clubs. Boy, every time I pass those baskets my mind wanders to what a happy Thanksgiving dinner some worthy family will have due to the kind and generous spirit of these "Y" members.

Dick reports the dancing lessons at the "Y" every Tuesday night, a cooperative venture of Jack Sherrick's Studio and Junior Tri Hi-Y, Junior Hi-Y, are very successful. There are three more openings for boys so if any of you junior high age fellows want to learn ballroom dancing, contact the Hilltop "Y" for further information.

This time next week Old Tom Turkey will be just a memory and the basketball fever will be at an all time high. Our Junior Church League has six teams entered and will start the schedule on Dec. 8 at 7 p. m. in John Burroughs gym. The Intermediate Church League has nine teams registered and will open its schedule Dec. 16. We are very proud of this increased registration of teams this year. It again brings to the forefront the need of adequate YMCA facilities for the youth and adults of the Hilltop. With the increased activities of your Hilltop "Y", the board of management and other interested Hilltoppers know that the need for a community YMCA branch is a present pressing demand. Many of you will want to know that progress has been made in this direction. Our building site at the corner of S. Harris and W. Broad has been purchased and a building fund has been established during the past three years to handle your building fund contributions.

The annual meeting of the Hilltop "Y" has been tentatively scheduled for Jan. 22, 1952. Dave Randall, a member of the board of management, has been appointed as chairman of this meeting by C. Carlton Hartley, chairman of the "Y" board.

Before closing the column for this week I thought you would be interested in knowing that a Hilltop Mothers Council has been formed. Mrs. Warren Leeka is serving as temporary chairman and this group voted to meet the third Thursday of each month. The next meeting will be Dec. 18 at 1:30 p. m. at the "Y" office, 2502 W. Broad-st. All of you mothers are invited to attend this charter meeting. The main purpose of this group is to help promote the boys' program of the Hilltop YMCA.

Highland School News

On Wednesday Nov. 19, Miss Everkind of the Columbus Humane Society visited Mrs. Babb's second grade room at Highland Ave. School. Miss Everkind is heard on the radio each week in a program about animals. She brought several films dealing with animals that the children enjoyed very much.

Nov. 17 through 22 was National Book Week. Some of the classes at Highland decided to visit the Hilltop Branch of the Public Library. Classes visiting the library were those of Mrs. Hardman, Mrs. Bercaw and Mrs. Teeter. In addition to inspecting the library they were entertained by a puppet show.

On Nov. 26 the fourth grade classes which include Mrs. Hustin, Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Snouffer presented the Thanksgiving program in the auditorium for the entire school.

Let the Classifieds assist you in your Christmas shopping.

It's That Time Again

Ever since the day after Christmas last year we have been reminded by our gal Friday that it's only so many days till Christmas and now that only about three weeks remain we are beginning to take note of the event.

It won't be long until the old gent with the pink whiskers will be performing his annual miracle of coming down sooty chimneys without getting dirty.

The size of the load the old gent will be carrying will of course depend on you. And, speaking of load, we always have felt it is a darned downright shame to have to lug Christmas parcels all over the downtown and be pushed around in the crowds when you can find such a nice selection right here in the home stores.

We've said it before and we'll say it again:

SHOPPING IS EASIER
FOLKS ARE FRIENDLIER
PRICES ARE LOWER
. . . ON THE HILLTOP

The Gay Philosopher Says: "The young feller who watches the clock is likely to stay just one of the hands."

It Is the Road to Happiness

The Philosopher's Family

This week we take pride in presenting the 1953 Gay Philosopher Calendar.

Our popular character says:
"I jes' figger if ya' spend th' whole day hurryin',
It doesn't leave you time to even stop and think.
So with pipe pole and pooch along—I quit worryin' Sittin' by the river, with my feet in the drink."

"Easy Does It" would hardly serve as an inspiration for American youth but it does provide a lot of fun for millions who have voted The Gay Philosopher their favorite calendar character.

A limited number of these calendars are available to Record subscribers who stop at our office.

VFW Post Changes Meeting Dates

Beginning with the month of December Westway Post 3441 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is changing its regular meeting nights from the first and third Fridays of the month to the second and fourth Friday, according to announcement made this week by Commander Richard Martin.

Martin said that the VFW Post in changing its meeting dates was doing so in order that conflict in meeting nights between the Camp Chase American Legion Post and the Westway VFW Post would be eliminated. He pointed out that many men belonged to both organizations and that by virtue of the meeting dates being on the same date the attendance at both organizations had suffered.

Change of the meeting dates was also effected in order that the two organizations could work in better harmony with one another on future projects that will benefit the community.

Grand Jury Will Hear Prairie-twp Paddling Case

Cecil Meharry, Prairie Township elementary school principal, was bound over to await grand jury action Monday on a charge of paddling a 12-year-old sixth grade student.

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Clyde E. Wyker, Meharry entered a plea of "not guilty" to a charge of "unlawfully assaulting and striking Benny Riggs", brought by the boy's mother, Mrs. Charles Riggs, 270 Woodlawn-av. He requested that the case be turned over to the grand jury to determine whether he should stand trial.

At a meeting of the Prairie Township Board of Education, it was disclosed that the Riggs boy was among eight who were paddled for playing on the gymnasium floor while classes were in progress there.

Meharry said the boys had been told several times they couldn't play there. "Crowded conditions in the new school make it necessary to use the gym for a classroom," said Meharry.

The Riggs boy displayed a black and blue mark at the board meeting which he said was the result of the paddling.

Another complaint of the youngsters is that they were made to sit on a "hot-seat" outside the principal's office. The seat is a stone bench under which is a register for heating the hall.

Plan To Open Three New Stores At Central Point This Weekend

A new S. S. Kresge variety store and two new shop stores—Schiff's and Salvatore's—are opening at the Central Point Shopping Center Thursday. This makes 14 stores now serving the West Side, at the rapidly growing merchandise mart at Central-av and W. Mound-st.

Next week a new opening at Central Point will be the Kroger Company, bringing the second supermarket to "The Point." Adeline Dress Shop, Singer Sewing Center and many others are expected to open soon.

This week's three store opening has given the Central Point Shopping Center a completely rounded merchandise market in time for Christmas business. Today's West Side News features two full pages of advertising, for the Kresge store, which is the largest and finest variety store on the West Side.

Kresges open at 9:30 a. m. Thursday with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Joseph E. Evans, 30, West Jefferson, died in Mt. Carmel Hospital Monday shortly after being buried when a 12-foot ditch in which he was working caved in over him. He was working on the trench to connect the sewer from his home under construction to the city's system.

Richard Young Is Charity Newsie Probationer

Richard M. Young, 2766½ W. Broad-st, has just joined the Charity Newsies as a probationary member, it was announced this week by President Sherman Babcock and Drive Chairman Fred Moritz.

This sale builds up a fund used to provide all-new clothing for boys and girls of school age who come from families in distress. They are outfitted during the winter from the organization's headquarters in Memorial Hall. All requests for help must be made by an adult; then the Newsies investigate the validity of the request. Flood Warning—

Annual Deluge Of Silver Dollars Due On Hilltop

There's a silver flood about ready to hit the Hilltop area, according to the storm warning issued from The Hilltop Record office this week. The flood, though, will not be of a destructive nature, but on the other hand will be one that is usually weathered by Hilltop merchants at this time every year.

It's the flood of silver dollars that flows from the employes of The Hilltop Record into the coffers of the Hilltop merchants when the newspaper plant employes are paid their weekly wages in silver dollars.

Started a number of years ago as an experiment to determine just how far the money spent by Record employes traveled about the Hilltop, the idea has held on and the tradition established of paying off in silver dollars at the beginning of each holiday season.

Some of the merchants report that even as much as six months later they still find the silver dollars coming into their tills as a result of being passed around the community.

Another custom too, is that for every silver dollar returned to the Hilltop Record office until Jan. 1 the Record will grant a full year's subscription.

So the storm warning is out and Hilltop merchants can be prepared for the silver flood which will flow again this Friday.

Bowling Classes For Youngsters Are Planned

Upon conclusion of the school it is the plan of the Recreation Department to organize regular bowling leagues for youngsters of the above ages.

West High School Choir will present its annual Christmas Concert Dec. 7, 3 p. m., in the West High Auditorium. It will be assisted by the senior beginning girls' chorus, which will sit in the center balcony. To the music of "Silent Night," the robed choir will form a lighted processional down the center aisle. There is no admission charge, but a free will offering will be taken.

Dec. 14 the choir will travel to Central High auditorium for the annual all-city festival, which will be at 3 p. m. There are five senior high schools participating in the program which will close with a mass choir presentation directed by Kenneth Keller, City Supervisor.

Back Seat Driver

With all her faults, the back-seat driver at least has enough interest in life to look ahead.

Coming or Going?

Another advantage of the streamlined car is that you can often get by with parking it on the wrong side of the street.

Local Leaders In Polio Drive

Newly appointed colonels and co-colonels for the forthcoming "Mothers' March on Polio," scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 29, between 7 and 8 p. m., have been named by Mrs. Benton Dempsey, 333 S. Cassingham-rd, and Mrs. Howard Lloyd, 126 N. Eureka-av, co-chairmen of the "Mothers' March" in Franklin County.

The "Mothers' March" will be a new feature of the 1953 March of Dimes. The Franklin County Polio Chapter estimates it will take 16,000 volunteer workers to make the Mothers' March a success. This new fund-raising technique is a departure from the month-long house-to-house campaign conducted in past years. It concentrates all home soliciting into one hour of one night. The entire community will be alerted to turn on a porch light, tie a handkerchief on the door know or indicate in some other way that the polio worker is welcome to stop and pick up a contribution. All volunteers will be assigned homes in their immediate neighborhoods as much as possible. If the Polio Chapter gets the 16,000 workers it needs, no person will have more than 10 homes to visit.

Mrs. Dempsey and Mrs. Lloyd, the co-chairmen, said that the chief reason for adopting the Mothers' March technique is to encourage more women to take part in the annual drive. In past years, almost 4,000 volunteers devoted many hours of their spare time to the polio cause. Many others wanted to contribute their services but just couldn't spare the time required to visit all the homes in their assigned territory. The Mothers' March will give everyone an opportunity to join the fight against polio because it will require only one hour of one night to complete all solicitations.

Volunteers are urgently needed. All persons willing to devote one hour of one night to this March on Polio are urged to call the colonel in their immediate neighborhood, or telephone the Franklin County Polio Chapter at Fletcher 2615, and enlist in the "Mothers' March on Polio."

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Editor, Hilltop Record
Columbus, Ohio
Mr. Editor:

This article is two-fold in purpose: one is a proposal to all veterans' organizations (on the Hilltop); the second is to the editor of The Hilltop Record.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3441, located at 2393½ W. Broad-st (your Hilltop VFW Post), has shown its own good faith in the proposal that I now make all veterans' organizations on the Hilltop, by changing its meeting nights from the first and third Friday to the second and fourth Friday of each month, so that veterans who are members of both can attend the meetings of the Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion.

Here is my proposal, addressed to the Commanders of all veterans' organizations (on the Hilltop): I propose that they set up a veterans' council (on the Hilltop). The purpose of such council would be to present to the community organizations of the Hilltop and to the city and county, the united thinking of the combined veterans on the Hilltop.

I propose that this council be made up of equal representation from each veterans' organization on the Hilltop, irrespective of its membership strength, viz. one delegate and one alternate from each veterans' group and that this group elect their own officers to conduct the work of the joint council of veterans, each year; each veterans' group select their own representatives to the council, either by popular vote or by the commander delegating them to serve for the period that he is commander, each year.

It is my belief that this council, if it functions as it should, would make it possible for all veterans' organizations to take a more active and intelligent part in the community affairs of this community and that all participation in Hilltop civic events, by the veterans' organizations, would then be a united veterans' effort.

To my friend, the editor, I propose that, if and when such Council becomes a reality on the Hilltop, he invite this Council to sponsor a section in The Hilltop Record, each week, set aside and dedicated to veterans' affairs and that it carry the by-line or heading, The Voice Of The Veteran.

Each veteran group on the Hilltop should be urged to furnish the publicity chairman of the Joint Veterans' Council with such things as their meeting dates, their Post programs each week, who their officers are and what their legislative program is, with the thought in mind that the publicity chairman of the Council will condense all these into a real veterans' column and send it to the editor of The Hilltop Record each week, thus informing all veterans and the community, of all veterans' affairs in this community.

Respectfully yours,
THE OLD SARGE

Dear Mr. Hartley:

I wish to thank you and Mr. McComb for the lovely floral gift and the sentiment represented.

You may rest assured that I consider this a memorabe honor, and my only wish is that I should share it with the four hundred workers who made the success of the campaign possible.

Kindly convey my thanks to Mr. McComb of the Rosebud Floral Company and my best wishes to The Hilltop Record staff.

Respectfully yours.
Mrs. W. B. Spence

Dear Editor:

The dedication of the Gospel Jewel Tabernacle at 381 E. Whittier-st Sunday afternoon was a great success. We had a large crowd and a wonderful service. The Lord was there.

We do praise the Lord for the group of wonderful people who made it possible to have this large beautiful tabernacle for the Lord's work.

Especially we do thank the following florists for their beautiful donations of flowers: Rainbow Flower Shop, 8 E. Town-st; Vireck The Florist, 86 S. Fourth-st; Herbie Wolfe, Florist, 354 E. Whittier-st; Premier Floral Co., 1853 Parsons-av.

Also we thank O. R. Woodyard and Co. Funeral Directors, 1356 S. High-st, for the use of their flower stands. I'm sure God will bless each and every one.

Thanks also to the Ebenezer Choir and the Three Psalmists from Mt. Shiloh Baptist Church, and to all the other singers.

Gospel Jewel Tabernacle

There will be evangelistic services each night by Rev. H. E. Doderidge, pastor, with special music and singing each night. Everyone push the battle for the Lord.

A Hilltopper Sees—

Other Lands

Editor's Note: A Hilltop minister, Chester G. Stanley, 106 Eldon-av, who is pastor of Highland Avenue Friends Church, and his companion, Rev. Charles A. Metti, of Urbana Friends Church are now on a round-the-world missionary observance trip for their church. From time to time Rev. Stanley will drop communiques to the Hilltop Record reporting his observances of world conditions as seen by a Hilltopper abroad. The following is the first of the dispatches received from Rev. Stanley:

Enroute by "Clipper"
Approaching Wake Island

Dear Hilltoppers:

Greetings from the clouds, three miles above the Pacific Ocean. Everything is sunny, bright and beautiful.

Last night we visited another "Hilltopper." Imagine a minister from the west end of Columbus setting out to call on two of his members, 4700 miles from home. At least we made such a call last night on David Bill of 326 S. Richardson-av, who with "Bob" Reed of 333 S. Richardson-av, are stationed at Pearl Harbor with the coast guard.

Then try to imagine again—a church member waiting three hours in the middle of the night for his pastor to call. Our plane was delayed three hours in Los Angeles and we were three hours late arriving in Honolulu—but those boys stayed right by the gate and were there to greet me.

Arriving in Hawaii in the dark of the night left us without many of the beautiful views the island of Oahu has to offer, but the breeze, weather and waving palms we did find there, made us aware that it is a place of beauty and wonderful weather.

We'll endeavor to write the Record from some place in Japan next. We'll be landing in a few minutes at Wake Island and the next stop will be Tokyo. We turned our watches ahead 24 hours this a. m. having completely lost Wednesday at the international dateline.

Sincerely
Chester G. Stanley

"Shampoo" Washing Action
WITH EXCLUSIVE "CENTRIC" AGITATION
...the BIG DIFFERENCE between
A.B.C-O-Matic
and ALL other automatic washers

Yes, it's ABC-O-MATIC's new and amazing washing action! Begins like a shampoo, with only a little water, and the full amount of soap (or detergent). Produces a rich, creamy "lather" that quickly looses dirt. Everything—from daintiest fabrics to dirty work or play clothes—comes out clean and fresh from ABC's exclusive "shampoo" washing action.

CLEANER WASHINGS
You've never seen clothes washed so white, nor colors so bright. ABC's unique agitator gently flexes the clothes in turbulent, soapy suds, getting every stitch really clean. No twist, no stretch, no strain.

"SPIN-AIRE" DRYING
Now "Spin-Aire" drying removes all free water from the clothes... damp-dries them soft, fluffy, wrinkle-free... without snarling or tangling.

BETTER RINSINGS
Three wonderful spray and flush-away rinsings carry all dirt and scum up and out of the tub. Dirt hasn't a chance to settle back into the clothes.

EXCLUSIVE Centric Agitator gives you unbelievably efficient washing—rinsing—drying action.

Let us show you why A.B.C-O-Matic is your best buy.

When you give a Hamilton

...you give hours, and hours, and hours of Priceless free-time

Why not a present for the whole household this Christmas... a present that frees Mother from all clothesline work and washday weather-worry forever? Why not let everybody in the family "chip in" and get a Hamilton Clothes Dryer for Christmas—on easy, convenient terms? That way, you can give all those personal, "Christmasy" gifts, too, because buying the Hamilton won't disturb your Christmas budget! We've a beautiful Special Gift Certificate... just the thing if you want to make the deal a delightful surprise. Stop in, see the amazing Hamilton in action, and let's talk it over!

Hamilton dull-dries clothes indoors... in minutes, not hours... gently... any time, day or night, with no cold or weather-worry. Cuts ironing week's way down. Tumbles the clothes in healthful, ultra-violet light rays, freshens them with pure ozone, fluff-dries them beautifully. Protects clothes from electronic hazards, too, and from one of washday's hardest jobs and biggest worries.

Architect's perspective drawing of the new Kresge Store opening Thursday with a ribbon cutting ceremony at 9:30 a. m. in Central Point Shopping Center, Harrisburg-pk and W. Mound-st. New type see-through window separates the two four-door stainless steel entrances. The neon-lighted sign over the fixed canopy spells out the store name in block letters five feet high.

Just before the Christmas season gets into full swing, the S. S. Kresge Co. will open its store Thursday in the new Central Point Shopping Center, Harrisburg-pk and W. Mound-st. Gala festivities will mark the introduction, said Store Manager Alfred E. Chapman.

The store will remain open until 9 p. m. each day during a three-day celebration and visitors will receive favors such as cosmetics and nursery baby prints, he said.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony at 9:30 a. m. Thursday will officially open the doors of the ultra-modern variety store.

Keyed in design to be both functional and eye-appealing the store features an 18-stool deluxe lunch-eon fountain, air conditioning, and daylight-bright fluorescent coupled with the center's parking facilities for 1200 cars.

Over 1,000 lineal feet of counters are devoted to variety merchandise, including nationally advertised brands, handled by the most modern Kresge stores. Departments cover such needs as infants' wear, boys' and men's wear, household specialties, hardware, lamp-and-shade, and toys, as well as favorite five-and-ten-cent notions and novelties.

For tired and hungry shoppers there is a modern luncheon fountain where customers may refresh themselves with plate luncheons, sandwiches, salads, complete dinners and light refreshments. The fountain is designed to meet the most exacting health requirements and is equipped with the latest stainless steel fixtures.

Brilliant ceiling illumination, up-to-date counters and wall covering help produce the atmosphere of a modern, progressive retail store.

Walls are covered with a smartly-patterned plastic material, similar in appearance to wall paper, with the advantage of being washable as well as decorative. Its contemporary pattern was especially designed for the S. S. Kresge Co. for use in Kresge Stores.

Counters along the wide aisles are covered with vinyl and trimmed with solid walnut.

Continuous rows of fluorescent lights illuminate the entire salesroom. Daylight brightness is accentuated by illuminated and mirrored shelving on the side walls.

Store offices and employees lounge are at the rear of the store.

The basement is utilized for storage of merchandise. To reduce manual handling a dumbwaiter is used to move merchandise from the basement to the salesfloor to replenish stock on the counters. Merchandise coming into the store from the freight trucks is received by a conveyor.

The new store's exterior is trim and symmetrical in design with a facade of contrasting shades of green and buff glazed tile.

In the center of the store, a large see-through glass panel almost to grade level allows passers-by to view the activity within the store.

Show windows are trimmed with stainless steel and have a base of vitreous enamel on steel. A fixed metal canopy extends seven feet over the sidewalk the length of the store front and for 38 feet on each side. Recessed lighting in its ceiling gives attractive illumination.

Front and rear entrances are provded for the store. Two four-door stainless steel entrances face the gigantic parking lot, and a two-door entrance has been installed in the rear where the store is identified by a V-shaped neon-lighted vertical sign.

Like all the company's new stores, the Central Point Shopping Center store represents the latest in over a half-century of Kresge merchandising. Construction work took ten months to complete. Supts. T. P. Dinsmore and W. J. Hotter-shaw represented the Kresge construction department on the job.

Kresge Manager

Alfred E. Chapman

Alfred E. Chapman is store manager of the new Kresge's opening Thursday in Central Point Shopping Center. He comes from Buffalo, N.Y., where he had been managing another Kresge store.

With the company 12 years, Chapman is well acquainted with all phases of store merchandising. He started as a stockman in a store in Erie, Pa., and has assisted in the management of six different Kresge stores.

His training took him to stores in Cleveland and Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Erie, Pa., Lockport and Buffalo, N.Y.

As a local representative of the S. S. Kresge Co. Chapman can draw on the resources of Kresge's territorial superintendent, his district manager and the nation-wide organizaton of the Kresge Company to see that shoppers in this area receive the most up-to-date variety store merchandise available.

Steel Erection At Westinghouse Plant On Schedule : :

By the end of October, 3,572 tons of structural steel had been erected out of the 10,500 tons that will make up the shell of the new Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division plant on the Hilltop, it was reported today by E. L. Smith, works manager. He reported the fabrication is on schedule and that if normal winter prevails the work on the steel structure of the building will be completed by Feb. 1. While the structural steel is being erected, roofing, siding and concrete flooring are being done in completed sections of the 45-acre building on W. Broad-st. In January, Smith expects to begin moving equipment into the partially completed structure and in the same month temporary offices will be opened in the plant building. Westinghouse currently expects to produce components for jet engines in the new plant as well as electric household refrigerators. (Westinghouse Photo)

From my window — the top of The Tower rising from the fog/smoke . . . my trees over across the street, no leaves but still lovely against the sky (the state claims the trees in the State Hospital yard but they're still mine) . . . three squirrels that live in the tree next door, and a rabbit, address unknown, all happily unaware of how lucky they are they are city folks; not country cousins, during open season . . . teen-agers passing, enthusiastic about ball games . . . little boys passing, enthusiastic perlod . . . cars, trucks and busses passing, some much too speedily . . . where is everyone going in such a hurry?

It takes all kinds—she is a dear, uncomplaining little lady who wrote her heart out to me because she lost the one person in the world she loved, not because she wanted to complain but to "explain" why she had to tell somebody all about her loneliness and grief. She thought that I, a stranger, would understand. I do. She asked me not to mention her name because people might think she wanted sympathy. Most of us know how much it helps sometimes, just to "tell somebody." We all need a safety valve occasionally; that does not necessarily mean we want sympathy—though sympathy is good. Understanding is better and possibly more constructive, I dunno.

Heard on radio and tv—Walter Phillips (WLW) had been telling about a friend of his who had run for an office during the recent campaign and after a lot of words about it he said "After this show, I might have to run for the city limits"... Dave Wilson (WTVN), "I took so many pills to steady my nerves that they got so steady I couldn't move"... Local station commercial: "The millinery department will be on the second floor and their aim is to always have latest word in women's hats at appalling prices"... A voice (station unidentified) telling of "fluffs" made on radio told of an announcer describing a celebration: "All the shops are closed. The streets are decked with flags and at night the village squire is illuminated."

From somewhere—When Calvin Coolidge was president he took a visitor to one of the smaller rooms in the White House and showed him a portrait. The picture, an incredibly poor likeness of the President, held the visitor in a spellbound silence. Afraid of being impolite, the visitor said nothing, waiting for the President to break the silence. Mr. Coolidge finally snapped off the light and gently closed the door, saying "So do I."

Other vice principals who accompanied Miss Ganson on this trip were Genevieve Griffith of Central High School, Elsie Grove from South, Marian Thomas from Bexley, and Harriett Dieter from Barrett Junior High School.

Boston Mass. — John Kelley, a Boston Fireman, recently enjoyed a lucky day. First, he went to a race track, bet on a horse, called "The Winner," and won $9.40. Then he dropped into a tavern and won a waltz contest and the prize—a bottle of champagne. When he arrived home, he learned he had won the major prize in a raffle—a model home, valued at $40,000, completely equipped.

Hilliards School News

FILM SHOW
By Don Griffith

A film, "The Inside Story," was shown Wednesday, Nov. 26, at Hilliards High School on the effects of tuberculosis and how the germ gets into the body. It also explained how the body may fight back until it is weakened by overwork, play, or other means of running the body down.

The main message of the film was to tell how the chest x-rays help find people with tuberculosis because three out of four people with active tuberculosis don't know they have it or are not in the hospital for treatment.

TRI-HI-Y
By Sharon Hobbs

The Hilliards High School Tri-Hi-Y Club met on Nov. 21. They held their regular business meeting and devotion. Sharon Hobbs was in charge of devotions.

There was a panel discussion led by Doris Brown. The panel members were Caroiyn Daniels, Mary Jane Slagle; Nancy Ridenour and Billie Ann Orr. They discussed honesty, scholarship, respect for property and being a good friend. The whole group then questioned the panel.

Later, Patty Hart gave a very colorful report about the 49th annual Hi-Y youth conference held recently in Athens.

DRIVING ASSEMBLY
By Edward Green

"How Big is a Dime?" was the theme of a "Safety While Driving" assembly held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 25, for the juniors and seniors of Hilliards High School.

W. W. Morse, a graduate of Heidelberg College at Tiffin, O., was the guest speaker. A film was shown entitled "Borrowed Power." It was about how dangerous an automobile can be and the proper control of it.

After the film all the students went outside to the road where a demonstration took place. The purpose of the demonstration was to show just how long it takes to stop a car going at various rates of speed and how we react in case of danger. A specially equipped 1951 Pontiac was used for the test.

Two driving education students and two teachers took the test. They were Keith Repp, Gail De Wolfe, Mr. Harsh and Mr. Yocum, the drivers education teacher. Gail DeWolfe and Keith took the test going at a rate of 20 miles an hour and the two teachers took the test going at a rate of 30 miles an hour. The test proved that they were all able to think fast and had their car under good control.

Many people say that they can stop on a dime. This demonstration proved that a dime is much bigger than we think it is. The smallest dime is 40 feet long.

The American Automobile Association is responsible for these demonstrations and talks.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING
By Don Griffith

The senior class of Hilliards High School held a class meeting on Nov. 24, the fifth period. The meeting was brought to order by President Bill Murphy.

The main purpose was to decide whether or not the seniors wanted to wear caps and gowns for graduation. It was decided to wear caps and gowns; the girls are to wear white and the boys dark blue.

Also discussed during the meeting was the annual. Editor Bob Kent reported that if we wanted an embossed or raised cover we would have to make some more money to pay for it.

A "Ways and Means" committee, Bob Kent, Russell Snyder, Bill Clampitt, Leona Brown, Patty Hart and Carolyn Daniels were appointed to look into the possibilities of making [illegible].

Bob Kent also reported on the [illegible]ess of the annual.

BOX SOCIAL HELD

A box social was held Friday, Nov. 21, at the Hilliards Elementary School. Following a concert given by the mixed chorus and band the boxes were auctioned off. The newly-formed Hilliards High School dance band played for the cake walk, where 18 cakes were given away. Milton Hall's orchestra played for the square dance which followed. In progress in the auditorium was a card party. Everyone had a fine time. Proceeds will be used by the music department for new instruments.

Thursday, Nov. 20, the Hilliards band officers, Lowell Johnson, Bill Upperman, Joan Woodin and Jack Chenowith, attended a television show on WLW-C to advertise for the box social.

HI-Y MEETS
By Dave McDowell

The third meeting of the Hilliards Hi-Y Club was called to order by Ronald Rogers. After the formalities of the meeting were over, a brief discussion on a scrap drive took place. Committees were also appointed for the scrap drive.

QUEEN OF QUEENS
By Nancy Donley

On Friday night, Nov. 21, the "Queen of Queens Contest" was held at the RKO Palace.

There were 22 lovely contestants from Columbus and Franklin County high schools entered in this contest.

It was a hard job to judge from these girls but the following were chosen: third, Sherrie Phillips, representing South High School; second, Bettye Grooms from Hilliards High School; and the Queen of Queens from North High School, Mollie Warren.

The judges were representatives from Madisons, the Nell House and the Union.

Each of the contestants received an orchid and had a wonderful banquet at the Nell House before the contest.

The winners received a pair of tickets to the Ohio State-Michigan game and the queen received a Bulova wristwatch.

Burgess EUB Junior Choir To Inaugurate Christmas Season Sun.

The Senior and Junior High Youth Fellowships, assisted by the Junior Choir, (pictured above) will inaugurate the Christmas season at Burgess Avenue E. U. B. Church by sponsoring a "Christmas Sing" this Sunday evening at 7:30 in the church auditorium.

In addition to the congregational singing of traditional Christmas carols, special vocal numbers will be presented by Danny Grant, Florence Compton, Janet and Janice Harvey and Mrs. Dale Baughman.

The service will be concluded by showing the Cathedral Film "Holy Night," a completely new approach to the story of the Nativity, starting with the prophecy in the Old Testament, and including prophesies of the Messiah, the Announcement to Mary, her visit to Elizabeth, the journey to Bethlehem, the shepherds in the fields, and the manger scene itself.

The public is invited to attend.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice This Sunday.

THE Evening Altar

This is an evening altar in an American home—a spot where the tensions of today are resolved into new life for tomorrow.

If you think that such an altar is out of place, you had better examine the routine of your own life more carefully. Perhaps you need this altar in your life more than you think you do.

These are days of tremendous action for us all, when we rush from one task to the next. Just "getting through" today often leaves us little time for thoughts of tomorrow. Before we know it, a year, two years, ten years have passed. Are we any farther on the road to our goals?

Our answer lies in the evening altar. It is the one place each day where an individual can measure his course against God's word in the Bible. For on almost every page is a moral for today, a thought for tomorrow . . .

Your altar need not be as elaborate as this. Its form is unimportant. But if you form the habit of reading your Bible daily, it will soon become apparent that a happy life is not only lived, but planned for you in the pages of your Bible.

Consecrate yourselves today to the Lord; that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day. —Ex. 32:29

Armstrong, concerning again voting on whether to have a PTA organization or a PTO which was adopted in the Alton and Galloway schools in past years. One hundred thirty-seven were present and results of secret balloting disclosed that 109 desired to have a PTA, as opposed to 28 desiring a PTO.

Cowboys Whip Bexley 66-49

West High School's cage squad opened its home schedule Tuesday night by taking an unimpressive win over an outclassed Bexley quintet by a score of 66-49.

The contest was marred by poor passing and ball handling on the part of both teams.

Jerry Trabue again led the point parade with 18 tallies.

Friday night the Cowboys will tangle with the East High Tigers on the home court in the city league opener.

The Tigers, defending City League champions, will depend on All City League forward Braxton as their chief point producer, while the Cowboys' main hopes depend on the shooting of Jerry Trabue.

West High News

By Gayle Acker

The 12B class will hold the "Senior Mixer" on Dec. 6, in the gym of West High School. There will be plenty to eat, fun, music and square and round dancing.

The West High Cowboys start their basketball season off by playing Bexley Tuesday, and East Friday in their own gym. Good luck to the boys on the team and make this a good year for the Cowboys.

The G.A.A. held its Christmas Party at school on Dec. 3. The Program Chairman, Gayle Acker, and the G.A.A. council planned a delightful time for all. Cookies and punch were served and the 11th grade G.A.A.'s gave a skit. Shirley Dunham, a G.A.A. alumna, played the role of Santa Claus and gave each of the girls a surprise.

ADORATION OF THE MAGI . . . This Nativity scene was painted by Beuvenuto di Giovanni (1436-1518) of Siena, Italy, and hangs in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. It is one of many famous "adoration" scenes painted by artists of all nationalities.

County Health Officer Advocates Anti-Tuberculous Program Here

An anti-tuberculous program in Franklin County that would pay for itself in a few years and save taxpayers millions in the future was advocated today by Dr. O. M. Goodloe, Columbus health commissioner.

"We've either greatly reduced the mortality or driven the disease almost completely out of the community in the case of typhoid fever, smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria and whooping cough," Dr. Goodloe added, "and we could do the same for tuberculosis."

Tuberculosis is an exceedingly expensive disease, as indicated by the 1952 budget of the Benjamin Franklin (tuberculosis) Hospital of $1,204,000 exclusive of depreciation and all but routine maintenance costs. The Columbus Tuberculosis Society, a casefinding agency, has a budget of $84,010; and the Columbus Health Department will spend $12,652 on nursing care involving tuberculosis. In addition, the county welfare department will expend a sizeable sum as assistance to tuberculosis sufferers and their families.

But that's only the public cost met by taxpayers' money. Each individual is at greater or lesser expense, and there is a huge loss in production.

The National Tuberculosis Association estimates each tuberculosis case costs somebody $15,000, and that each will infect nine others with whom he has contact.

Dr. Goodloe favors two methods of attacking the disease, based on a history of economy and effectiveness. One would be for each hospital in the community to institute a routine chest x-ray procedure for each admission regardless of ailment. The other would be for the Health Department to employ additional nurses to serve newly-found cases and an investigating staff to trace each active case of the disease to all its contacts for examination against infection. Enforced isolation of every known case would follow its discovery.

In Wisconsin, where 22 hospitals have installed the routine x-ray procedure, one found 40 cases of pulmonary tuberculosis per 1,000 examined, nearly four times that found in the average adult population. Also more patients were admitted who did not know they were tuberculous than those who did.

Health Department statistics indicate between 1,375 and 1,412 cases of active tuberculosis within Franklin County, with less than a fourth of this number under treatment. That leaves approximately 1,000 cases at large in the community spreading the infection, most of them unmindful of their menance.

Hilltop Should Have a Councilman

A number of men from this community have presented themselves for consideration by the Republican committee for the vacancies on city council.

At this point we are definitely concerned about one thing: This community should be represented when these council vacancies are filled.

It is felt that the man to be selected should be a business man and one who has been successful enough in handling his own affairs that he would quality without a doubt to handle the city business.

A corporation doing over 20 million dollars worth of business a year should have a board of directors made up of qualified business men.

More Honors Given West Grid Duo; Trabue, Thomas Picked Ohio All-Stars

Jerry Trabue

Aurelius Thomas

Two of West High's outstanding athletes reaped more honors during the past week when it was revealed that they had been awarded team berths on the All-Ohio all-star team and would play on the South team in the annual All-Ohio North-South football classic to be held at Canton on Aug. 14, 1953.

Jerry Trabue, stellar kicking specialist and end of the West High Cowboys, and Aurelius "Tommy" Thomas, line busting tackle of the Cowboys were accorded the honor earlier this week.

The board of directors of the Ohio High School Coaches Association met in Columbus over this past week-end to name the head coaches for the annual football classic and the AllStars. The Southerners selected 25 players, 20 from the top three teams of the Associated Press All-Ohio, while the Northerners picked 23, of whom 14 were on the AP All-Star outfit. Canton, as the host city, is permitted to name two players to round out the Northern Squad.

The selections were made by ballots cast by all members of the coaches association.

Selected to coach the teams in the summer classic are Chuck Mather of Massillon for the North and Jim McDonald of Springfield for the South. Both coaches selected had teams which won ten straight victories this past fall.

Thomas and Trabue operating at tackle and end in the classic will be operating with one of the best dream backfields in recent years in Ohio. Two of the state's top scoring halfbacks will be behind them in the persons of Hubert Bobo of Chauncey-Dover and Carl Smith of Washington C. H.; at fullback will be Lee Williams of Springfield and Bob Lilienthall of Cambridge.

Former HBA Proxy Honored By Calif. American Legion

Dr. John W. Cratt, former president of the Hilltop Business Association who is now a resident in California, was recently cited as the outstanding local citizen by Modesto (Calif.) Post 74 of the American Legion.

Cratt was chosen because of his "unselfish work" in community projects and his interest in youth and their programs."

The honor called the American Legion outstanding citizenship award is presented annually.

Fire Emergency Squad Halts Franklin Runs

Residents of Franklin Township were being advised this week by the Prairie Township Fire Department that the latter, effective as of this date, will not give any more emergency squad service.

Chief John R. Richards this week said that the reason for the discontinuance was the fact that Franklin Township trustees have advised that they are unable to reimburse Prairie Township for making the emergency runs. Richards pointed out that costs of such a run amounted to approximately $10 and that in the past few years the Prairie Township trustees have paid for the runs into Franklin Township.

Discontinuance of the runs into Franklin Township by the Rome emergency squad will be effective until such time as the two townships can operate on a reciprocal basis, with Franklin Township having an emergency squad of its own, Fire Chief Richards said.

Alkire Named HBA Leader

At its annual Christmas party and election in Glenwood Methodist Church Tuesday night the Hilltop Business Association named Jack Alkire of the Economy Variety Store, 2402 W. Broad-st, as president for the next year.

Other officers named were Dr. Fred Marsch, first vice president; Bill Coon, second vice president; Robert Kneisley, treasurer, and Robert Edgar, Joe Briggs and Lou Rausch, trustees.

Ag. Society Names Four New Directors

Four new directors for the next year were named by Franklin County Agricultural Society last Saturday in an election held at the Hilliards Fire House.

Named in the balloting were Leon Boucher, Ray Dellinger and Arch A. Alder of Hilliards and Carl Griffith of Columbus.

Camp Chase Post Nears National Citation Status

Commander Roger H. Myers of Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion announces the successful conclusion of the second stage of the posts membership drive with 551 members paid up for 1953, thus exceeding the post's quota of 543. The last stage of this year's membership drive will end on Dec. 31 at which time he is hoping to exceed last year's total paid membership of 573 and the all-time high of 600.

If both goals are reached Camp Chase Post 98 will receive national citations for each.

Camp Chase Post has made its headquarters available to the Kiwanis Club for the check-in station station for their annual Christmas paper sale.

Commander Myers also announced that the regular meeting of Friday, Dec. 19, has been suspended in order to hold the Post's annual Christmas party for the Kiddies of the Post and Auxiliary members. This party as in the past is under the direction of Past Commander John Martindale who has arranged for Santa Claus to be there to interview the kiddies.

Valleyview Gas Rate Hike Voted

The new rate, effective for four years, is $1 for the first 1000 cubic feet and 60 cents for each additional 1000 cubic feet, with a $1 minimum monthly charge.

The ordinance is the same as the one passed by Bexley, Upper Arlington and Grandview Heights.

Post Office Seeks Public Aid In Speeding Up The Christmas Mail

Anticipating a deluge of Christmas mail at the Hilltop Branch Postoffice, Ray Anderson, superintendent of the local branch this week appealed to the people of the Hilltop to cooperate in a plan that will speed up and facilitate the delivery of Christmas mail and packages.

The postoffice this week was distributing small facing slips that can be attached to bundles of cards by those mailing large quantities of such cards. The facing slips read 'Local" and "Out of Town." Their purpose is to speed mail distribution and delivery by cutting down on the time used in sorting at the postoffice.

Anderson pointed out that when a bundle of cards comes into the postoffice with the small slips attached, the men know immediately how to handle that particular bundle and that the cards will be speeded on their way much quicker, than if they had to be sorted. The "Local" sticker is for cards in the Columbus area but it was pointed out that the local mail could move faster yet if the sender would separate the local mail by putting all mail that goes into Zone 4 in one package and label it Zone 4 and other mail in other Columbus areas in a package bearing the sticker as it now appears.

Anderson expressed the hope that all Christmas parcels would be mailed before this week-end but passed along these tips to the tardy so that their packages would receive quicker handling: (1) Parcels with destinations beyond the third parcel post zone are limited to 20 pounds in weight. (2) Parcels going into the first two parcel post zones cannot weigh more than 40 pounds, and, (3) the size of any package must not exceed a total of 72 inches, which is length plus girth.

Special delivery or air mail are also urged in order to speed up the movement of the parcel post packages, Anderson said. He pointed out that special delivery charge is 20 cents for all first class matter and that air mail rates are six cents per ounce.

The facing slips can be secured from your mail carrier or at the Hilltop branch post office and Anderson added that all mail destined for delivery between Central-av and 5500 W. Broad-st and Trabue-rd and Briggsdale-rd which is Zone 4 if tied into a bundle with the "Local" facing slip and marked Zone 4 in addition would receive almost immediate delivery because of the elimination of two sortings.

Santa Coming To West High Party Of Band Parents

Santa Claus will be among the guests Wednesday evening, Dec. 17, at the annual Christmas party of the West High School band parents.

The event is scheduled at 8 p. m. at the school, with Mrs. Paul Nippert of 263 S. Roye-av, as chairman.

Old Saint Nick will distribute presents to the band and orchestra members, and will show movies for the smaller children. Round and square dancing will be enjoyed by the elders.

The annual Yuletide party, sponsored by the band parents, is presented for the families and members of the junior and senior school bands, and the orchestra.

More Hilltop Hats In Ring For Council

At least four more Hilltop men have signified their willingness to accept a place in city council it was revealed this week.

Names most prominently mentioned throughout the business section of the Hilltop this week were W. E. Ferguson, 3048 Crescent-dr, Sam M. Alford, 236 N. Terrace-av, Jerry Spears, Jr., 2693 W. Broad-st, and Ed Schaedler of the West Hill Furniture Co., Oakley and Broad-st.

An earlier newspaper story stated that Jerry Spears, Jr., was considered to have the inside track in the running but reports from the Franklin County Republican headquarters this week were to the effect that no definite selections have been made and an announcement of the appointments will not be made until after Christmas.

A move to seek support for Ferguson was started early this week and numerous residents of the community have signed petitions asking that he be given consideration for the post. Their claim is that Ferguson is best qualified in view of the fact that he has had far more business experience than any of the other men seeking the post.

Sam Alford, well known on the Hilltop and West Side, is considered by local people to be a good choice in view of his wide acquaintance and the fact that he is making a definite study of city problems in an effort to be prepared for the post should he be appointed.

Leo Phillips has expressed a desire for the post but is not actively conducting a campaign for it.

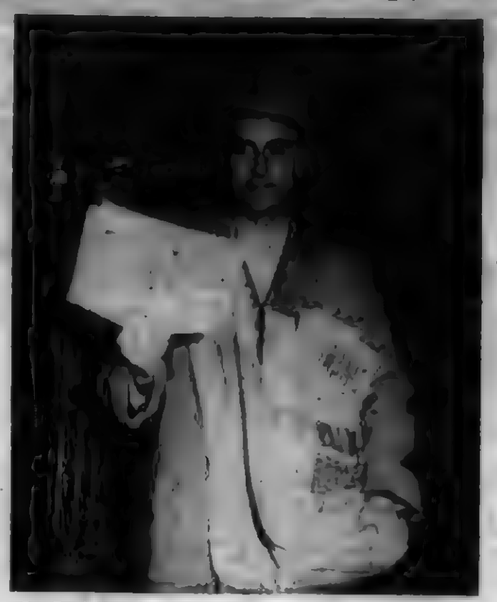
Early Edition For Dec. 25; All Deadlines Are Advanced



Inasmuch as the date of Dec. 25 is "Christmas Day" and there are no mail or other deliveries to be made on that date this newspaper will be delivered on Tuesday, Dec. 23, that week, two days earlier than usual.

As a result of the earlier press time and delivery date all deadlines for that week's edition have been advanced. All news copy, photos, etc., must be in the editorial offices no later than Saturday, Dec. 20, at noon in order to insure publication. The same deadline of Saturday noon will apply to all classified advertising.

All display advertising must be in the offices of this newspaper no later than 4 p. m. Friday, Dec. 19, while all church notices and church news stories must be in our offices by 5 p. m. Friday, Dec. 19.

All deadlines will be strictly observed and any matter arriving at the offices after the deadlines cannot be guaranteed publication in that week's edition.

Annual Kiwanis Christmas Newspaper Sale Gets Underway At 6 p. m. Thurs.

Dr. Fred Marsch, pictured above, is typical of the many business and professional men of the Hilltop who will become newsboys Thursday evening selling the Hilltop Kiwanis Christmas edition.

It's that time again . . . time for the annual Hilltop Kiwanis Club's annual Christmas newspaper sale when Kiwanians numbering 100 strong, along with many volunteer helpers to swell the newsboy sales group to approximately 250, will cover every territory in the Hilltop area.

Following a dinner served to all workers in the community project at West High School cafeteria at 6 p. m. Thursday night by the Kiwanikwe Club, the business men of the Hilltop from every profession will begin ringing doorbells selling this year's edition of the Kiwanis newspaper.

After the newspaper sale is completed the "Newsboys For a Day" will report back to the club rooms of Camp Chase American Legion Post at 3211 W. Broad-st for a turn-in of all moneys collected during the drive.

At noon Thursday the Kiwanians will depart from their usual method of holding a regular meeting and instead there will be the first copies of the Christmas edition sold at that time to the highest bidders. Auctioneer Clarence Latham will be on hand at the Thursday noon meeting to handle that chore.

The unusual feature of the meeting will be that numerous well known men from all over the city have been invited to the meeting and will be prepared to bid for the first copies of the newspaper. Kiwanian leaders hope that by this method of "kicking off" their annual newspaper sale they will be able to get off to a flying start.

Kiwanian officers this week asked that all Hilltoppers cooperate with them in their annual effort by leaving their porch lights on as a signal to the Kiwanian newsboys and their volunteer helpers that a newspaper is wanted. In this they have adopted a slogan "Lights on For the Youth of the Hilltop" for actually that it what the funds derived from the newspaper sale accomplish. They are used exclusively for the child welfare work of the organization.

Camp Fire Leaders Aid State School

By Pat Martindale

It's typical of the West District Camp Fire leaders that they met to lend a helping hand to the Columbus State School last week. This time they spent the day wrapping gifts for students of the school so that they too might enjoy the gaily wrapped packages and the surprises within. The day, however, was not all work because the Columbus State School Girls Choir entertained with several beautiful and impressive selections.

Present at the wrapping were Mrs. Catherine Rodar, chairman of the City-wide Leader Association; Virginia Hubert, field director; Mrs. Freda Ream, Mrs. Dorothy Haclor, Mrs. Pauline Cook, Mrs. Goldie Deys, Mrs. Worothy Whitlatch, Mrs. Lucille Gibson, Mrs. Almeda Rus, and Mrs. Eleanor Gaskill.

Mrs. Dorothy Whitlatch brought as gifts for the school, face cloth animals wrapped around face soap that had been made by her group of Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Freda Ream's group had made dainty sachets gifts for all of the women in one of the cottages at the school.

The entire theme of the day was in keeping with "Give Service" for the month of December. Besides giving service the object of the leaders getting together was to exchange ideas, guide relations of girls to leaders and groups to each other and maintain standards.

In addition to the service rendered at the Columbus State School this group of leaders and their groups have aided in many service projects throughout the year such as Civilian Defense, Ballot Battalion, United Appeals, Needleguild of America, filling stockings for veterans and providing gifts and entertainment for shut-ins, hospital patients and others.

The West District has provided leadership for a Camp Fire Group at the Columbus State School.

The next get-together of the West District Leaders will be in January at which time a pot-luck and handicraft session will be held.

At one time opals were shunned as a symbol of bad luck.

A Hilltopper Sees—

Other Lands

Editor's Note: A Hilltop minister, Chester G. Stanley, 106 Eldon-av, who is pastor of Highland Avenue Friends Church, and his co-pastor, Rev. Charles A. Matti, of Urbana Friends Church are now on a round-the-world missionary observance trip for their church. From time to time Rev. Stanley will drop communications to The Hilltop Record reporting his observances of world conditions as seen by a Hilltopper abroad. The following is the second of the dispatches received from Rev. Stanley:

Dear Hilltoppers:

Greetings from far-off Japan, the Land of the Rising Sun. This surely is a country of art and beauty. Almost everything seems to have the touch of the artist, whether it be the smallest vase of flowers or the greatest temple building. Native houses and their furnishings all bear that same mark of art.

We were privileged to ride one of Japan's fast express trains from Tokyo to Osaka, a distance of 320 miles, and all along the way were the marks of that same Japanese artistic touch. We passed rice fields and tea fields and great numbers of little vegetable fields. Fields so tiny that we of the States would call them gardens, but the greater difference comes in the labor side of these people. In 320 miles we saw only one little tractor. Work in the fields is largely done by woman and man power. Many of these fields are prepared while the soil is very wet and heavy. Rice is planted in hand prepared ground, worked by hand, harvested by hand, threshed by flail or tread power, screened by hand and carried by hand cart or oxcart to the place of drying. The very mark of burden bearing is written on the faces of those who work in the fields. We of America have so much for which to be thankful.

In the mighty cities, such as Tokyo, one finds the million masses of humanity. Subway trains, elevated trains and streetcars all packed until there isn't room for one more. Not uncommon at all during rush hours to see two station attendants at a single door trying to push the passengers into the train far enough to get the door closed. When you get to a station and think "now they will thin out," many get off, only to see many get on and even more try. How much we in America have for which to be thankful.

On the Hilltop we have our cars. West Broad is a busy place. Here in Tokyo there are many cars, but there are bicycles by the hundreds of thousands. Bicycles bearing two and sometimes three. Bicycles loaded with great packs or boxes on the back. Bicycles with trailers pulling heavy loads. Two bicycles hauling lumber between them. On and on the story might go. Your auto horn is going almost constantly for bicycles are darting out and about all the time.

In Columbus we have our churches, many of them, but here it is a heathen shrine or temple. The Great Budha at Kamakura is 43 feet high, and has been setting there amid earthquakes and time for more than 700 years. They have a saying: "Big Budha 43 feet high when sitting, but be reach heaven when standing up." The sad part of idol worship is that the Great Budha never stands up and therefore never reaches heaven. How much we of the Hilltop have for which to be thankful.

Sincerely,
Rev. Chester G. Stanley

HI-Y AND TRI-HI-Y
By James Trachsel

On Nov. 15, more than 350 delegates from the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs in the Ohio and West Virginia area met at Athens on the Ohio University campus. The day was full of instruction, eating and enjoyment. There were nine topic-discussions in which the delegates could participate, such as Post Graduation, Accepting Church Responsibilities, Building a Christian Personality, and others. At the evening banquet our own Patty Hart was toastmaster. Rev. Harrison, of the Boys' Industrial School, topped off the evening with an inspirational talk, "First and Ten."

FIELD TRIP TAKEN
By Joan Woodin

On Dec. 3 the sophomore home economics class of Hilliards High School visited the Hilliards Cold Storage Locker Plant. The girls were shown exactly how a beef is cut up into the various retail cuts of meat. This field trip was under the leadership of Miss Bell, student teacher in Home Economics from Ohio State University.

JUNIOR DRAMATICS
By Ronnie Patterson

Friday, Nov. 21, the Junior Dramatics Club of Hilliards High met in the auditorium with Bessie Echard presiding. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and the treasurer's report given, the club heard from a previously appointed committee on the club constitution. It was voted that a new constitution be drawn.

Next the club voted to get club pins. Plans were then made for a Christmas party at the next meeting.

The business meeting was closed and various skits were given.

Louisa Potts gave a very fine recitation of "Casey At The Bat."

WHITE ELEPHANT SALE
By Dick Jaylohn

Hilliards High School's seniors decided to hold a "White Elephant" sale as a means of financing the extra cost for special annual covers.

Bill Murphy, senior president, in charge of the meeting, appointed a special committee to go forward with plans for auctioning off gift wrapped mystery packages to the highest bidder. Announcement as to the time of the sale will be made later.

LUNCH SURVEY MADE
By Joan Woodin

The Hilliards High School lunch program will take first place in national interest during the second week of December. Since at this school lunch program at Hilliards will become a part of a national survey on the school lunch project. It is the only school in the state of Ohio participating in this survey.

Under the leadership of Mary Kohler, specially planned lunches will be served different proportions according the variations in nutritional requirements of boys and girls. The exact number of ounces of food, calories and vitamin content, must be planned and kept on record. Everything which comes back on plates will be weighed and recorded also.

Since noon lunches include one-third to one-half of a day's food requirement for most students, the school lunch program study is of importance to nearly all students.

School lunches are also a measure toward national security, because during 1949 and 1950 Ohio schools purchased six and one-half million dollars worth of food on their local markets to be served in school lunches. These lunches should be appealing, inviting, satisfying and very high in nutritive value.

Those who will assist Miss Kohler in checking will be Toni Murray, Alice Ray and Billie Ann Orr. Those who will help serve are Carole Yost, Dottie Spain and Joan Johnson. This project is sponsored by the Bureau of Human Nutrition, Washington, D. C.

Starling High Students Entered In School Press Essay Contest

Editor's Note: Elaine Downin, Diana Judy and Carole Hamler of Starling Junior High School have written and submitted essays for the school press contest in an anti-tuberculosis contest. To qualify they must show proof of publication in an accredited newspaper and' as a service to these embryo journalists their efforts are printed below.

WHAT TUBERCULOSIS MEANS TO ME
By Diana Judy

Tuberculosis is an acute or chronic disease which can attack any part of the body. it may attack the eye, the ear, the intestines, the kidneys, the larynx, the testicles, the joints and bones. The most commonly attacked organ is the lung which is known as pulmonary tuberculosis, phthisis or consumption.

This disease can be traced back to the New Stone Age about 10,000 years ago, before civilization started. The evidence is found through tuberculous bones which have been discovered.

The treatment consists largely of good diet, sufficient rest, and fresh air. The best place for you to get this right kind of treatment is in a tuberculosis sanatorium or hospital.

Nineteen-fifty-two has been our biggest tuberculosis year, with over 700 cases of tuberculosis found in this country during the 12-month period. The way for you to have lived of many people is to buy Christmas Seals. Christmas Seals pay for all the society's educational work and free X-ray programs.

Remember, every case found early means one life saved.

WHAT TUBERCULOSIS MEANS TO ME
By Elaine Downin

Tuberculosis, which is a disease that affects the lungs, is known as the Bad Air Disease. It is carried by the sicg person himself to others with whom he or she comes in close contact.

The best method for treating tuberculosis is rest in bed. This method is the one sure thing that can build good health again. Rest for the body, rest for the mind, and rest for the sick lung are all three winners against TB. Good food, which is another, will help fight TB. If it is a balanced diet. Some medicines are useful but can only be used if prescribed by a doctor.

TB germ killers outside the body are: (1) Sunlight will cure TB where cool, shady and moist places only help the germs to grow more; (2) Fire kills germs by the process of destroying all useless things; (3) Heat helps to destroy germs because boiled germs will hatch no TB.

Symptoms of TB are: (1) Sputum which is found in the person's cough, should be collected in tissue paper and put in a bag to be burned; (2) Night sweat; (3) Loss of appetite.

Climate has nothing to do with TB. People used to think that they had to go to a certain climate to get well, but your own state is as good as you will probably want to live in your own home.

In December 1906 the TB society was founded. This TB society is composed of a Board of Directors with 24 members.

Their job is to determine policies of organizations and carry them out. These officers and board of directors members are elected every April. Their salaries are paid by the money from Christmas Seals. It is a national organization and therefore they work with other countries toward the fight against T.B.

The Benjamin Franklin Hospital which has been established for people who have been afflicted with T.B., was founded in 1909. Later on in 1914 another building was added. A new building was added in 1920 and the latest in 1939. Another section is being added on the fourth floor for children ranking in ages six weeks to 14 years of age. It takes $2,500,000 per year in order to keep the hospital in good shape. The rate is $9.50 per person a day. This money is provided by the sale of Christmas Seals, taxes and some federal funds. The workers of the hospital are paid by taxes.

The people who live at the hospital have everything that any ordinary home would have. Those who are getting better are allowed in the occupational therapy. Here they are taught different trades, such as sewing, leather work, etc. They are allowed to go to church. Some are allowed to go to the recording room and play records or go to the library.

In the United States there are 400,000 T.B. patients, 40,000 of whom are sputum positive and living in homes. The death rate is [illegible]. In 1950 there were 436 new cases and 68 deaths. In 1951 there were 538 new cases. In eight months of 1952 there were 654 new cases.

TB CONTEST
By Carole Hamler

My story is not a very happy one but it is a fact. It was about two years ago, when I was 17. I was anxious to get out into the world and have fun. I stayed out late at night playing cards, dating or going on parties. Sometimes it was morning before I got into bed. As you can tell I didn't think of my health.

One day, I got out of bed earlier than usual. My mother was out on the lawn bathing our dog, Rust. She seemed to be having a hard time, so I said I would bathe him. Just as I started to bend over Rust was out of the tub and starting down the street. I started after him, but knowing I couldn't catch him I stopped.

About five minutes later, a handsome looking man came up to the door with Rust and asked if he belonged to me. Well this is the beginning of Dave. After that I went out with him steadily. He was attractive and I liked him very much. I finally knew he was the only one for me.

One day after coming home from a carnival, Dave saw one of his old friends standing in line at a tuberculosis X-ray truck. Dave took me over, and introduced me and his friend. He said, "Why don't you kids go in and get an X-ray made? It can't hurt much." So we did. They took our names and addresses and said they would notify us in about a week.

I got a letter saying I should go to my family doctor or to the Tuberculosis Clinic. I went to my doctor and he said I had a bad case of TB and I should go to the TB hospital.

When I got home Dave was there and I broke the news to him and he said I should go to the hospital to be cured. He promised to wait for me.

Now I am in the hospital. I've been in here for two years. Dave is still waiting for me. The doctor said I will be out in three or four months. I will be glad to be out and start over again.

SPEECH CONTEST

The Prince of Peace Declamation Contest will be held at the Westgate Methodist Church, 345 S. Brinker-av, Sunday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p. m.

Y-TEENS
By Faye Gann

The swimming pool, chapel, auditorium, gym and coral-reef room attracted much attention and interest from the sight-seers. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Dicks, adviser of Starling Y-Teens accompanied the girls.

MEDALLIONS SOLD
By Martha Bennett

During each lunch period Dec. 8, 9 and 10, Starling mothers sold Starling Medallions to the pupils in the cafeteria. The medallions have Starling colors, blue and white, and sold for 25 cents.

CREDIT TALK
By Sandra Redmon and Carol Rainey

Thursday, Dec. 4, 9B general business class had a talk on credit.

Miss Anne Price, a student teacher of Starling Junior High, told how important it is to have a good credit reputation. She has worked at the Credit Bureau of Columbus, one of three credit bureaus in our city, for three years.

The "Credit Bureau" has a record of all suits, and unpaid billis. When a person wants to open a charge account or get a loan the store calls the Credit Bureau and checks on him.

Character, capital and capacity are the three C's of credit. To secure credit one must fill out an application, requiring the applicant to answer many personal questions. The 9B class enjoyed her talk very much.

By Sue Shell

Starling's "White Christmas" will be held the afternoon of Dec. 19. The gifts will be for the boys and girls at the Columbus State School who will be unable to go home to celebrate Christmas.

GRADE CARDS
By Jackie Stamper

Monday, Dec. 1, 1069 Starling Junior High School pupils received their report cards for the second grading period. Stuffers on special classes in the Columbus Public Schools also were issued at this time, and sent home to the parents.

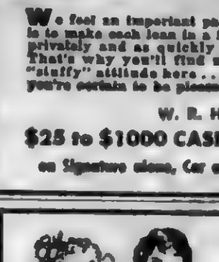
Glenwood GAC Elects

The Girls' Athletic Council of the Glenwood Recreation Center held an election of officers at the meeting on Dec. 1.

Alice Martin was elected president, Nancy Keen, vice-president, Ruth Heimpel, secretary, and Jane McIlyar, treasurer. Barbara Popp is the scribe for the council.

The club social chairman is Rita Smith. The social committee is composed of Carol Holley, Mary Ellen Sweetman, Sue Lindgren and Melinda Justice.

The council made plans for future activities for the girls' athletic program at the center.



The social committee is making plans for a Christmas party for the members of the council.

One way to express a true spirit of Thanksgiving for all of the blessings bestowed so bountifully upon us is to help someone who is not so fortunate as we.

The average American wants freedom for himself and his affairs, and stern governmental regulations for his competitors and creditors.

TO THE EXPLORERS

If Honor were a distant land
Fondly cherished but unfound,

A green uncharted isle or

That never could exist at all—
It would be worth the seeking still.

My favorite shutin has charge of publicity for the very worthy Christmas project of a teen-age girls' club, so of course I'm happy to help out. The girls, who number approximately 70, are from all sections of the city and they are all fans of the well-known local singer, Lyn Ballard. The project is the collection of toys for children in Children's Hospital. If you have any toys that are outgrown and in good condition, the girls will collect them on the 13th. The girls are all in school so Saturday is the only day they can collect the toys, which are needed for children of all ages. Lyn's girls are inviting other groups to join them in the project. If interested, call Dolores Burton, 658 E. Markison-av (GA. 0534) after 4:30 p. m. Dolores is president of the organization. The girls are sincere and enthusiastic in their desire to help the children, and should be encouraged by your cooperation. These girls may be called regarding the collecting of toys, after 4:30. Barbara Miller (DI. 2979); Nancy Burns (GA. 1778) and Sally Iler (GA. 6948). Or Hilltoppers may call me (RA. 8517) and I'll be glad to pass the word along to the girls. Please call me before noon, if possible.

CHRISTMAS CARD LIST

Each year, I think I'll cut you down to size
But instead, each year new names materialize
"From out of the everywhere into here"—
But you just wait until NEXT year!
I'll cut you down—see if I don't!
I always say I will, but I won't.

OUR NEXT STEP

The election is over; the race is won.
Let's all join hands — there's work to be done.
We must remember that God has a part,
And if we succeed, right now we must start
By asking His guidance in all that we do.
If we are sincere, He will see us through.

Cowboy Five Ends East Hi Victory String

By Woody Owen

Last Friday night on the West High hardcourt Coach George Williams and his Cowboys sent out a warning signal to the other six teams in the City League that they are a definite threat to capture the 1952-53 basketball title.

They turned in one of the finest team performances witnessed in many a season, in trouncing the East High School Tigers, defending champions, by a score of 70-52. Before a packed house, they broke the Tigers' streak of 28 consecutive City League victories

It was purely a team victory as each player stood out either on offense, defense or in out rebounding the rangier defending champs.

The contest began in typical East-West fashion with the Tigers assuming an 18-10 lead midway in the first period and things looked dark as Jerry Trabue, Cowboy brilliant high-scoring forward, committed three personal fouls.

Trabue and Vincent then began hitting from the outside and underneath to cut the lead to 22-18 at the conclusion of the period.

In the second period Trabue continued to lead the way with the Tigers holding only a 37-34 margin at halftime.

Early in the third period the Cowboys took a 41-39 lead on three consecutive fielders by Bob Thornton and then Ron Bowman, diminutive guard, took over the offensive chores and the Cowboys had a 54-49 lead at the three quarter mark.

The dam really broke loose in the final canto as Earl Redman stole pass after pass from the Tigers and fed a teammate for an easy goal as the Cowboys outscored their opponents by an 18-3 margin. So brilliant was the Cowboys' defensive play in the final period that the Tigers failed to register a field goal.

Each Cowboy comes in for special praise. Jerry Trabue on his 19 points and an outstanding defensive performance in holding East's 6'5" center, Kendall, to only a scant eight points even after committing those three personals in the first five minutes.

Earl Redman for his outstanding defensive play and brilliant rebounding.

Bob Thornton with his 15 points and fine performance on defense.

Ron Bowman and Jim Vincent, the two midget play making guards who both turned in brilliant performances in spearheading the Cowboys' fast break with 17 and 12 points respectively.

But as a warning, there are as yet 11 league games to play and any team in the loop is capable of defeating the other.

The Cowboys will play their second league contest Friday night at 6:30 at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, with Aquinas as the opponent in the first game of a triple header.

In the second game at 7:30 Linden meets Central and the night's finale at 8:45 South and North collide.

After the Aquinas fray the Cowboys will be idle until Friday, Dec. 19, when the Polar Bears invade the Cowboys' lair.

Seen at Seiller's

By Suzie Shopper

Hello folks! I'm bringing you the latest in Seiller's new ideas—a column each week where you can get acquainted with people and merchandise at 2404 W. Broad St. store (by the way, their new store front is now all decorated for the holiday season.)

When you walk in through those wide store doors ease into the right hand aisle if you want to see a sport shirt that's soft as soft CAN be. Even "Pop" won't mind raving for his own Christmas gift if it's a BVD, TruVan, McGregor or another "famous brand" in these shirts. A variety of colors and styles to suit any taste. Be a thrifty Santa—these cotton flannels are under the $5 mark . . . way under.

And I found the perfect hostess gift while nosing around in Seiller's basement. It's an Old Lang Syne Tom and Jerry set, for the holiday "spirits" or just for fun. It is of a white glass with red and green trimmin'. At $1.39 you can afford to give one to each of your hostesses over the season.

"Some little something" to send the baby sitter or your "silent sister" is, of course, a handkerchief. But don't let it be just another hanky. Send it in a "Treasure Master" card available at Seiller's. Include a handy sachet . . . both the cards and sachet are all ready for Christmas. Stop today and buy several for your unexpected visitors, etc.

YOUR YOUTH

By Bob Schmidt and Dick Wilson

Dribble, pass and shoot are the basic fundamentals of basketball play which the assistants and I have taught in our Gra-Y Club meetings. These basic steps have been taught in preparation of the league play which started at Glenwood Methodist Church on Dec. 1. Each of the five Gra-Y clubs on the Hilltop has a team entered in the Class A and Class B Leagues. The Class B League is for boys from 8 to 11 years of age, and Class A League is for boys 11 and 12 years of age. The Class B League takes place every Thursday evening from 3:45 to 6 p. m., and the Class A League takes place every Monday evening from 3:45 to 6 p. m.

Speaking of basketball brings to mind that the Hilltop YMCA Junior and Intermediate Church Leagues have had their organizational meetings and are raring to go. The Intermediate League, made up of nine teams, will play every Wednesday starting Dec. 3 from 7 to 10 p. m. at John Burroughs Gym. Taking part in this league will be Apostolic Gospel, Burgess EUB, Pythians, Glenwood Methodist, Hoge Memorial, St. Paul's EUB, West Sr. Hi-Y, Volunteer Firemen, and Church of Christ. The Junior League, made up of six teams, will play every Monday starting Dec. 1, from 7 to 10 p. m. at John Burroughs gym. Taking part in this league will be Hoge Memorial, West Juniors, St. John's Lutheran, Burgess Avenue EUB, Church of Christ and West Jr. Hi-Y.

While we are on the subject of sports, I would like to mention that our Gra-Y Football Awards Night was a huge success. There were approximately 170 people present to watch the presentations and hear Rev. Robert Scully of Indianola Methodist Church gave a stimulating address on "Sportsmanship in Athletics."

And so we conclude our sports flashes and turn to one of the other sides of our many sided "Y" program for boys and girls. The West Jr. Hi-Y induction of officers and members is to be held at St. Paul's Evangelical Church, 24 S. Warren-av, on Dec. 4, at 7 p. m. The Tri Hi-Y inducting team from Hilliards will be in charge of the ceremony.

The December program schedule is out so all you guys and gals who don't have your copies are welcome to come down to the "Y" office and pick yours up. Remember kids, you can't tell when the events occur without a schedule! Why, you might even forget that we still have boys' craft every Monday and Wednesday. Movies every Tuesday and girls' craft every Friday.

The November attendance report shows that the "Y" is one busy bee hive. There were 88 groups meeting with a total attendance of 2964. The Jr. Tri-Hi-Y and Jr. Hi-Y members are still enjoying their dancing lessons, so if any of you Jr. High School fellows are interested in dancing there are still several openings. For additional information call "Y" office, JO. 4641.

This is our community and the majority of us are proud to be a part of it with its familiar streets, houses, stores and churches. We enjoy meeting acquaintances while shopping for holiday gifts in our crowded stores. We like to walk to the church of our choice in the quiet of Sunday. We are proud that the various industries are building factories on the edge of our community and that we still have woods and fields not too far beyond for the kids to hike and camp in. We think our schools are the finest with the best possible programs. Yes, this is our community and we are content with it.

But this is our community, too; families being destroyed by a fearful disease, grief and heartbreak, long years of suffering and then possible death unless adequate treatment can be secured in time, and unless the crusade against this dreaded disease — tuberculosis — can be won.

The hope, however, lies in the search and prevention plus extensive treatment that can only be made possible by you and I and all in our community through the purchase of Christmas seals.

So that more of our fellowmen can enjoy a healthy and happy Christmas each of us must assume a share of responsibility by "lighting the way" for those with TB, the "Christmas Seal way."

It is such a little thing for us to do but such a big thing for them —the difference between life and death. It's one of the little things that helps to make our community a big success.

New 1953 Ford To Be Shown Here On Friday

Dr. Roy K. Marshall, noted astronomer and commercial commentator on the Ford TV Theatre, will visit Columbus on Friday, Dec. 12, to introduce the new '53 Ford. He will appear at Beasley-Grove Co., 759 W. Broad-st, at 7:15 p. m., to greet his many television fans at the first Columbus showing of the new Ford.

Graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University, Marshall went to the University of Michigan, where he received his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees. Dr. Marshall has lectured at Chicago's Adler Planetarium, Philadelphia's Fels Planetarium and New York City's Hayden Planetarium.

Dr. Marshall was at first reluctant to leave the thoroughness of his academic life for the hurly-burly of show business but when television representatives told him that he could stage his "commercials" just the way he wanted to Dr. Marshall accepted the chance to sell science to a bigger audience. The success of his sale has changed the thinking of many television executives concerning commercials. Dr. Marshall is still at work for his original sponsor selling science in his own way although the format and personnel of the show have changed four times since his first appearance.

Planning is important, both in the lives of individuals and the lives of nations. Never let anyone fool you about this matter.

Funny Americans: Those who prefer to pick a row with the nation's allies rather than denounce the nation's enemies.

New Rome Church Is Setting For Stormont-Jenkinson Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jenkinson

Palms, candelabra, branches of huckleberries and bouquets of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums decorated the Columbia Heights Methodist Church of New Rome on Oct. 19 when Miss Betty Jo Stormont became the bride of Mr. Joseph Reed Jenkinson in a 3:30 p. m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Stormont, 121 Pasadena-av. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed Jenkinson, 145 Whitethorne-av.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Elwood Rose, pastor of the Jamestown Methodist Church in Jamestown, O., and Rev. Jerry Peters, pastor of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church. Rev. Rose is a former pastor of Columbia Heights Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a regal princess line dress of white bridal satin with an off-the-shoulder effect neckline. White Chantilly lace applique outlined the neckline over a sheer nylon yoke. Long fitted lace sleeves tapered to points over the hands. White lace applique formed an overskirt over the bridal satin. The bouffant skirt cascaded over a hoop and a billowing crinoline petticoat and fell to the floor in a full circular train.

Her matching scalloped half-bonnet of Chantilly lace trimmed in pearls held her fingertip veil of silk English illusion. She wore a necklace of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white satin Bible on which rested a white orchid.

The attendants wore identical gowns of velveteen and nylon net. The fitted strapless bodice of velveteen was covered with a small jacket of velveteen. The leaf strewn bouffant skirts cascaded over hoops and layers of nylon net. They wore matching short, softly folded velveteen mitts.

Miss Nancy Kelley, maid of honor, wore gold and carried a bouquet of gold mums and yellow and gold chrysanthemums. Miss Georgann Terry, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Robert Stormont, the bridesmaids, wore dresses of lime and carried bouquets of yellow mums and yellow and gold chrysanthemums. On their heads they wore a halo of leaves and a tiny veil. Pearl earrings and a strand of baby pearls, a gift of the bride, were worn by the attendants.

Mr. Thomas Roberts was best man. Ushers were Mr. Ernest Higgenbotham, Mr. Carl Latscha and Mr. Robert Stormont.

The bride's mother wore a dress of purple lace with matching shoes and bag. Her hat, gloves and jewelry were a mauve shade. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Jenkinson wore a dubonnet lace dress with matching shoes and purse. Her hat, gloves and jewelry were a mauve shade, and she also wore an orchid.

A reception in the church basement followed the ceremony.

The young couple left immediately after the reception for a trip to Florida and through the southern states.

The bride is a graduate of Hilliards High School and is employed by the Huntington National Bank in Columbus. The bridegroom is a West High School graduate and is associated with the Jaeger Machine Co.

They are now residing at 89 Midland-av.

Oct. 5 Ceremony Unites Nellie Evans, Richard Ardle

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ardle

Glenwood Methodist Church was the scene for the wedding of Miss Nellie Jane Evans, daughter of Mrs. Mary Taylor Evans, 104 S. Richardson-av, to Mr. Richard Ardle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Ardle, 185 S. Huron-av. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas on Oct. 5, at 3:30 p. m., before an altar decorated with seven branch candelabra, white chrysanthemums and palms. Miss Martha Brown was soloist.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Mr. John Taylor of Westerville, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace over white satin. The long sleeves ended in points over her hands and the fitted bodice complemented the extremely full skirt which featured a pleated inset of nylon tulle and graceful chapel sweep. The finger-tip veil of French illusion was held in place by a small cap of matching lace and satin.

The bride carried a small white Bible, gift of her maternal grandmother, topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Donn Rice served as matron of honor. Miss Dawn Dennison and the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Evans, were bridesmaids. They were attired in identical floor length gowns of delphinium blue satin, designed with formal bodices, brief satin jackets and full over-skirts of nylon net. Mrs. Rice carried a colonial bouquet of yellow baby mums and roses. The bridesmaids' bouquets were of pink baby mums and roses.

Karen Sue Taylor was flower girl for her cousin. She wore a rose satin dress with a full net overskirt fashioned similar to those of the other attendants, and carried a small bouquet of roses.

Mr. William Thompson served as best man for Mr. Ardle. Seating the guests were Mr. Kenneth Evans, Mr. W. Buckley Hawe and Mr. Carl Latscha.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige crepe with brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of royal blue crepe with matching hat and black accessories. Both mothers wore identical corsages of red rosebuds.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church social room. Hostesses were Mrs. John Slattery, Mrs. Lester Nicol, Miss Lois Woolard and Miss Helen Nice.

The new Mrs. Ardle is a graduate of West High School and until her marriage was associated with the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. Mr. Ardle is also a graduate of West High School, attended Ohio State University and is now associated with Universal Engineers, Inc., of Fond du Lac, Wisc.

The couple is residing in Evansville, Ind.

Now Learn The Truth About Vacuum Cleaners

FACT 1... There is no vacuum in a vacuum cleaner... in any vacuum cleaner. "Vacuum" cleaner is an incorrect term left over from the days when folks weren't too careful about claims they made for their product.

FACT 2... In a modern electric cleaner, air suction and air suction alone is the principal "force" that removes dirt. The more suction your cleaner has, the better and faster it will clean... regardless of brand. However, even this simple and direct statement is subject to the reservations in fact 3.

FACT 3... No Cleaner (regardless of brand, size of motor or suction power) can continue to clean at peak efficiency when the air taken in at the nozzle passes through a paper or cloth bag full of dirt before returning to the room. The dirt in the bag (cloth or paper) blocks the air taken in at the nozzle. As dirt in the bag builds up, suction power at the nozzle goes down.

FACT 4... Here's the way about 9 out of 10 of today's "vacuum" cleaners work.

Fan draws dirt-filled air in at the nozzle.

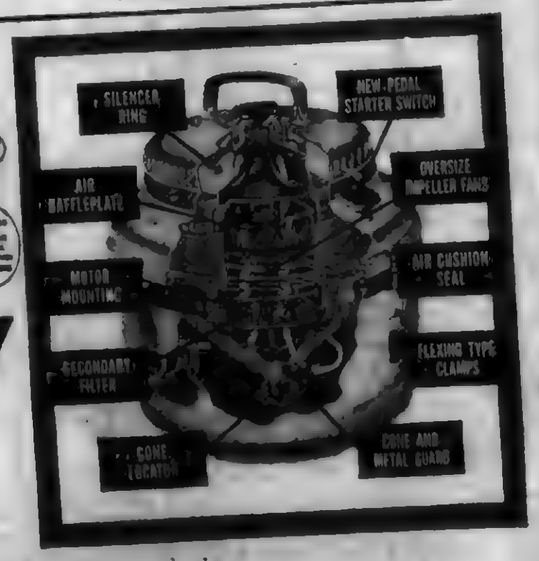
Dirt builds up in bag. Air escapes through pores of paper or cloth bag. Note how air must pass through dirt before it can escape, "Back pressure," low suction power, and reduced cleaning efficiency result when the air flow is choked by dirt.

Dust particles are usually returned to the room with the air stream as it escapes through the pores of a cloth or paper bag. This is the dust you smell when you clean with a "vacuum" that leaks dust.

FACT 5... The "secret" of sustained, high suction, even when the cleaner is almost full, is to avoid the "slow down" caused by having the air stream pass through a bag of dirt before it can be released back into the room.

Filter Queen Saves Hours of Housework... Cleans Faster, Easier

FACT 6... The FILTER QUEEN system of sustained high cleaning efficiency avoids suction "slow down" because there is no bag to fill with dirt and block suction. In FILTER QUEEN, the dirt is collected in a spacious metal container in a manner that does not interfere with air flow.



FACT 7... The medical profession recognizes that "breathed-in" dust particles can be dangerous to children and adults because they are sometimes carriers of harmful bacteria. Independent scientific tests show that the patented FILTER QUEEN cellulose filter cone, plus additional safety filters, effectively removes more than 99.5% of the dirt from the returning air stream, no matter how full the FILTER QUEEN becomes.

FACT 8... The advantages of the FILTER QUEEN system of dirt removal are easily seen: With no bag full of dirt to hinder suction, cleaning is deeper, faster, easier, and more thorough. This can mean cleaning less often and a saving of hours of housework.

FACT 9... No "vacuum" cleaner duplicates or can duplicate the patented structure of FILTER QUEEN. Repeat... No "vacuum" cleaner duplicates or can duplicate the patented structure of FILTER QUEEN. This sentence is deliberately repeated because nowadays more and more "vacuum" cleaners are trying to look like FILTER QUEEN in appearance.

FACT 10... FILTER QUEEN has no bag (cloth or paper) inside or out. A dirt-filled bag or sack cannot cause FILTER QUEEN to choke and lose suction. FILTER QUEEN effectively prevents dust "leakage" back into the home. FILTER QUEEN is the only home cleaning system of its kind in the world.

The "Wise" of Winter Driving

by Glenn Hamilton

Sullivant At Hague
RA. 0265

Q. Why do cars often fail to start in winter time?

A. "Often" is right! Actually, about 1 out of 3 cars fail to start at some time during the winter. There are several causes. One is frozen fuel lines. Water that condenses in the gas tank gets into the fuel line, settles there and freezes. Another is battery failure. A battery loses some of its power in cold weather. Battery failure can also be a result of other conditions. For example, summer-contaminated lube can make gears hard to move. And oil that permits too much sludge and varnish to build up on the cylinders can make for hard turn-over. That makes the battery work too hard and may cause it to fail. Gasoline with inadequate quick-start qualities can cause starting failure, too.

Q. Can starting failure be prevented?

A. Sure. Simply by preventing its causes. Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection does exactly that. It includes a monthly battery check, an anti-freeze in your gas tank, motor oil and lube change, and use of X-tane or Supreme gasoline.

Q. But doesn't that cost a lot of money?

A. Not at all! The battery check is free. The other things are just what you'd buy anyway. So you spend nothing extra. If you don't start, Sohio guarantees to pay your garage starting bill. The guarantee costs not a penny extra. Why not come in and see me about Guaranteed Starting Protection—real soon?

Westway Postscripts

Commander Dick Martin, who led the movement to change the meetings of Westway Post so that members of Westway and Camp Chase Posts could attend each other's meetings, was unable to attend Camp Chase of Dec. 8 because of illness in the family and therefore doesn't know how many of our members took advantage of the new situation.

The spaghetti dinner served by the Auxiliary on Thursday, Dec. 4, was delicious. We certainly love those women make a regular occasion of this.

Contributions are flowing in from all over the state to Emma Russell, department regional hospital chairman, for her work. The whole department must think a lot of her just as we do.

Remember the new meeting dates this month. They will be on the second and fourth Fridays from now on and that falls on the 12th and 26th this month.

We have heard rather creditably verified rumors that Sarge Hartman took off for Minnesota again and Chaplain Bob Swigert went to Florida.

Note to the Auxiliary: Don't forget Dec. 17 when you have your annual Christmas party at the hall and select secret pals for the coming year.

Note to the Post and Auxiliary: Our annual Christmas party for the kiddies is on Dec. 22 at the hall and we want a real good turn-out.

Commander Martin was present and helped with the instituting of a new post in Columbus. It is to be known as Scioto Trail Post No. 2505 and is at present located south of the city limits on Parsons-av. George Fetter, department quartermaster-adjutant, and Charles Althoff, District Eleven commander, both Hilltoppers, were also present. Our colors were used for this institution and we are happy to welcome another post in our fold.

GOOD HEALTH FOR ALL

By Marion Lewis

A FAMILY MATTER

When the doctor says, "It's tuberculosis," his words are like a stone dropped in a pool of water, making a series of ever-widening circles.

The most important circle—that closest to the patient himself—is his immediate family.

Tuberculosis places special responsibilities on the family, and perhaps the heaviest is their duty to help the patient "see it through"—go to the TB hospital and stay there until he is cured.

Leaving the hospital against medical advice, before the cure is complete, is one of the greatest problems of tuberculosis, according to the Columbus Tuberculosis Society. A life of invalidism, even death itself, may be the result of leaving the hospital prematurely. Meanwhile, the patient can spread TB germs to everyone with whom he comes in contact.

On the surface it would seem that knowledge of these facts would convince a patient that he should stay in the hospital until he is well. However, there are many determining factors.

A recent survey showed that a large proportion of patients who left the hospital against medical advice were married men, worried chiefly about domestic problems: wife, children and bills. The treatment of TB requires a long stay in the hospital during which the patient sees his family's standard of living threatened.

During the months in the hospital, the least "pull" from outside may make him decide to leave. A small complaint in a letter from home will be magnified many times. Lack of news will cause exaggerated anxiety.

It is vital for every member of the family of a TB patient to understand their importance to his cure. Community agencies will help the family through financial and domestic problems. The family can help by cheerful, confident acceptance of the fact that the patient must stay in the hospital until his cure is complete.

They should keep him up-to-date on family news and include him in family conferences on those matters which will not needlessly upset him. The patient should be able to look forward to his return home to a stable family unit.

The Columbus Tuberculosis Society, your Christmas seal agency, will be glad to provide further information and advice on this problem. Phone ADams 3241.

Jr. Tri Hi-Y Induction Ritest Held

The newly organized Junior Tri Hi-Y Club held its induction Thursday evening at St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church. The officers of the Hilliards Tri Hi-Y and their adviser, Mildred Mitchell, performed the induction service.

The following members of the club were inducted into the National Junior Tri Hi-Y Fellowship: Judy Custer, Jenene Davis, Phyliss Guyton, Nelda Jones, Patty Shay, Betty Hughes, Judy Comer, Joan Dunlap, Nancy Heil, Susan Moore, Sandra Sorensen, Melanie Davies, Linda Curry, Beverly Cook, Roberta Flugge, Joyce Henry, Betty Morris, DeAnn Ward and Shelby Adams.

C. Carlton Hartley, chairman of the Hilltop "Y" board of management, presented the charter to Phyliss Guyton, president of the club.

Rev. Paul D. Dunn, pastor of the host church, brought greetings to the new members and then pronounced the benediction.

December Is Cited Most Dangerous

Naturally it's the part of wisdom to be on guard against accidents at all times. But it's doubly wise to be careful during December because it's the most dangerous month of the year for accidental deaths of all kinds, and also for accidental deaths involving automobiles, Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, Columbus health commissioner, warned today.

The figures were furnished by the National Safety Council and were taken from an analysis covering the three year period from 1949 through 1951.

December also proved to be the most dangerous month for death from burns by fire and it ranked high in deaths from firearms, railroad accidents and from gas poisoning. Only two months outranked it in bringing deaths from falls.

The Council estimates automobile accidents cost the country nearly three and a half billion dollars last year and that the wage loss alone cost well over a billion.

Atomics Upset Firehouse Five At Glenwood

The Glenwood Senior Pre-season Cage League finished up its last schedule games this week with the highly favored Firehouse Five going down to a stunning defeat at the hands of the Atomic Five by a score of 60-43. The Atomics moved into a second place position against the Firehouse and will meet them in the first game of the round robin playoff on Thursday at 8 p. m.

The second game of the playoff features the Underdogs against either Grace or Nance, who must play off at 7 p. m. to decide who meets the Underdogs in the 9 p. m. game.

The Atomic Five have the number one, two and four scorers of the league in Voss with 76, Creshor with 71 and Reynolds with 58. Davis of the Underdogs is in number three spot with 50.

The game of Thursday between the Firehouse and the Atomic should be a real battle with the Firehouse seeking revenge and the Atomic attempting to capture the playoff tourney.

The Pre-Season Junior League action of Saturday had the Hotshots in top form in their 36-12 win over the hapless Cubs. The Hotshots are still in first place with the Wildcats moving into second place with a 12-11 win over the Cowboys.

Cargile and McGrau of the Hotshots are the leading scorers, with 38 and 32 points respectively. Nichols of the Wildcats is in third place with 23.

Two young men saw two pretty girls meet and embrace.

Said one: "That's what's wrong with this country."

"What do you mean?" asked his friend.

"Women doing men's work."

Your Neighbors Are Reading: These New Books At Your Hilltop Branch Library

GATEWAY TO FORTUNE
By Peter Bourne

Here is a truly colorful and documentary story of the building of the Panama Canal. The heartache of France's first attempt, the political struggles for land rights between the Panamanian and American governments and the undreamed of obstacles which faced the first handful of adventuresome engineers and surveyors to whom the completion of the Canal represented a life-long dream, is all told in a boisterous and energetic style.

The characters portrayed are real and the story interwoven with actual history is engrossing. Wesley Adam is the ambitious American surveyor deeply involved with the engineering problems of the Project and caught between his inherited love for adventure and his deep passionate desire for Dulcie, his immature young wife who puts nothing before her basic need for material wealth. This need eventually leads to her illicit love affair with her husband's former employer. Wesley is driven to turn to Anne and Marie Perrigot, the daughters of a French engineer, for comfort and the all-necessary feminine company in a land of male dominance.

The story is highlighted with the clashings and eventual agreement of the governments involved and with vivid descriptions of the biggest horror of all, yellow jack. A side light of interest is the manner in which Americans, outcasts and traitors and hunted criminals though they may be, solicit the friendships and acceptance of each other and delight in social activity in a land far away from that which condemned them, as though seeking to prove, to themselves at least, that here midst the history-making struggles for a project of the homeland, they are leading a fruitful and constructive life, regardless of what pitfalls they may home and bring that warmness to whatever outlandish spots their men may have chosen to settle.

Gateway to Fortune is well worth reading and the entertaining plot is as exciting as the building and digging of the canal itself.

Helen Templeton's Daughter
by Louise Eskridge Crump

This book presents a vivid and very interesting story of the old South in the early days following the war.

Ann Templeton has been studying art in Chicago, but has been called to her ancestral home in the Delta country by the illness of her grandmother Templeton.

Her mother Helen is a frivolous and selfish woman and refused to assume any responsibility. Ann's father George is an aristocrat of the old school, living in his books and dreams.

The grandmother insists Ann must take over the management of the old plantation, which is heavily mortgaged and going to ruin. Ann rather unwillingly assumes this tremendous task and from early dawn until late night, spends her time riding around the fields.

There are twenty colored families at Fall Leaf and Ann's greatest problem is to keep them working. Cotton is the big crop, but old Mrs. Templeton has invested in some cattle, which Ann hopes will help pay some of the indebtedness. The cattle become stricken with some disease and Ann marshals all the Negroes and works with them day and night to save them.

Besides the economic struggle, the conflict between Ann and Helen grows more bitter all the time. Helen is much in love with a young doctor, Dr. Benton, and accuses Ann of trying to take him away from her. Ann is not interested in Dr. Benton, but does resent his attentions to her mother and the resultant gossip.

Michael Donahue has returned to the Delta country and is attracted to Ann. He admires her courage and does all he can to advise and help her.

When the cotton is ready for picking, Ann senses the unrest of the Negroes, some flatly refusing to work. The old jungle voodoo is at work and even old Dr. Wade is helpless before it. Michael brings old Marlu in time to break the "conjar" and save the cotton.

Ann now realizes that Fall Leaf means more to her even than her painting and Michael Donahue, more than anything else. Old Mrs. Templeton is overjoyed to include Michael in her household and Ann very willing to turn the management over to him.

Mrs. Crump presents a very good picture of the economic insecurity, the romance and mysticism of the old South. This book is easy to read and holds your interest throughout.

JUMPING JUPITER
Earnestine Gilbreth Carey

JUMPING JUPITER requires a reader with a good imagination to reproduce the image of the little toy for which the book is named. Jumping Jupiter's actions and descriptions of him make the reader want to know him throughout the book, although he is just a toy that throws the wrong people at the wrong time.

The time of the story is after Christmas, but it is much more interesting to read before Christmas. Don't let the title mislead you to believe it is written for children. Only adults with a sense of humor could appreciate this story. The year could well have been omitted for it could take place any year.

The writer, Earnestine Gilbreth Carey, is the coauthor of "Cheaper by the Dozen" and "Bells on Their Toes." This would be known only by recognizing the name or by the readers being told, since there is no similarity in form and style between this book and the other two. The author is a little hard on department store owners and heads of departments but she treats the plight of the clerks and buyers much more sympathetically. Kay Lensey, the attractive young buyer for the Joyce Department Store, seems never to relax or rest but is caught in a mad whirl of store directives, politics, promotion procedures, scandals, and intense rivalries.

The romance of Kay and Hank Hughes, the store's furniture expert, serves as a cushion to soften this fast pace that begins on page one and does not stop till the last line. There is little relaxation for the reader for he soon finds himself part of the mad whirl of activity that marks the progress of the story.

You never lose sight of Jumping Jupiter. He captures your affections and you may even consider him, rather than Hank, the hero of the book.

This story will give you a more appreciative attitude toward all clerks, especially during this holiday season. The clerks in Toyland will especially merit a second glance and an additional ounce of appreciation and understanding as you visit Toyland in search of the likeness of Jumping Jupiter.

THE DISTANT SHORE, by Jan De Hartog.

This enthralling story, told by "The Skipper," concerns the young Dutch refugee captain of an English ocean-going tug and his crew during World War II; his friends, Dop and Goatskin; and his girls, Stella and June.

The first part of the book covers the Skipper's adventures during the war; Part II is the aftermath. It is the second part which is different from all other books on the same theme. He is as disillusioned and disrupted as any of the other homeless Europeans, and sets out to follow the same course of blaming the world for all his troubles, including his own defects of character; but an innate decency and integrity always stops him just short of committing any serious moral or legal crime.

Accompanying this, the main thread of the story, the author shows in Goatskin, without moralizing, the consequences of the lack of these characteristics in a personality caught in such circumstances.

The Skipper delineates his own character deftly, with objective penetration and a good deal of humor, in the first part, in the second half of this objectivity and humor are lost, to be regained only at the end when he suddenly grows up and becomes himself again, beginning to come to grips with life and the future.

There are some hair-raising adventures on the tug, rescuing disabled ships, and later, diving with with respirator and frogmen's feet in the Mediterranean.

This is a well written book, with adventure, romance and humor, one of the best tales to come out of World War II.

Man Crushed To Death At Stone Quarry

Service for Cecil Duane Berry, 30-year-old Korean War veteran, who was crushed to death at Marble Cliff Quarries Co. Monday, were held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in John Quint & Sons Funeral Home.

A veteran of three years' military service, Berry had survived 13 months of Korean combat fighting. Death came when a shovel he was using to clean mud from a small roller which aided in supporting a heavy conveyor belt was caught between the belt and a supporting roller.

Berry apparently held onto the shovel in an attempt to free it, sheriff's sergeant Paul F. Stormont said. He was dead when discovered by Eugene Riccardi, 1360 Westwood-av, and Lee Seagraves, 3531 Brookside-dr, workmen at the quarries.

Death was accidental, due to strangulation, Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, ruled.

Berry was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Berry, Rt. 1, Plain City. The father also is employed at the quarries.

Surviving, in addition to the parents, are two brothers, Charles F., at home, and William H., of London; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Keplinger of Columbus and Charlotte, Patricia and Sondra Berry, at home, and a maternal grandmother, Mrs. Solia Elliott of Columbus.

Burial was in Union Cemetery, where the VFW held graveside services.

Glenwood Youth Fellowship To Present Play

Sunday evening, Dec. 7, the Senior Youth Fellowship of Glenwood Methodist Church will present Everett Radford's dramatization of Henry Van Dyke's "Other Wise Man" in Motter Hall.

It is the story of Artaban, the fourth wise man, who was apprised of the coming of the birth of Jesus. He sold his possessions and bought precious jewels for the new king and left his home to seek Him.

The drama brings out the misfortunes that befell Artaban, how he gave away his jewels. He never meets Christ but is present at the crucifixion. The story is especially timely for emphasizing the strength of charity, humility and moral conviction.

Sonya Albery will be the narrator and Bill Moore will play the part of Artaban. Others in the cast are George Brown, Mickey Cherup, Klyde Moore, Mary Smith, Barbara Gurley, Barbara Harlow, Phil Edwards, David Kendall, Jim Kindig, Llola Moore, Jon Kimes, Tom Metcalf, Mary Ellen Cranston, David Gurley, Patty Scott, Shelva Harlow and Ruth Evans.

Bob Johnson will have charge of the lights and sound effects.

The Older Youth will conduct the devotions with Malcolm Ator as leader. There will be special music by Carol Robinson and Martha Brown.

IN HIS FATHER'S footsteps . . .

A little fellow's out for a trip in the snow—and using his head as well as his feet for a tricky bit of walking.

Of course, he has to stretch his legs a bit. But no matter which way those tracks go, that small son will follow them. The reason? That's simple . . .

Those are his dad's foot steps in front of him—and that's the way he'll go . . .

An old proverb tells this story in four short words. "Like father, like son". That's all.

But it can foretell the story of a lifetime. It is up to you—as your son's father—to decide what kind of a lifetime he will lead, simply because it will be patterned greatly after the one you are leading now.

By going to church, for instance, you will be setting a powerful example that he will follow in later life. Just as your life is made more purposefull by participating in church activities, so will be the life of your son. The message of the church that finds reflection in your life—that, also, will be reflected in the life of your son.

Think it over. Whether you can see them or not, you are leaving imprints in the years of your life right now.

Is it the trail you wanted to leave?

Is it the trail you want your small son to follow?

Your church can help you decide . . .

"My steps have held fast to thy paths, my feet have not slipped." Psalms 17:5

NOTICE
To the Residents of Franklin Township
The Prairie Township (Rome) Fire Dept. regrets that they will have to discontinue giving emergency squad service within Franklin Township. The expenses within the past few years for making squad runs into your township have been paid by the Prairie Township trustees. The number of runs has increased to such an extent that they feel they no longer can continue this service. Since your trustees say they are unable to reimburse Prairie Township for these runs, which amount to practically $10 each, we will discontinue making emergency squad runs into Franklin Township, until such a time we can operate on a reciprocal basis, with emergency squads of your own (as we do with fire trucks).
Signed:
John R. Richards, Chief
Prairie Township Fire Dept.

Holiday Activity Spurs Interest At Glenwood Recreation Center

By Pat Martindale

The excitement of Christmas merriment has begun to become evident at the Glenwood Recreation Center with the announcement of the holiday schedules this week. Special parties and entertainment have been arranged for all ages of Hilltoppers and West Siders.

On Wednesday, Dec. 10, the Hilltop Community Council will announce plans for entertainment which will be sponsored by the council at a meeting held in the club room at Glenwood Center. The Christmas greeting from the Hilltop co-sponsored by the recreation center and the Hilltop Council will be erected on the hill in front of the center around Dec. 15.

On Dec. 15 the girls of the Charm Club of Glenwood will have their Christmas party, and each member will invite an escort. The Golden Age Club has planned its Yuletide Party for Tuesday, Dec. 16, in the TV lounge.

On Tuesday, Dec. 16, everyone is invited to help decorate the center with the "Hanging of the Greens", a traditional custom of the center. The children are invited to be present from 4 to 6 p. m. while the teen-agers and adults are to be present from 7 to 10 p. m.

Wednesday, Dec. 17, from 8 to 10 p. m. the game room will be the scene of the teen-agers juke dance. Refreshments will be served after the dance and each member may bring one guest. Also on Dec. 17, Girl Scout Troop 387 will have its Christmas party at the center from 3:30 until 6 p. m. They will exchange gifts among the girls and bring a gift as an offering to a stock of gifts which will be given to the needy.

A Cub Scout party is to be held on Thursday, Dec. 18, from 7 to 9 p. m. in connection with a regular pack meeting and a Boy Scout party is to be held on Monday, Dec. 22, from 7 to 9 p. m. with a troop meeting.

Girls of the cooking class will entertain their mothers with a Christmas tea on Friday, Dec. 19, from 4 to 6 p. m. and on Monday, Dec. 22, the Can Goods movie is scheduled to be shown from 8 to 9:30 p. m. with everyone being invited. The price of admission is one can of fruit or vegetables which will be given to a charitable organization to be distributed to the needy. This is a traditional affair at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Other traditional affairs of the center is the caroling through the neighborhood and all are invited to take part on Tuesday, Dec. 23, from 7 to 9 p. m. Hot chocolate will be served upon returning to the center. Then on Wednesday, Dec. 24, Santa Claus will greet all participants at the center with a treat from 2 to 5 p. m.

Although a date has not been set, a party will be given for the Girls' Athletic Council at Glenwood Center. The newly elected social committee, Rita Smith, chairman, Carol Holley, Mary Ellen Sweetman, Sue Lindus and Melinda Justus will be in charge of arrangements.

Glenwood Center will close at 5 p. m. Dec. 24 and remain closed over New Year's Day. Regular programs will continue except where special programs have been scheduled.

A special Christmas issue of the Glenwood Echo containing schedules of all Christmas programs has been printed and may be obtained from the center's office.

Girl Scout News

Three new Brownie troops of second grade girls will be formed at John Burroughs Neighborhood, Dec. 8, Mrs. George Ralph, neighborhood chairman, announced today. The parents of the girls desiring to be new Brownies will meet at the school at 2 p. m. for organization purposes and the girls will join the group at 3:15 to be assigned to their respective troops. John Burroughs Neighborhood sold a record number of Girl Scout calenders in the recent calendar sale, and have also sold over 500 boxes of Christmas cards.

A brand new Brownie is Sharon Kelly who was invested into John Burroughs troop 163 on Nov. 19, by her leader, Mrs. Ralph Bieber.

Barbara O'Bryne, district director, taught the group several new songs, and Mrs. Gatwood, workshop director, led the workshop in making Christmas candles and paper stars. A discussion of Christmas handicraft followed. Hostesses for the workshop were the John Burroughs troops, who served coffee and doughnuts.

The following girls received their third year star: Nancy Hutton, Sharon Blakely, Sandra Bottman, JoAna Seelig, Nancy Stimmel, Sharon Hessler, Linda Surrell, Karen Groeninger, and Sharon Griener.

Three girls will receive a two-year star, Alberta Sears, Sandra Haegele, and Betty Williams.

MEDICAL MAN-DRAFT

The Defense Department has issued a call for 945 medical men in January and Pentagon experts indicated that heavy casualties in Korea might force the Army to keep its over-all draft sights high. The department told selective service it would need 544 physicians, 383 dentists and 18 veterinarians in January.

COAL PRICES INCREASED

The government has authorized higher prices for both hard and soft coal. The increase ranged up to 75c a ton for bituminous and to $1.35 a ton for anthracite. The increases were granted because of higher labor costs.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS

The Business Advisory Council has predicted that, at least for the first quarter of 1953, business activity in the nation would remain at a high level. It added that this activity would be supported by stable prices and high income.

The Spirit Is The Thing

That "get it done" attitude was much in evidence last Thursday all over the Hilltop again as the Kiwanis Club launched its annual Christmas newspaper sale.

Over 100 men other than Kiwanians turned out to assist with this fine project. They represented Lions Club, Boy Scouts, YMCA, American Legion, VFW, church groups and, numerous other organizations.

And the response from the public was fine too . . . even down to the young lad who said, "Sure I want to buy a paper . . . Hilltop Kiwanis sent me to summer camp last year," and he acknowledged his thanks with a handful of pennies.

The spirit is the thing!

Notes Between The Flakes: A big thank you to the Westgate Garden Club, through its treasurer, C. F. Dresback, 315 S. Westgate-av, who called to have me pick up $50 in cash as a contribution to the Charity Newsies . . . The organization voted that their left over funds should go to the Newsie and a fine gesture this was! . . . And thanks to H. S. Miller, 740 Chesterahire, for his check for the same good cause . . . And ditto Dave Cornwell . . . But whoa . . . I can't begin to list all those fine people who shelled out Saturday to make the day a big one for the Newsies . . . You are all grand! . . . Dave Vogelsang is reported on the sick list . . . Understand the Dr. Fred Marsch's are expecting soon . . . Our County Treasurer Newton Thatcher is reported as improving following an operation this past week . . . Our best get well wishes to Ed Stauch, who is in Mt. Carmel Hospital where he is recovering from a broken hip suffered in a fall two weeks ago today . . . Ed will be glad to have his friends drop in.

Fire Severely Damages New Hilltop Home

Fire swept a new five-room Franklin Township home Monday afternoon, causing $7000 damage. Only a few weeks ago the owners moved into the dwelling.

Severely damaged was the residence of Edward Reed, 715 Joyful-rd, in the Rosemary Addition.

Sheriff's Deputy Warren Orendorff said none of the family was at home when the blaze started and it was burning strongly when Franklin Township firemen were called.

Chief James Moffett of Franklin Township said the blaze started in a bedroom closet of the ranch type home. He made the unofficial loss estimate.

The fire was apparently started by a fireplace which is separated by only a wood panel from the closet, Chief Moffett said.

Parking Ban On Eureka-av Recommended

The Columbus Traffic Commission this week went on record as recommending to Columbus City Council for immediate action a ban against parking on the west side of Eureka-av from W. Broad-st to Steele-av and the erection of "Stop" signs on Eureka-av at the Steele-av intersection.

The action was taken on the suggestion of Commissioner E. O. Melvin, who pointed out that "northbound traffic is much heavier than southbound in Eureka-av."

The parking ban according to Traffic Engineer Ralph Wolf should help relieve the traffic congestion on this much traveled Hilltop thoroughfare.

Broad-Hague Spot Again In The Police Limelight

The Hilltop's perennial source of irritation, both to police and to the entire Hilltop community, broke into the news columns again this week with street fighting again reported at the Broad and Hague-av intersection on Sunday.

As a result, four 18 year old youths now free from the toils of the law on bonds of $100 each, will appear in municipal court Saturday morning to answer to charges of assault and battery and the malicious destruction of property.

According to Columbus police, Fred Messmer, Jr., 19, of 635 Markison-av, parked his car in front of a confectionery at the intersection and went in to buy a Sunday newspaper. He complained that when he came out he was attacked by several youths and thrown to the pavement. When his companion who had been sitting in the parked car, came to his aid, he too was attacked by the gang of youths.

During the melee, two windows on the left side of the auto and another on the right were broken.

The quartet of 18-year-old boys who are slated to appear in court this Saturday are Donald L. Sullivan, 921 S. Hague-av; Kenneth E. Gerber, 141 S. Harris-av; Stewart Z. Nichols, 2725 W. Broad-st, and John D. Vincent, 1740 Franklin-av.

Four other youths also charged with having been participants in the brawl, along with their parents, appeared before the court on Tuesday. By virtue of the fact that all are juveniles and had no other records of arrest, they were all released on probation, into the custody of their parents and ordered to pay for the damages. Their names were not released by police but it was revealed that one of the quartet is an outstanding West High School football player.

Police indicated that they were trying in every way possible to clean up the situation that exists at the Broad-Hague corner and that they would now invoke a strict enforcement of curfew laws despite objections that have been raised by parents who have had youths picked up there in the past.

Police said this week that the Broad-Hague corner has proved to be one of the most troublesome in

Hilltop Man Injured In Fall Dies Of Injuries

Richard Tarbutton, 32, of 1894 Sullivant-av, died Wednesday night in Mt. Carmel Hospital of injuries suffered seven weeks ago in a fall at the new Westinghouse Corp plant under construction at W. Broad-st and Phillipi-rd.

Tarbutton, an employe of the Steel Sash Service Co. of New York, suffered multiple body fractures and severe head injuries.

A spokesman at the plant said Tarbutton was a tinsmith and was applying roof decking when he slipped and fell 31 feet to the ground.

His body was taken to the Littleton Funeral Home, Springfield.

Hilltop Woman New Juvenile Bureau Head

Miss Doris Ferrel, 22 N. Burgess-av, was appointed the first woman chief of the Franklin County Juvenile Center Monday. The appointment, effective Jan. 1, was announced by Domestic Relations Judge Clayton W. Rose.

Miss Ferrel succeeds Earl Hughes, 60, who retired Dec. 1. Miss Ferrel, 43, has been Judge Rose's secretary since May 16, 1936. In the new position, she will supervise a staff of about 30 persons in the operation of the Detention Home at 50 E. Mound-st.

Help Us Say It!

Next week The Hilltop Record through these columns wants to really say for the community, "A Very Special Merry Christmas To All Service Men From This Area." You readers can help us achieve that wish.

Here's what you can do to help us say "Merry Christmas" for you.

If there is a service man in your family or you have neighbors and friends who are in the service we'd like to know about them, where they are stationed and if they are going to be able to be home for the holidays. There's more too — we'd like good pictures of these servicemen to go right along with the notes about them. Pictures must be two inches wide and no more than three inches deep. All pictures will be returned.

Here's what we want to do — we're planning a special section of the paper devoted to news of our men in service. We're going to run that section next week.

All information on servicemen and pictures should be at The Hilltop Record office no later than noon this Saturday, Dec. 20.

Help us say that "Merry Christmas" To Our Servicemen."

Also the Hilltop Sportsman Club in co-operation with the management of the Rita Theater will have a free show for the children of the Hilltop at the Rita Theater Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 2 p. m.

Annual Sherick Orphan's Party To Be Dec. 28

Jack Sherick's annual Orphans' Christmas Party will be held Sunday, Dec. 28, from 2 to 4:30 p. m., in the Sherick Studios at 68½ E. Long-st, with more than $1300 in gifts to be given the orphans of St. Vincent's, St. Ann's and Hare Orphanages.

Tom Bell, George Hardy and Bob Dent, all from the Hilltop, are in charge of the big party, which will feature Sally Flowers and an all-professional show. The party will last for three hours with something doing at all times.

Mary Ann Gillivan, a teacher from the Hilltop, raised the highest amount of money for the annual party this year with a total of $178. The money was raised by giving shows and the pupils participating.

Jack Sherick said this week that the $1300 raised this year was a record amount to spend for the orphans. He said that since each orphan has requested two gifts from Santa Claus such as basketballs, footballs, dresses, shoes, etc., he is sure that they will get them and many more. He also praised Mr. and Mrs. Yerian and Mr. and Mrs. Constans for their fund raising abilities.

G.I.'s SHOULD REINSURE

The Veterans Administration reminds millions of veterans of the last war who hold five or eight year G. I. term life insurance that they can still convert to permanent plans of G. I. insurance, with guaranteed values that term policies lack. The only G. I. life insurance which may not be converted under present laws is the special five-year non-convertible term policy that is issuable to veterans with service since June 27, 1950, the start of the Korean hostilities.

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

Just about this time of the year many of us are asking ourselves if all the preparation we make for Christmas is worth it. The hustle and bustl. in crowded stores, being pushed and stepped on, trying to get one of the busy clerks to wait on us and after walking endlessly to purchase the right gifts, we board a bus only to stand up all the way home.

For weeks before Christmas there has been one meeting after another to attend for the planning of parties and entertainment packages and gifts to wrap, candy and cookies to make and extra sewing not to speak of the special cleaning and rearrangement of the furniture in the home.

Seems as though Christmas has become so commercialized that all of the real meaning has vanished.

Then suddenly Christmas Week is upon us and perhaps its while walking in the crisp cool air that the scent of pine, or maybe it's cedar, greets us, the stars seem a little brighter and close enough to reach out and touch, the chimes from a nearby church are pealing melodious carols and the neighborhood windows gleam with friendly greetings.

Its then that thoughts of the extra work and "hectic" preparations suddenly seem to no longer exist and in their place creeps a sort of peace and contentment with the whole world in general.

Magic? No — its the spirit of Christmas that has come to live among us for a little while.

"Investment for God" Project Creates A "Bank of Heaven"

Deposits at a teller's window in the "Bank of Heaven" were made during the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Sabbath school's program Saturday concluding the "Investment for God" project which has been carried on all during this year to raise funds for missionary work. The "Bank of Heaven" teller's window was made by Mrs. J. E. Gentry. Mrs. Oscar Buxton, investment secretary, was in charge of the program.

A regular bank deposit slip was made out by every member who had raised some mission funds for this project during the year. These slips together with the cash or checks were deposited with the "Bank of Heaven" teller. Mrs. Glen Coffin, 1084 Georgesville-rd, Sabbath school superintendent. Two bookkeepers recorded the sums on a large blackboard at the front of the auditorium. The total amount raised was nearly $1,000.

Various fund-raising activities were carried out in this investment project. Mrs. Gladys Cassel invested $1 in seeds for a vegetable garden. The proceeds from the sale of these vegetables were re-invested in materials to make artificial flowers which brought in $85.55 for her mission fund. Mrs. Oscar Burton sold ladies' hose which increased her mission fund to $97. Others raised vegetables, flowers, fruit and chickens or made and sold baked goods and fancy work. Some sold books and magazines.

Every department in the Sabbath school engaged in some investment project. The kindergarten children under the direction of Mrs. Eva Forgette sold greeting cards and raised over $22. The primary children, led by Mrs. Fern Brown, 522 Belvidere-av, sold dish cloths and baked goods brought in $100. Members of the junior department under the leadership of Floyd Giebell planted sweet corn and had an auction sale which brought in over $20.

Christmas poems composed by the fifth grade students in Miss Willard's room at the Prairie Twp. School:

WE HAVE A LITTLE ANGEL

We have a little angel
Upon our Christmas tree
He's a good little angel
As good as he can be!

Once long ago, he was bad,
So they say,
But that was long before he learned,
To do things the right way!

Once many, many years ago to man,
But only yesterday in the Calendar of Heaven
When our little angel was only seven
Well, here's what he did.

He sassed the older angels
And stepped upon their toes
And whenever our little angel went by
There were ow's and ah's and oh's.

But then wise old Angel
Taught him to do things right
That's why he's a good little angel
Every day and night.

By Edward S. Meckstroth

THE CHRISTMAS TREE

We'll wake up Christmas morn to see
The beautiful, star-topped Christmas tree,
It's brightly colored bulbs and lights
Make Christmas Eve the best of nights.

The day before we string popcorn,
Make ornaments, some stars, a horn
In memory of the Christ Child,
An Angel we will make.

In memory of the new born King
Whom Herod wished to take,
We hang holly on the limbs
Of which a legend said,

When our Blessed Savior died,
The berries changed from white to red.
All this is on our Christmas tree,
And fills our holidays with glee.

By Edward S. Meckstroth, age 10

CHRISTMAS CHEER

A white Christmas brings lots of good cheer,
So perk up and have a lovely New Year
You'll have a wonderful time in the snow,
The children especially love it so.

The grown-ups may get stuck a few times,
But listen, perhaps you can hear bells and chimes
The church seems happy and so are the people
The bells ring out high in the steeple
So remember where would your good times go
If you didn't have fun in the snow?

SILENT NIGHT

Silent night, Holy night!
All is calm, all is bright.
'Round yon Virgin Mother and Child,
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace.

Silent night, Holy night!
Shepherds quake at the sight!
Glories stream from heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing Alleluia;
Christ the Saviour is born,
Christ the Saviour is born.

Silent night, Holy night!
Son of God, love's pure light
Radiant beams from Thy holy face,
With the dawn of redeeming grace,
Jesus Lord, at Thy birth,
Jesus Lord, at Thy birth.

"Silent Night" is reprinted here for three reasons—so many of us think it is the most beautiful Christmas song ever written; several have told me they don't know the words of the last two stanzas and would like to have them, and because in all my searching through books, verse magazines and newspaper clippings I could not find a Christmas poem more lovely or more simply written.

A friend for whom Christmas holds sad memories writes that she has decided to hole up with the groundhog till February 2. That reminded me of a true story out of Alaska. Two writers from the east went to Alaska and intended to spend the winter near Nome to "get away from it all," and to write the Great American Novel. After two months of nothing but them and snow they left their cabin, their typewriters and nice white paper and headed for civilization. They were about ready to kill each other (cabin-fever, I think it's called in the frozen north) and they confided to everyone who would listen that they were going back east where there were telephones, lights and noise. One snored and the other cracked his knuckles! ..Oh well, it filled up space.

No wonder children are confused! So many assorted Santa Clauses—some fat, some thin, some tall, some short. One little girl told her "official" Santa Claus (she ignores the others) that he has a lot of imitators. She is five. When she told her man that, he almost fell on his face, that coming from such a tiny girl. He later told his associates in the department store that he had thought till then, that he'd heard everything!

Mail — "The more Christmas cards I address, the more people I think of that I should send cards to. Greeting card companies must be loaded" . . . "We celebrated our fortieth wedding anniversary last week. We are in a rut, but it's a nice rut" . . . "Did you see the Japanese men on tv, December 7? I hope they are as sorry as they say, about Pearl Harbor" . . . "When I buy dolls for my nieces I always want to keep them." (This from a young lady, age 36.)

Have been trying to think of an original way to wish any readers of this space-filler a happy holiday season, but have decided the old familiar way is best, so—A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to everyone.

Good Question

A mother was telling her six-year-old son about the golden rule.

"Always remember," she said, "that we are here to help others."

The youngster mulled this over for a minute and then asked:

"Well, what are the others here for?"

the city and that loitering in the vicinity in the future, after curfew hours or in gangs, will bring arrests and court action.

It has been reported on numerous occasions that groups of youths in gangs at the corner have become bolder in their actions toward women pedestrians and on several occasions have used foul and profane language toward them.

Another facet, in the growing juvenile problem in this area, is the fact that a number of youths have secured draft cards which are fictitious and are using them in order to obtain liquor at bars. One Hilltop owner of a bar recently evicted six youths from his place of business when they presented draft cards claiming their age to be greater. The youths, however, were known to be not of draft age and were ordered to leave the premises.

West Setting City League Cage Pace

Pictured above is the varsity squad of West High School which is currently setting the hardwood courts afire with their high scoring cage aces. Only set back received by the Cowboys thus far this season has been at the hands of tall and rangy Newark. All games played since that opener have been chalked up on the victory side of the ledger.

In the above photo, left to right, first row are Hutchison, Redman, Trabue, Thornton, and Ruffner. Second row, Mayhew, manager; Haire, Bowman, Brown, Vincent and Zavatsky, manager. At top Coach George Williams. Absent at time of photo was Meyer.

The tournament at St. Charles has been changed from Dec. 29-30 to Dec. 26 and 27. All seats are 75 cents. Teams in tourney are Worthington, St. Charles, Baxley and West.

Continuing its high scoring pace, the West High Cowboy cage squad won its second contest of the City League season last Friday night at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum by trouncing a scrappy but outclassed Aquinas quintet by a score of 78-54.

The Cowboys are now deadlocked for the top spot with South High, each having two wins and no defeats.

In the early stages of the initial period the Irish jumped into a 12-8 lead behind the fine shooting of Keiser and Felice and continued in front by a margin of 14-13 as the period ended, but the Cowboys soon warmed to their task with Jerry Trabue, Bob Thornton and Earl Redman hitting consistently from the outside and underneath.

They soon had a commanding 30-18 lead, only to se the Irish battle back to narrow the score to 36-31 at the midway point.

The locals broke the contest wide open in the third period as Trabue and Thornton continued to spearhead the attack with the score mounting to a 60-42 lead at the end of three quarters.

In the fourth and final period the first stringers extended the lead to a 72-48 count before Coach Williams turned the game over to the subs, who also gave a good account of themselves.

Jerry Trabue was high point man for the night with 24 members while Bob Thornton followed with 17 (eight field goals in 12 attempts).

This Friday night on the home court the Cowboys will tangle with the ever dangerous North High Polar Bears, led by Jim Franklin.

North lost a heart breaker to South, the pre-season favorite, last Friday by a score of 48-47.

Glenwood Center Pre-Season Cage League Play Becomes Torrid

The Glenwood Center Boys Intermediate pre-season, with only two more sessions of league play, is being bitterly contested. The Dispatch 20 team pulled the upset of the week by taking the league leading "Atomic 8" to their first defeat, 30-28. The Panthers took the measure of the undermanned Cardinals 64-18, while the Rockets squeased out a win over the Rams 24-25.

The Atomics are leading the league with a 6-1 record with one game to play, the Panthers are fast closing the gap with a 5-1 record and two games to play.

Poston of the Atomic is the league high scorer with 71 while B. Elzy of the Panthers has 54 in second place. Robinson of Posey's is a close third with 52 points.

The Glenwood Little League finished the pre-season play with the Bears winning the title with a four win and one loss record. The Sevens finished in second place with a three and three record.

The top scorer of the league in pre-season play was M. Crawford of the Unknowns with 24 and in a very close second place was J. Hummel of the Yankees with 23 points.

The Little League will take a break during the holiday season while the teams are re-organized and continue practice for the regular season which will open in January.

There will be openings for additional teams in this league. Any team wishing to enter should contact "Doc" Rieaster at Glenwood Center, before Christmas.

On Thursday, Dec. 18, at 3 p. m. the Grady Motors girls team will play the Necco girls basketball team on the Glenwood floor. There will be no charge for the game.

In the senior boys pre-season playoff the Atomic again took the measure of the Firehouse team 61-37. The Atomic was given a game on forfeit by the Grace team to take over the top spot in the play off. Grace won their way into the playoff with a 51-36 win over Nance in the first game Thursday and defeated the Underdogs 50-31 in the night cap. They failed to show up for their game with the Atomics.

Voss is leading scorer in the league with 97 while his team mate on the Atomic, Crosher has 84 in second place. Harrington of Grace has 82 in third place.

The high flying Hotshots were upset in the pre-season junior league by the Wildcats 15-11. This marked the Hotshots first defeat and moved the Wildcats into a contenders spot in the league. The Hotshots have a 4 win and 1 loss record while the Wildcats have a 3 win and 1 loss record. There is one more day of league play for the pre-season.

Cargyle and McGraw of the Hotshots are still leading the league scoring with 36 and 33 respectively. Nichols of the Wildcats is in third place with 26.

Next Saturday winds up all pre-season league play at Glenwood. The leagues will be re-organized during the holidays for regular season play which will begin the first week in January.

In the Glenwood Center girls junior league the Martinetts are leading the league with a 4-0 record after their 22-3 thumping of the Queens. The "Scutters" who topped the Tigers resoundingly 43-4 hold down second place.

Martin of the Martinetts is high scorer with 20 in the league with Justice of the Martinetts and Popp of the Scutters tied for second with 26.

In the Glenwood girls senior League the Rocket 88 and Hilltoppers are tied for first place with 4 wins and no defeats. The Rockets topped the Dribblin Droppers 20-1 while the Hilltoppers sunk the Boochies 23-6 in this weeks play.

At 6:30 Wednesday, Dec. 17 the tie will be broken when the Rockets and the Hilltoppers tangle.

Acker of the Hilltoppers is the league high scorer with Mattey of the Boochies a close second. They have 56 and 55 points respectively.

The Rockets went to Beatty Center and played an inter-center game which Beatty won 18-11. Patty Carr got 5 and Joan Jordan got 4 points to top the scoring for the Rockets. The game was played on Thursday, Dec. 11. There will be a return game at a later date.

On Wednesday, Dec. 17 Beatty Juniors will play the Martinetts at Glenwood at 6 p. m.

There are games planned with the Godman Guild and with Sunshine for the future. Dates and times to be announced.

Hilltop YMCA Junior Church Cage League Starts Play

By Dick Wilson

The Hilltop YMCA Junior Church League started play last week with Hoge Memorial facing Church of Christ in the opening game. The boys from Hoge gave notice that they are out to repeat again as champions this year by handing a strong Church of Christ five a stunning 41 to 29 defeat. Warren Jamberton, 12 points, and Bob Kern, 12 points, were the "big guns" for Hoge. Clapsaddle was high man for Church of Christ with 10 points.

Hoge Memorial	10	16	16	8	—41
Church of Christ	8	4	9	8	—29

Burgess EUB also gave notice that they are to be reckoned with by downing a scrappy West Jr. Hi-Y team to the tune of 37-18. Poston was high scorer for Burgess with 8 points, and lanky Tom Coffman dumped in a total of 9 for the boys from the "Y". Fourteen fouls were called against the Burgess team and the "Y" boys made good on nine of them. Four fouls were called against West Jr. Hi-Y with Burgess making good on three of them.

Burgess EUB	8	8	8	8	—37
West Jr. Hi-Y	3	4	4	8	—19

The final game of the opening session proved to be a "cake walk" for the West Juniors as they swamped a scrappy but inexperienced Sullivant Avenue Friend's Church to the tune of 42 to 17. Kight and Posey, of the West Juniors shared scoring honors with 12 points apiece. Harsworth was high for the boys from Sullivant-av with a total of 10 points, four of which were scored from the foul line.

The Presbyterians from Hoge Memorial showed championship form in the third game of the evening by downing St. Paul's EUB 40 to 24. Witter was high scorer for Hoge with 18 points. Cartmills was the star for St. Paul's as he swished through 14 points.

Hoge Memorial	11	10	16	14	—40
St. Paul's EUB	4	8	14	12	—24

The final game of the evening was another example of experience over scrappiness. The Volunteer Firemen had the experience, and the West Sr. Hi-Y had the scrappiness and willingness. This scrappiness just wasn't enough to counteract the Firemen's experience as the "Y" boys were soundly thumped 20 to 16.

Volunteer Firemen	11	12	8	8	—20
West Sr. Hi-Y	6	5	4	4	—16

The second week of play was filled with lots of excitement and improved ball playing. In the first game, Glenwood Methodist downed Church of Christ 20 to 11. Apostolic Gospel edged St. Paul's in an overtime period 24-23 in the second game of the evening. The third game was a hard fought contest between the Volunteer Firemen and Pythians with the Firemen ending up on the long end of a 48 to 40 score. The final game of the second league session was really a thriller as West Sr. Hi-Y upset a favored Hoge Memorial team 28 to 16.

Intermdiate "Y" Church Loop Gets Underway On Hilltop

By Dick Wilson

Two weeks of the intermediate church basketball in the Hilltop YMCA have passed since the organizational meeting last month.

The first week of play saw four fast but rough games. The opening game pitted a veteran Burgess EUB team against a green but scrappy Apostolic Gospel team. The cool playing of the veterans of the Burgess team proved to be the difference as Burgess ended up with 21 points to 15 for the Apostles.

Burgess EUB	4	4	6	7	—21
Apostolic Gospel	2	2	8	3	—15

A fast breaking and sharp shooting bunch called the Pythians gave a well coached but outplayed team from Glenwood Methodist a 26 to 18 setback. Nance was high scorer for the Methodists with 6 points, and B. Smith swished through 16 points for the Pythians.

Hilliards Five Tops Granville

Hilliards almost let an 11-point fourth quarter lead evaporate before rallying to nose past visiting Granville, 51 to 47, last Friday night.

The Wildcats' record is now 2-1. Hilliards reserves also won, 37-34.

Youngsters Prepare Christmas Tea For Mothers

The Glenwood Recreation Center Cooking Class has been preparing for a Christmas Tea for their mothers for several weeks. So that the refreshments are just as good as mother could make they have practiced making cookies and candy over and over. They haven't stopped here though; the favors were especially made for their mothers and even the pretty aprons in which the girls will serve 'tea were made for the occasion. The Christmas tea is to be held in the social room of the center on Dec. 19, 4 to 5 p. m. The girls pictured above are Elaine Chakers, Jane McIlyar, Beverly Gill, Sue Ann Scholten and Ann Kirch.

Research Center Gives Lowdown About Christmas Tree Selection

Once again vacant city lots are transformed into forests of Christmas trees and store fronts are hidden under the festive camouflage of pine. It is time to go out and buy a Christmas tree. Before you venture forth into the cold, you may be interested in reading what Dr. Frank Gilbert and Don Uhl, agricultural experts at Battelle Institute here in Columbus, have to say about the more popular Christmas trees sold in Franklin County.

Balsam Fir: Nice shape and very fragrant; loses its needles fairly rapidly and burns more readily than other varieties.

Scotch Pine: Holds its needles and has good shape; foliage is somewhat thin.

Red Pine: Has nice thick foliage and retains its needles; frequently has too much foliage to leave room for ornaments.

Virginia Pine: Low in cost; has a poor shape and tends to be somewhat scraggly.

And, having selected your tree, how do you keep it fresh? The experts say that the tree should be stored in a cool place until it is to be decorated, because Christmas trees lose moisture rapidly in heated rooms. The butt end should be placed in water, and the branches may be sprinkled if desired. A fresh diagonal cut about an inch above the original cut will aid absorption of water.

After moving your tree into the house, it should be placed in some type of holder with a water receptacle. Remember to add water when needed— and please, a safety note, no open flames near the tree.

Living Christmas trees, which can be secured from local nurserymen, are becoming increasingly popular. If you have been wondering how to fill those empty spaces in your landscaping plans, the Battelle scientists recommend that you consider the live Christmas tree. They especially appeal to children, and because they remain alive, keep fire hazards to a minimum.

Small spruces can be purchased with balled roots—ready to set out in your yard. These trees may be placed in tubs or other containers, and if the roots are kept watered and reasonable care taken in planting, the tree is almost sure to grow. One word of caution about spruces: these small trees grow to be mighty big trees, sometimes attaining a height of 100 feet at maturity. So to avoid grief in your old age, don't plant a spruce too close to the foundation of the house.

Your Youth

"Buy a Hilltop Kiwanis Christmas Edition." That was the greetings heard throughout the Hilltop last Thursday evening. The Hilltop Jr. and Sr. Hi-Y members covered Valleyview and by their cash returns, they performed a grand job. Thanks to the following fellows for their help: Jack Cannon, Carl Clous, Bob Delph, Dick Simmers, Dick Witter, Jim Fondaw, Tom Coffman, Keith Jenkins, Fred Lench, Woody Waltman and Dick Rice.

Due to the Gra-Y Basketball League, the Gra-Y club meeting schedule has been changed. Thought you might want the schedule: Tuesday, Highland Ave. Gra-Y and West Broad Gra-Y; Wednesday, John Burroughs Gra-Y; Thursday, West Mound Gra-Y; Friday, Westgate Gra-Y.

Stop — Look — Listen — All Gra-Y members. The Hilltop "Y" has now scheduled Saturday afternoon gym and swims at the Central "Y" for all Gra-Y members. Here is the event most of you Gra-Y members have been waiting for — a nice indoor swim with gym class as a bonus. Check with your Gra-Y advisor as to which Saturday your club is scheduled.

The Gra-Y and Jr. Hi-Y members have been Busy Little Bees this past week. Tuesday, two are going to visit the VA Hospital in Chillicothe. These fellows are using part of their candy sales profit to buy these Veterans Christmas presents. While in Chillicothe they will be guests of the Mead Paper Co. and the Jr. Hi-Y has a basketball game scheduled with the West Fifth Jr. High School. Mrs. Ingle, Gilbert Coffman, Warren Waltman and Dick Wilson, associate secretary, will accompany the group.

Seen at Seiller's

"Chosen by the museum of Modern Art, New York for the Good Design exhibit." Do you think you know which item in Seiller's basement gift market I'm referring to? It could be any one of many but it is a BEAN POT. Yes, and a dilly too. Electric and streamlined to the hilt, it still manages to look like an old fashioned bean pot. Furthermore it can be used for other handy "hots" too, like hot soup and hot dogs. Be sure and see it when your shopping at Seiller's.

Mrs. Ruth Proper and Mrs. Louise Day in the boys department were anxious to show this shopper the Hickok Station ensembles (just like dad's). Housed in a novelty box are the billfold, belt, extra belt buckle and matching tie clasp at $4 including tax. There's another at only $2.50.

Mrs. Day, who by the way is new to the Hilltop, said to be sure and tell the boys that Seiller's has Levi belts (real he-man belts for little he-men).

If you've been waiting for "Nanette" and "Cinderella" dresses as we understand a good many are, you can get them now. Mrs. Edith Lambert, of the girl's department, is glad to announce that she received an excellent supply in sizes 1 to 3 and 3 to 6x.

Mrs. Lambert, it was learned, will be spending her Christmas in Circleville, O., with her son and those wonderful grandchildren. Meanwhile, Mrs. Chester Johns, also of that department, has her son, Eddie, home from Asbury College for the Holidays.

Yes, there is a lot doing at Seiller's for the Yuletide Season . . . better stop by. — Adv.

"She hung up."

Craig Jones, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones, 785 S. Eureka-av, has that expression of the guy who has just lost his lady love. In view of the fact, however, that he's a bit too young we'll go along with the assumption that he just didn't care too much about posing for the camera.

New Church

the Methodist Church in 1948 to start the new Christian Church of Columbus.

The church building was started in Sept. 1948 on the corner of Powell-av and Olive-st. The congregation moved into the foundation of the new church on Christmas Sunday, 1948. All services have been held in ground floor of the church since that hour.

Last Spring it was decided to finish the new building. Preparation was made to lay the corner stone on Easter Sunday, but a heavy rain at that time postponed this event until the next Sunday.

Wonderful progress has been made on the church this year, and on Christmas Sunday, Dec. 21, the congregation will enter the new Church.

The church has a beautiful open ceiling with oak paneling. The Sanctuary will have an open chancel with a triune window. The pulpit, lectern, and the communion table are made of black walnut lumber.

The Lorens family of 3009 Fremont-st has resided on the Hilltop since 1942.

Starling High Students Entered In School Press Essay Contest

Editor's Note: Mary Donathan and Syrtheria Mauldin of Starling Junior High School have written and submitted essays for the school press contest in an anti-tuberculosis contest. To qualify they must show proof of publication in an accredited newspaper and as a service to these embryo journalists their efforts are printed below.

WHAT TB MEANS TO ME

By Syrtheria Mauldin

How do you catch TB? How can TB be cured? In fact what do you think TB is?

Tuberculosis is a lung disease, which if not caught in time, can cause death. Last year, it was estimated that over 400,000 people in the United States had active cases of TB, that is the tubercular germ was spreading. Out of the 400,000 cases forty thousand were sputum positive, that is, if anyone of these persons should cough in your face, you would catch TB. Others can have negative sputum, that is sputum that contains no tubercular germs.

TB is one of the top killers and can be caught by anyone. No certain race of people have it more than another race would.

Tuberculosis can be cured, but only by rest. No medical means has been discovered that could cure it. By surgery, they remove parts of the lungs.

Home cure is not adequate to cure this dreaded disease, for, you may say that you will stay in bed and rest, but after a while you are tempted to leave the bed thinking a little stroll would not hurt you, but that one little stroll might be the cause of your death.

Perhaps you find that you have TB, but yet you say I have to support the family. Think of it another way. If you put off going into the hospital to get well you may die of the disease, then the family would be left alone for good, to have to support themselves. Where otherwise there would be a chance that you would get well and be home for good. Be sensible. Many towns have a means to help out in such emergencies. To be away for awhile is better than never coming back.

The people are waiting at the X-ray department to take your X-ray. Will you go and save your life and that of your neighbors. Take them along too. Then you will be sure that death from TB will not sever your friendships. It's better to have a live friend than a dead one. So get that X-ray now. Let's buy Christmas Seals and help fight TB. You pay for these seals, use that money, by getting an X-ray that could very easily save your life.

The doctors are waiting with the necessary equipment and willingness to cure TB, but they can't make you get an X-ray, fight like your boys, sons, fathers, brothers, and relatives are doing in Korea, but fight, against one of the most dreaded diseases, TB, and be sure you win. Live to see the victory. Get that X-ray you have been putting off taking. Don't let this disease spread any farther. It's your duty as a citizen of a great nation like ours, to fight and stop tuberculosis, now before it spreads, the names of its dead any further.

What are you going to do — wait for the fellow next door to start the move to stop TB? No! Get him to go with you and when that death list starts to decrease [illegible] you will be proud, and have the right to say, "I helped do it." In this way security is provided for the children of the future. TB will be one less burden with which to cope. Help them by being sure you don't have TB. Then you will be able to say, "We have fought the battle and it is ours." It will surely be one of the greatest ever won.

WHAT TB MEANS TO ME

By Mary Donathan

It all began on that dreadful winter day; November 1946. My aunt had a terrible cold. Her cold became so severe that she had to go to a doctor. The doctor gave her some medicine and told her to go right home to bed. But my aunt did not obey. The first thing I knew she was placed in a sanitorium for tuberculosis.

At the sanitorium, the doctors tried every thing they knew to save her. On a Saturday afternoon the family received a call telling them to come to see her as they thought she would not live much longer. That night my mother and father went to see her. My aunt did not know anyone except my father. I wanted to go to see my aunt, but I was too young to be allowed in the hospital.

She died the next morning at three o'clock.

I also have an uncle who at the present time has tuberculosis.

My uncle became ill with tuberculosis while in the war. He was stationed in England. When he came back to the United States, an army doctor was giving the soldiers check-ups. He then found that my uncle had tuberculosis. He was immediately discharged from the army and advised to go to the tuberculosis sanitorium at Tucson Arizona. The first time he was there, the stay was five years. Then he came back to Columbus completely cured. But soon he started going out on dates and keeping late hours, and drinking alcohol to excess.

In June of this year he was not feeling well. He decided to go to the doctor. The doctor examined him and found that he had tuberculosis again. Again he was advised to go West to the sanitorium he had gone to first. The doctor said that tuberculosis this last time was caused from [illegible] drinking of alcohol.

My uncle is now at the [illegible] losis sanitorium in Tucson, Ariz. No one knows how long he will be there.

These two incidents in my own family caused me to be particularly interested in studying about tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis is a disease which usually occurs in the lungs. The germ was first discovered by Robert Kock in 1882. It is sometimes referred to as Kock's bacillus.

Tuberculosis attacks most people between the ages of 15 and 25; however, anyone can get this disease.

In 1900 tuberculosis ranked first in the annual death rate with a death rate of 202 out of 100,000. Today it ranks sixth and the annual death rate is 65 out of 100,000.

The tubercle bacilli are rod-shaped organisms. These can affect any part of the body but they are most likely to attack the lungs.

Sunlight is man's foremost ally to fight against tuberculosis as it kills these germs readily. This disease is not hereditary.

The presence of tubercle bacilli can be found by a tuberculin test. A substance of dead tuberculosis germs is injected beneath the skin. If the skin turns red after a time this shows that the person has tuberculosis germs and that is called a positive reaction. If the skin does not turn red this shows that the reaction is negative. There is also a newer test called the patch test which works in a similar way.

Tuberculosis is only cured by complete rest, fresh air, sunshine, and proper diet.

For the patient to get complete rest he must remain inactive, have his mind completely free from business worries, and all other problems. To get fresh air and sunshine, the patient must live in the open or have special ventilating systems. The proper diet includes milk and other foods that contain calcium.

There is not much value at the present in medical preparations, serums, and vaccines in the cure of tuberculosis. In former years people who had tuberculosis traveled over this country to find the desired place for the cure of tuberculosis. Now doctors know that it is not always true that climate has anything to do with the cure of tuberculosis.

The X-rays that are taken are paid for by the Christmas seals. No other money is used. The hospitals and clinics are kept up by the taxes of the national, state, and local governments.

J. H. Ryan Heads New May & Co. Central Point Store

The grand opening of the new May Co. suburban store in Central Point Shopping Center was held this past Monday. The furniture store provides a spacious display of nationally known lines of home furnishings and floor coverings which are grouped for easy choice.

James H. Ryan, assistant manager of the downtown May's store for 16 years, is manager of the new store.

The 75 by 200 foot storeroom has a gentle, shadowless illumination of recessed fluorescent lights that do not interfere with the true colors of fabrics. A decorative pool filled with water plants and gold fish, adorn the main display floor. The store has a large mezzanine floor.

Westinghouse appliances will be featured, Mr. Ryan said.

Salvation Army Show To Be Aired

WBNS radio station will broadcast the Salvation Army's annual Christmas transcription "Army of Stars." This will be a half-hour program on Sunday, Dec. 21, from 1:30 to 2 p. m.

This has the voices of Margaret Roggero, Jan Pearce, Salvatore Baccaloni and Frank Valentino, who are well known for their connection with both the Metropolitan and San Francisco Opera Companies; also, Dorothy Warenskjold who is nationally famous for her participation on the Telephone Hour and the San Francisco Opera, and Jean Fenn highly acclaimed in the current opera season.

These famous voices are heard in Christmas music and operatic arias on the 1952 "Army of Stars," with the backing of a wonderful orchestra and a crisp and succinct script. The voice of Lionel Barrymore is heard also in this Christmas transcription.

St. Raphael Guild 14 will meet at the home of Mrs. S. V. Faller, 201 S. Sylvan-av, for a 1 p. m. luncheon and Christmas party, Dec. 21.

3 TESTS OF A THOUGHTFUL FATHER

He carries adequate life insurance.
He has drawn up his will.
He has drawn up in advance of need and while all concerned were present to approve it, a suitable burial estate in keeping with his general living conditions. He has demonstrated forethought in facing the obligations that every man owes his family!

Not so many years ago, a Swiss mountaineer died—a man who considered he had failed.

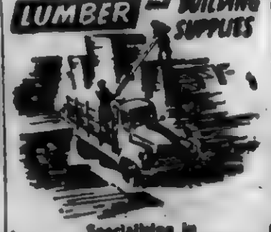
For years, he had been trying to scale one of the highest of the Alps. Many times he came close to the top. But something always made him turn back—treacherous ice, stinging winds, or snow which made progress impossible.

At his death, he had not achieved one of his goals. But he had reached greater heights, and seen greater sights than any other man in his village.

And the shaft the villagers erected over his grave carried three magnificent words, "He died climbing. . . ."

All men do not aim at the same goal. Not everyone can climb the same mountain.

But your church knows this to be true:—in all men's hearts are good goals, worthwhile goals, that can best be attained through participation in church membership. The church bestows the spiritual assistance that all men need in their drive to the top.



That is one of the great reasons for attending your church regularly.

With the help of God's strong hand, you will climb the heights together.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord?

Biggest news of the week! Merry Christmas To All

The Gay Philosopher Says: "Sometimes a man devotes all his life to the development of one part of his body . . . the wishbone."

Pre-Christmas Notes: Comes a nice card from Jack Morris now with Uncle Sam in Germany and saying the country is much recovered since he was there during the war . . . and a nice holiday note from E. Blair Graham expressing his appreciation to the community for all his happy years at John Burroughs . . . And we did appreciate that fine card from one of the city's largest financial institutions even if we did have to pay 3c for postage due . . . We highly recommend that firms needing help investigate the supply of available manpower of retired gentlemen . . . We advertised for such help this week and could have hired a dozen men, all of whom will make better employees than a lot of younger men today . . . Announcement of new members of city council is scheduled for right after Christmas . . . Sam Alford, one of the candidates for council appointment, has been in attendance at all recent council meetings and is getting acquainted with the workings of the job . . . George Milligan, 3940 Hoover-rd, credits the Hilltop Record and West Side News with helping him to sell the 9000 turkeys raised on his farm and we claim that is sure a lot of white meat . . . Officers of the Franklin County Fair Board will be elected Jan. 5 . . . Since this is the first time Mr. and Mrs. George Skipper have been away from home at Christmas, their children want to wish them and their sister, Mrs. M. G. Banning and family a Merry Christmas. The Bannings are residents of River Edge, N. J., and receive The Record . . . The greetings are from Mr. and Mrs. Pies Roush and son, Mr. and Mrs. David Skipper and children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Skipper and son . . . The Hilltop Kiwanis newspaper sale is ten dollars richer after receipt of that amount Thursday from Mrs. Hazel Roberts . . . It is a new daughter for Mrs. and Dr. Fred Marsh and she has been named Stephanie Lee . . . Ray McVay, Gene Wolfe, Bob Cramer and Hayden Jones will receive tickets to the Hartman Theatre for their Kiwanis ad selling reward . . . Miss Jackie Powell, daughter of former Hilltoppers, Howard and Melba Powell, now of Los Angeles, will be returning to California day after Christmas after a visit here with relatives.

North Upsets Cowboys Five By 62-60 Score

By Wood Owens

North High's cage five pulled the upset of the season to date in the City League as they upset the previously unbeaten West Cowboys by a score of 62-60 in a contest played last Friday night on the losers' floor.

The Cowboys played their poorest ball of the season and instead of the smooth team-play which was so much in evidence in the win over East a few weeks ago, the locals reverted back to their "individualism" which was very much in evidence, as several times during the contest certain players attempted to dribble through the opponents only to lose the ball instead of passing to a teammate who was in the open.

Also many unnecessary shots were taken when another player was in a better position for the goal attempt.

It is very evident if the local quintet would forget about who scores the points and play teamwork, no quintet in this area could defeat them.

The Cowboys led by Thornton's 8-point spurt grabbed a first period lead of 16-10 and with Earl Redman's 11 markers leading the way they way they led at halftime by a 27-27 count.

The Polar Bears led by Jim Franklin and Bill Hinkle began to close the gap in the third period and trailed only by a 49-45 count at its conclusion.

Two goals each by Hinkle and Franklin put the Polar Bears ahead early in the final period by a 53-51 score with the Cowboys never again being able to take the lead although the score was tied four more times with two free throws by Jordan in the final minute icing the contest for the Polar Bears.

Franklin and Hinkle led the Polar Bears' attack with the former teaming up with Morgan to also turn in a fine rebounding job.

Earl Redman scored 17 points for the Cowboys and also turned in a fine rebounding game.

Judy Henry Wins First In Annual Color Contest

A flood of last minute entries in the Hilltop Record's annual Christmas coloring contest really presented a problem to the judges of the event. Youngsters in the contest displayed amazing aptitude in coloring the drawings which were printed over an eight-week period in these news columns.

Little Miss Judy Henry, 208 N. Burgess-av, aged 11 and a 6-A student at West Broad Street elementary school was the top prize award of a new $5 bill. Judy's coloring done in water colors easily captured the contest's first prize award.

Other winners in the contest, each of whom will receive a brand new pair of Chicago Ball Bearing Roller Skates for their efforts in the competition are Jack Barr, 734 S. Eureka-av; Connie Sue Conard, 1443 Thomas-av; Marcia Calahan, 810 E. Terrace-av; Barbara Pohle, 3108 Wicklow-rd, and Sanya Graham, 822 Wiltshire-rd.

All winners are asked to pick up their prizes at The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, by 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Holiday Blood Donor Appeal Is Made Here

The Red Cross Columbus Regional Blood Center, 312 E. Broad-st, will be open three days as usual both weeks before Christmas and New Year's Day; however hours for donating blood on Wednesday, Dec. 24, and Wednesday, Dec. 31, have been changed for these two Wednesdays ONLY:

The Blood Center is open Mondays, 2 to 8 p. m.; Tuesdays 10 a. m. to 7 p. m.; Wednesday (Dec. 24) 10 a. m. to 12 noon, and Wednesday (Dec. 31) 10 a. m. to 12 noon. The Center will not be open on either Wednesday afternoon.

As the holiday season is also usually the season for emergencies, Red Cross officials urge that everyone who possibly can, donate blood before Christmas and during the following week.

Dr. Charlotte Winnemore, Center director, reports that if 125 pints of blood can be collected each day at the Center, there will be enough blood for those in our local hospitals and to meet the quota for the armed forces.

Letters have been sent from the blood donor recruitment committee to firms and industries urging an additional number of donors be scheduled during the holiday season in order to meet the needs.

The bloodmobile visit for Ohio Penitentiary this month had to be cancelled due to the riot in October. It has been the custom for the men at the penitentiary to donate blood at this season to help tide over this busy time.

Appointments to give blood may be made by calling FE. 5841.

Dick Orr Wins Miles Trophy At West High

"To a little guy, with a big heart," was the way that senior Dick Orr was described by West High Coach Mack Pemberton as he was announced as the winner of the Miles Trophy, presented by Dr. Jack Miles.

After each season this trophy is presented to the boy who in the opinion of the coaches, has improved the most during the past season and contributed more than was expected of him to his team's success.

The choice of the coaches this year was quarterback Dick Orr, who stands only five feet six inches tall.

Meeting Date Advanced For Kiwanis Club

Due to the fact that Christmas Day falls on Thursday the regular meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club has been advanced to Wednesday of this week, according to announcement by club officers.

The program on tap will be in honor of Christmas Day with singing of carols predominating, along with the annual exchange of neckties by members of the organization.

Offices Close For Holidays

In order that the employees of this newspaper be able to enjoy the Christmas holidays, the offices will close as of Tuesday 5 p. m. and remain closed for business until 8 a. m. Friday, Dec. 26.

The same schedule will hold true for next week's issue with early deadlines again being in effect.

Voice on phone: "Are you the lady who washes? "No!" (indignantly). V.O.P.: "You dirty thing!"

W. Mound PTA Holds First Party In New School

Members of the West Mound Street Elementary School PTA held their first Christmas party in the new school last Friday afternoon with all marveling at the contrast between the party held last year in the old portable buildings and that of this year. Santa was on hand to greet all the kiddies and mothers in the auditorium. In the top photo Santa poses with the PTA mothers present who were Mrs. Jack Weller, Mrs. Paul Blakely, Mrs. Russell Esly, Mrs. Robert Self, Mrs. W. D. Skidmore School

By Bizie Radcliffe, Principal

In these closing days before the Christmas holidays events have moved rather swiftly.

Preparations for the Christmas program, Wednesday, Dec. 17, under the direction of Mrs. Crossmock, were completed Monday. The program was quite successful, with all grades doing very well.

Among the visitors at the program were Mr. Jahn and Mr. Hawtherne, members of the board of education.

Ladies of the PTA sacked the candy for the children's treat for Friday, the 19th.

Distribution and exchange of gifts on Friday, followed by the PTA treat and a delicious turkey dinner, wound up the holiday festivities.

Incidentally our basketball team has played three games and won all three. The victims, in order, were South Perry, 51-13; Prairie Elementary (New Rome), 33-19, and Briggsdale, 23-14. We hope that they can keep up their winning ways.

Now, a word of appreciation to all the members of Skidmore faculty, to Mrs. Graves and her helpers, and to Mr. Beverly and all pupils for their fine cooperation during my stay at Skidmore as principal.

I have decided to re-enter merchandising business and retire from the teaching profession. I can only wish for all of you a very Merry Christmas, and a successful and prosperous New Year.

Mary Ellen Says:

Gentle Care Means Longer Wear For All Hand Laundered Fabrics

If using hard water, soften it properly. Use hot water for cottons—otherwise lukewarm. Squeeze suds through fabric with both hands, use several fresh gentle rinsings, roll in towels to remove moisture. Use water softeners with soaps. Choose detergents according to fabric, brighten color in fabrics with a mild bleach, add bluing to white articles, if needed, use stretchers for shaping. Wash, daily, garments worn next to the skin. Lightly brush soiled spots on girdles. Washing helps retain shape of elastic garments. Treat any blended fiber as a rayon and protect wet rayon from sudden strains.

Measure knitted garments before washing. Rubbing or squeezing woolens increases shrinkage. Woolens standing in a wet heap may bleed color. Be sure to shape and dry sweaters on a towel. Wash colored garments separately. Shorten soaking and washing of colored items. Use two sudsings if garment is badly soiled, use a mild bleach to remove stains on gloves. Wash and rinse gloves quickly on hands.

Wash white nylons separately from colored. Nylon, Orlon, Dacron, may be drip-dried. Mild bleaches in wash water "freshen" nylons, however, they must be thoroughly rinsed. Hosiery dries more quickly if they are towel rolled.

Never mix colors. White nylon absorbs even the faintest tinge of color in the water. Never mix tinted or colored garments with white, as there is a chance for color transmission even though it does not show in the water. Wash rayon or nylon garments with other garments which are only lightly soiled. Never wash delicate rayon or nylon lingerie with heavy garments. Never put off till tomorrow . . . the washing you can do today! It is best to wash nylon and rayon underthings every day. Most girls do this just before bed-time.

Do not give soil a chance to "set" by waiting several days. For nylon, rayon and all synthetic fibre fabrics the water should be luke warm. The easiest way to be sure is to dip your elbow in it. If the water feels just barely warm, it is safe for synthetic fibre fabrics.

Santa Pays Early Visit To Glenwood

Santa Claus is in town and already for Christmas and to prove it he is stopping at all recreation centers on Christmas-eve to greet the children and present them with an advanced treat of candy and nuts. The jolly ol' fellow will stop at Glenwood Recreation Center on Christmas Eve from 3 to 5 p. m. just before the center closes for the big holiday. The city recreation department has given him an invitation to make his tour and talk to the children every year as he is doing in above photo at Glenwood.

At Glenwood not only are the children invited to the Santa Claus party but all Hilltoppers may come. There will be movies on Christmas stories and other entertainment. The Glenwood staff has suggested that if you have forgotten to ask Santa for something you wanted, the Dec. 24 party would be a good place to confide in him and possibly your last chance this year.

Santa Visits Legion's Annual Christmas Party

Old St. Nick himself put in an early pre-Christmas appearance last Friday at the annual Christmas party of Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion. More than 70 of the little tots were on hand to greet the jovial old fellow and to receive from him treats of fruit and candies. Following Santa's departure members of the Auxiliary and Legion post exchanged gifts.

No Snow Poses A Problem

In the picture three-year-old Johnnie Ingles, 560 S. Wayne-av, gathered up the snow in his front yard last week to save for Santa but unfortunately it has all melted away. For all little tots who find themselves in the same predicament we dedicate the following:

Hi little fellow
With springs in your feet,
Fingers that tingle and
Roses in your cheeks.
Santa is coming
I want you to know,
But how will he bring toys
Without any snow?

Let's write him a letter
That's the thing to do,
And suggest he trade his sleigh
For a jet plane or two.
He could travel much faster
In about half the time,
Mrs. Santa could fly one
Which would make everything fine.

Yes, your toys would be delivered
In time for Christmas Day,
And the Clauses could go home.
For their long winter's stay.
Everyone would be happy,
You with gifts and Santa with his plane,
Except, alas, the poor reindeer
Who have been faithful year after year.

So golly gum drops
What can we do,
Unless Santa keeps his reindeer
And buys a jet plane too.
Then he could use the one
Which ever the weather permits,
And that would solve everything

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

All roads lead home at Christmas time and if at no other time during the year, most everyone plans on enjoying the candle glow, mistletoe and the new fallen snow at home. Christmas doesn't seem to have the same meaning away from the home fires.

During World War II, which hasn't been in the too far past, many families were saddened because their boys couldn't be home for Christmas (and there were many who never returned for another Christmas). But with the close of the war we began to look forward to a peaceful Yuletide and our service men were included in all plans.

Years continue to pass however, and although we're not considered at war neither are we at peace and our young men are still being sent away to fight.

Many of those who are stationed within the United States will be granted a furlough but many more are in foreign lands or are too far away to get home for Christmas and the holidays will no doubt be empty ones even though they will receive gifts and greetings.

No doubt many of our soldiers, especially those who are spending their first Christmas away from home, will cry themselves to sleep Christmas eve (even if soldiers aren't supposed to cry as we mothers often told them when they were little boys) as will their mothers and wives be doing.

Crying for our loves ones is no shame but an unwanted war which to many of us seems so unnecessary, especially when this is the season of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men", is a shame.

Let us hope that out of this Christmas season the prayers that fill the air will pave the road to a final peace.

"I slept with my dog last night."
"That's very unhealthy."

Campfire Girls' News

By Pat Martindale

After doing many service projects over the past year the Camp Fire groups of the Hilltop and West Side bring the year to a close with each group having a Christmas party and gift exchange.

In the Blue Bird group, Mrs. Wayne Clemens and her girls made door decoratins using chicken wire and coat hangers and covering them with evergreen, made Indian corn necklaces, strung pop-corn and have planned a party for Dec. 29. Each girl in this group gave two cans of fruit and five dollars from the treasury to add cheer to a family's Christmas.

Mrs. Charles Fullerton's group painted fruit and vegetable plaques and made potholders for their mothers and held a Christmas party with the exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Hazel Jenny's group made Crinoline star trees with a candle for the center and on Dec. 18 went caroling with a party and gift exchange following.

Mrs. Herbert Howard's group made Christmas tree decorations and Mrs. R. W. Geist's group held a party on Dec. 17 and made gifts of wash cloths and soap animals for their mothers.

Mrs. George Reis' group painted angel statues and one of the mothers is planning for the Christmas party while Mrs. Ogilvie's group painted blue bird and picture plaques and made Christmas cards.

Blue Birds of the Westgate School in Mrs. Clemens', Mrs. Howard's and Mrs. Fullerton's groups serenaded the field director, Virginia Herbert, on Dec. 15 and presented her with a gift in honor of her approaching marriage.

In the older girls Camp Fire Groups, Mrs. Robert Draper's girls held a party and gift exchange on Dec. 18 at the home of Bobbie Lou Beeman's home, after caroling to shutins. Mrs. Benjamin Kovitz's group made cards and tags and will have their party and gift exchange at the home of Carol Blum.

The girls in Mrs. James Mathany's group assisted with a party for the women at the Columbus State School, filled stockings for veterans at Chillicothe, filled two baskets for the Lutheran Center, sent five dollars to the Crippled Children's School at Jamestown, S. Dak., and are planning their Christmas party for Dec. 22 with a gift exchange.

Mrs. Guy Boots' group made Christmas candles and are going caroling and Mrs. Freda Ream's girls made candy for a family and sachets for the Columbus State School. Mrs. Karol Whitlatch's group made leather comb cases and aprons for their mothers, gifts for the Columbus State School and held their party on Dec. 18 with a gift exchange. The girls in Mrs. Bertha Gramlich's group covered jars with raffia for gifts and held a party with a gift exchange.

The girls in Mrs. Eleanor Gaskill's group made nylon flowers, painted luncheon sets, made aprons for gifts and gave gifts to Columbus State School. They will go caroling on Dec. 22 and are also planning a Christmas ceremonial for the parents.

The Upper Arlington Camp Fire Group of Mrs. Betty Gauff entertained at the Columbus State School on Dec. 20.

'Hansel and Gretel' Join the Procession

The original score of "Hansel and Gretel" was composed by Englebert Humperdinck as a Christmas piece.

The musical fairy tale created a sensation.

Since Humperdinck was one of Wagner's most intimate assistants, his harmonies have been dubbed "nursery rhymes — Wagnerian style" and since fairy tales and nursery rhymes are appropriate at Christmas, "Hansel and Gretel" has joined the procession of traditional Christmas music.

A Hilltopper Sees—

Other Lands

Editor's Note: A Hilltop minister, Chester G. Stanley, 106 Elden-ev, who is pastor of Highland Avenue Friends Church, and his companion, Rev. Charles A. Matti, of Urbana Friends Church are now on a round-the-world missionary observance trip for their church. From time to time Rev. Stanley will drop communications to The Hilltop Record reporting his observances of world conditions as seen by a Hilltopper abroad. The following is the second of the dispatches received from Rev. Stanley:

Tai-Chung, Formosa, Dec. 13, 1962
Dear Hilltoppers:

This morning we are riding a train going north on the island of Taiwan (Formosa). This is National China today. Living in a land like this gives one strange feelings and many strange sights.

The mountains of Formosa are beautiful, the range reaching almost the full length of the island. There are 48 peaks that stand more than 10,000 feet above sea level. The entire island is less that 300 miles long. Fruit is found here in abundance. The finest oranges in the world, without regards to California or Florida, are grown here. Many other fruits, like bananas, lemons, papayas, mangoes, watermelons (yellow centers), pineapples, langans, sapadillas, guavas, and avacados are piled high on the market places. Two crops of rice are raised each year. Sweet potatoes, sugar cane and peanuts, along with 80 different vegetables, are raised on the island in great abundance.

This all sounds wonderful, but still be thankful you live in America, a land so wonderfully blessed of God. Much of the work to produce the above crops is done by water buffalo, oxen and women, though men work much in the fields, too. The Taiwan woman takes her place right alongside man in bearing burdens, mixing cement, digging, caring for lawns and crops.

This is a land that knows almost nothing of sanitation and one needs to be in constant care of his food and drink. Although China is known as the land of good foods and good cooks one does not always know just what he may be eating. Exchange here is $22.70 Taiwanese dollars to one American dollar. Our breakfast this morning cost $8.80. It consisted of watermelon, warm cereal, ham and eggs, butter and toast and coffee. In American money it cost us just 37 cents. Maybe you better take your meals out here—but, on the other hand, it costs a sight to get here.

Churches in Taiwan are scarce. In a city of 80,000 there are three small missions, only four missionaries, a few native churches and 100 heathen temples. These temple are expensively built and well kept. But remember, we of America have more to be thankful for than we really know.

Sincerely,
Chester G. Stanley,
106 Elden Avenue.

THE OLD YEAR

I saw him limping down December's lane,
And when he came to where it ends in nothing
He looked back and leaned upon his cane;
His pockets bulged out with most everything
That he could pick up in a twelve-month space.
And when the New Year bells began to ring
A terrible grin of cunning crossed his face—
I shouted to him. No, he would not fling
A single trinket back, but in the dust
He dropped an object coated thick with rust . . .
And I had won! For memory's little key
Will unlock all the old year's doors for me.
Ruth Olive Angell,

NEW YEAR'S EVE

God, each New Year's Eve
I've said a prayer
And asked You to keep me
Through the year.

You have always kept us
Through the years
Do You get tired
Of the same old prayer?
Marlene Anne McFarland, age 14.

Marlene Anne's mother sent in this poem. She said she found it scribbled in one of M. A.'s schoolbooks. Under it was written "I, Marlene Anne McFarland, wrote this. It is an original by McFarland." Miss McFarland's dream at this writing is to be a dress designer but her mother says maybe next week she'll be dreaming of being a rodeo-rider or "lady doctor" again. As long as she dreams

SOMETHING, she is all right. As has been said, Youth is the time for dreaming.

It hasn't been many years since kind neighbors were keeping toys that Santa Claus had sent in advance, for me; now I'm doing it for two friends, to say nothing of toys for my granddaughter. So—as my favorite shutin says—this space-filler is being written "on the bias," for even the chair at the desk is piled with a space ship outfit, or whatever they are called. It's on the back of the chair and I'm on the front. No vacant space on the floor because there are two sleds; lots of huge, anonymous boxes; a rocking-horse; swing; an automobile and a bicycle! So—please, somebody, read this! It's being written under difficulties—and in the words of my paper-boy, "I ain't a-kiddin'!"

In this morning's Ohio State Journal, Clyde Moore says he can't think of an answer to "Merry Christmas." I can't think of a way to say "Happy New Year," except just—HAPPY NEW YEAR, EVERYBODY!

More Caution Urged During Holiday Season Against Hazards

Holiday season is a time of year to observe certain precautions and practices, that it may be the joyous time it was designed to be, suggests Dr. O. M. Goodloe, Columbus health commissioner.

The Christmas tree, for instance, is best bought from a dealer who kept it outdoors. This is not only because it is a better buy for the householder, but because it is by nature heavily laden with pitch and resin, which makes it highly combustible. It will ignite easily and burst into furious flame quickly if dry.

Here are some rules to observe to reduce this hazard: keep the tree outside until only a day or two before Christmas; place the tree in a stand with the trunk in a water holder; locate it away from sources of heat; use non-flammable decorations; don't use light cords in which the wires are frayed; always turn off the lights when going to bed or leaving the house; don't keep the tree indoors longer than a few days; use a step-ladder when dismantling the tree.

These are rules to reduce chances of sustaining burns or having falls, both of which are high accident hazards.

"Christmas is a time which taxes one's health doubly because we're all inclined to over-eat and over-indulge, and we're induced to eat things which aren't always good for us," submits Dr. Goodloe. "And because nobody wants to be ill at Christmas time, we sometimes force ourselves when we should take to bed and call the doctor," he adds.

Children frequently eat more candy than they normally do, which induces Dr. Goodloe to recommend drinking water or milk afterward.

DECORATIONS
By Virginia Nolk and Betty Nester

Miss Betty Ley, teacher of foods at Starling and the pupils in the food classes have decorated the cooking room in the old-fashioned way.

The table is set in an old-fashioned way with silverware, a kerosene lamp and an old-fashioned coffee grinder, all of which are more than 98 years old.

On a small table, there is an antique coffee pot and a cup which are nearly a hundred years old.

Miss Ley and the girls have made popcorn trees, popcorn apples, popcorn lollipops and popcorn balls; also pine cones with colored snow and candles on them for decorations; stars with candles in them; and sprayed snow on pine in the dining room. Then too, there is a scene of a reindeer at the North Pole.

There is a red fireplace. Beside it is an old-fashioned corn popper, and the butter churn. There are logs in the fireplace with a kettle containing corn meal cooking in it. The stool is setting beside it, where the people of olden times sat beside the fire and peeled apples.

The decorations and pictures were put up by Sue Yseeldyke. The tree was decorated and presents put under it by the pupils.

MOVIES FOR ENGLISH
By Mary Depoy and Sandra Redmon

The English and general business classes at Starling Junior High School are having movies about education. The 9B general business classes have had two movies about credit. The titles were "Every Seventh Family" and "That's Something to Him."

The movies were about great progress, economics and growth of our country, which are based on credit, business and trusting others. It shows development of a system for collecting credit information which resulted in the establishment of Dunn and Bradstreet Credit Co., which today publishes credit information regarding people and business in every state.

On Wednesday, Dec. 17, the English classes saw a movie, "A Close Call," which was about safety. Lt. Charles E. Beach especially emphasized railroad safety in his discussion. His discussion was excellent and held the children spellbound.

FAMED FATHER
By Larry Cordial

The father of one of Starling Junior High School pupils made the headlines this week. The news was made by Lt. Col. George Miller, whose son is George Miller, Jr., a member of the 8B class.

The Millers lived in Georgia until this past summer, when George and Mrs. Miller moved to Columbus and the lieutenant-colonel went to Korea. Since then, Col. Miller has been in charge of Pongam Island.

He made news by giving the order to shoot some 200 Korean communist prisoners of war. The order was given when some 2000 Korean prisoners tried a mass break. Mrs. Miller and George, Jr., now live at 1484 Sullivant-av.

The Baers arrived in this country from Germany on Nov. 1 of this year and visited friends in New York, New Haven, Baltimore and Washington, D. C.

When asked about her impression of our bustling and congested cities, Mrs. Baer observed that she thought our traffic quite baffling (she drives their German car) and the terrific number of cars quite breath-taking. The mode of transportation in her country is the bicycle for the majority of people.

Mrs. Baer further observed that the one outstanding characteristic so noticeable in the children and adults is their great freedom. She likes television and especially all the marvels of the modern age which the American housewife takes for granted, f.e., the refrigerator, washing machines, ironers, deep freezers, electric toasters, etc.

The Christmas Story In Verse

By Esther Weakley

CHRISTMAS SONG

A choir of shining angels sing:
"Glory be to God on high!"
Why couldn't I that night have been
A star, deep in the sky?

With eager feet the shepherds came;
Before Him, wondering, fell.
Why couldn't I that night have been
The poorest of them all?

Sweet, luminous, in stable dusk,
His Mother's love aglow.
Why couldn't I that night have heard.
Her song, soft and low?

With rich, rare gifts the dignified,
Learned wise men kneeling, pray.
Why couldn't I that night have placed
A small gift on the hay?

HERALD OF THE DAWN

Ring the bells of Heaven! The tocsin call
Of truth and justice roused to valiant deed
Sounds clear above the boastful, ashen thrall
Of vaulting greed.

The tumult and the shouting die away
In full retreat. Comes now the buoyant ring
Of sky-borne chimes to greet a The valleys ring!

Flamed truth is on the march. The Child Who came
In swaddling clothes is sovereign God complete,
In holiness arrayed; His cross the shame
Of foul deceit.

God's ageless flares, the sentinels of night,
Are signaling across the wastes of war.
All you who bleed for justice, feast your sight
Upon His star.

CHRISTMAS HYMN FOR MOTHERS

Jesus was but a little Boy,
As mine is now, and Mary's feet
Went many errands with great joy
To make His hours more sweet.

And Mary's hands were hands of good,
Toiling for husband and for Son;
The holy angels understood
And blessed each service done.

And Jesus, looking from the cross,
Knowing what was at last to be,
Comforted Mary for her loss
With all eternity.

AMONG OTHER THINGS

I wonder if Her hood was really brown,
The hair that peeped beneath it flecked with gold?
Was She a little frightened by the town,
And was the dingy stable very cold?

Sometimes I think Her cloak was palest blue,
Holding soft ringlets in their place;
But then, again, it were a different hue
Reflected from the glory in Her face.

Did She ride patiently, into the town?
(If tremblingly, then surely no one knew)
Did jostling crowds disperse at Joseph's frown,
Unknowing that Her inner terror grew?

Does it seem strange that lowly stables hold
Soft-breathing things and frail cobwebs of lace
Beneath their rafters, yet securely fold
Deep mother-love in such a little space?

THE DONKEY'S CAROL

As they went up the broad road
That leads to Bethlehem—
Mary and her Child-to-be
And the donkey that carried them—

Joseph flagged from weariness;
Mary sighed full sore,
But the little donkey held up his head,
Proud of the load he bore.

As they went up the white road
Along the pristless snow—
Mary drooped her tired head;
Joseph's foot was slow.
But the little donkey stepped light and high
And though he had no words,
His heart was full of singing thoughts
Like silver-throated birds.

Yonder rode the holy twain.
As we follow them
Let us praise the little donkey

WE MUST KEEP FAITH

We must keep faith with the children tonight—
Christmas still is the season for giving.
Gay is the flicker of warm candlelight;
Youth claims its own universal birthright.
We shall keep faith with the children tonight—
Sharing their joy is the essence of living.

Our wavering hearts need the warming spark
Of childish voices in carols ringing
To kindle new fires against encroaching dark
Of loneliness leaving its searing mark;
Hungry hearts need but the answering spark
To release old dreams and set them winging.

We will keep tryst in the warm firelight glow,
For somewhere a boy rides the sky trails high.
Redeeming the pledge of that Night long ago—
"On earth, peace and good will to all men"—and so
We will keep faith in the dim afterglow
With that high, pure star in the eastern sky.

Geraldine Trickel Is Bride Of David Lazenby At Nov. 29 Rites

(J. Curtis Allen Photo)
Mr. and Mrs. David L. Lazenby

The Westgate EUB Church, 61 S. Powell-av, was the setting for the wedding, Nov. 29, of Miss Geraldine A. Trickel, daughter of Mrs. Marie J. Trickel, 192 S. Huron-av, and the late Mr. Ralph G. Trickel, to Mr. David L. Lazenby. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lazenby, 578 W. 10th-av. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Dutt at 7:30 p. m.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Richard A. Trickel, the bride wore a white ballerina length gown of satin, lace and tulle. Over the white satin strapless bodice she wore a lace jacket with a high neckline and buttoned to the waist. The skirt was tulle over satin. The tulle was designed with handkerchief points overlapping each other. A white lace border showed through the tulle at the bottom of the skirt. She wore white tulle gloves and white satin brocade slippers. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of white satin, interwoven with pearls.

Around her neck, the bride wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a lace handkerchief which was also carried by her sister at her wedding. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of red roses with white streamers.

Mrs. Mary Ann Ward, 1657 Wilson-av, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss June Bishop and Miss Marcia Patridge. The attendants wore ballerina length gowns styled the same as the bride's of net, lace and taffeta. The matron of honor's gown was deep rose and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses with white carnations. The bridesmaids wore deep turquoise blue and carried colonial bouquets of deep pink roses.

Best man was Mr. Bruce Beck. Ushers were Mr. Clarence Ward and Mr. Neal Beard.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Trickel wore a teal blue gown of silk faille, navy accessories and a corsage of deep pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue crepe gown trimmed in lace, with beige accessories. Her corsage was also deep pink rosebuds.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Richard A. Trickel, Miss Peggy Taylor, Miss Betty May Trickel and Miss Bonnie Lou Trickel.

The couple is now residing at 2119½ Sullivant-av.

The Christmas Story In Verse

By Esther Weakley

CHRISTMAS SONG

A choir of shining angels sing:
"Glory be to God on high!"
Why couldn't I that night have been
A star, deep in the sky?

With eager feet the shepherds came;
Before Him, wondering, fell.
Why couldn't I that night have been
The poorest of them all?

Sweet, luminous, in stable dusk,
His Mother's love aglow.
Why couldn't I that night have heard.
Her song, soft and low?

With rich, rare gifts the dignified,
Learned wise men kneeling, pray.
Why couldn't I that night have placed
A small gift on the hay?

HERALD OF THE DAWN

Ring the bells of Heaven! The tocsin call
Of truth and justice roused to valiant deed
Sounds clear above the boastful, ashen thrall
Of vaulting greed.

The tumult and the shouting die away
In full retreat. Comes now the buoyant ring
Of sky-borne chimes to greet a
The valleys ring!

Flamed truth is on the march. The Child Who came
In swaddling clothes is sovereign God complete,
In holiness arrayed; His cross the shame
Of foul deceit.

God's ageless flares, the sentinels of night,
Are signaling across the wastes of war.
All you who bleed for justice, feast your sight
Upon His star.

CHRISTMAS HYMN FOR MOTHERS

Jesus was but a little Boy,
As mine is now, and Mary's feet
Went many errands with great joy
To make His hours more sweet.

And Mary's hands were hands of need,
Toiling for husband and for Son;
The holy angels understood
And blessed each service done.

And Jesus, looking from the cross,
Knowing what was at last to be,
Comforted Mary for her loss
With all eternity.

AMONG OTHER THINGS

I wonder if Her hood was really brown,
The hair that peeped beneath it flecked with gold?
Was She a little frightened by the town,
And was the dingy stable very cold?

Sometimes I think Her cloak was palest blue,
Holding soft ringlets in their place;
But then, again, it wore a different hue
Reflected from the glory in Her face.

Did She ride patiently, into the town?
(If tremblingly, then surely no one knew)
Did jostling crowds disperse at Joseph's frown,
Unknowing that Her inner terror grew?

Does it seem strange that lowly stables hold
Soft-breathing things and frail cobwebs of lace
Beneath their rafters, yet securely fold

THE DONKEY'S CAROL

As they went up the broad road
That leads to Bethlehem—
Mary and her Child-to-be
And the donkey that carried them—

Joseph flagged from weariness;
Mary sighed full sore,
But the little donkey held up his head,
Proud of the load he bore.

As they went up the white road
Along the printless snow—
Mary drooped her tired head;
Joseph's foot was slow,
But the little donkey stepped light and high
And though he had no words,
His heart was full of singing thoughts
Like silver-throated birds.

Yonder rode the holy twain.
As we follow them
Let us praise the little donkey

WE MUST KEEP FAITH

We must keep faith with the children tonight—
Christmas still is the season for giving.
Gay is the flicker of warm candlelight;
Youth claims its own universal birthright.
We shall keep faith with the children tonight—
Sharing their joy is the essence of living.

Our wavering hearts need the warming spark
Of childish voices in carols ringing
To kindle new fires against encroaching dark
Of loneliness leaving its searing mark;
Hungry hearts need but the answering spark
To release old dreams and set them winging.

We will keep tryst in the warm firelight glow,
For somewhere a boy rides the sky trails high,
Redeeming the pledge of that Night long ago—
"On earth, peace and good will to all men"—and so
We will keep faith in the dim afterglow
With that high, pure star in the western sky.

Geraldine Trickel Is Bride Of David Lazenby At Nov. 29 Rites

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Lazenby

The Westgate EUB Church, 61 S. Powell-av, was the setting for the wedding, Nov. 29, of Miss Geraldine A. Trickel, daughter of Mrs. Marie J. Trickel, 192 S. Huron-av, and the late Mr. Ralph G. Trickel, to Mr. David L. Lazenby. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lazenby, 878 W. 10th-av. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Dutt at 7:30 p. m.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Richard A. Trickel, the bride wore a white ballerina length gown of satin, lace and tulle. Over the white satin strapless bodice she wore a lace jacket with a high neckline and buttoned to the waist. The skirt was tulle over satin. The tulle was designed with handkerchief points overlapping each other. A white lace border showed through the tulle at the bottom of the skirt. She wore white tulle gloves and white satin brocade slippers. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of white satin, interwoven with pearls.

Around her neck, the bride wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a lace handkerchief which was also carried by her sister at her wedding. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of red roses with white streamers.

Mrs. Mary Ann Ward, 1657 Wilson-av, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss June Bishop and Miss Marcia Patridge. The attendants wore ballerina length gowns styled the same as the bride's of net, lace and taffeta. The matron of honor's gown was deep rose and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses with white carnations. The bridesmaids wore deep turquoise blue and carried colonial bouquets of deep pink roses.

Best man was Mr. Bruce Beck. Ushers were Mr. Clarence Ward and Mr. Neal Beard.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Trickel wore a teal blue gown of silk faille, navy accessories and a corsage of deep pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue crepe gown trimmed in lace, with beige accessories. Her corsage was also deep pink rosebuds.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Richard A. Trickel, Miss Peggy Taylor, Miss Betty May Trickel and Miss Bonnie Lou Trickel.

The couple is now residing at 2119½ Sullivant-av.

'CHRISTKINDLI' IS SWISS

Santa Claus plays a very insignificant part in the Swiss celebration of Christmas, observed mostly on Dec. 24. It is Christkindli, the Christ Child, who makes the rounds of Swiss homes on Christmas Eve.

This radiant angel is said to have come from the North, traveling on a fairy-like sleigh pulled by reindeer, much in the fashion of our Santa. Christkindli brings good Swiss children a beautiful tree, and many gifts. Like Santa, he stresses obedience and admonishes naughty youngsters.

In producing more than half a billion tons of coal in 1950, the bituminous coal industry had the best accident prevention record of all time.

"Your girl friend is spoiled, isn't she?"

"No, that's just the perfume she's using."

Hotel Guest: (phoning desk): "Is there an exterminator in the house?"

Clerk (slightly irate—this being the third call): "What's eating you now?"

Guest: "That's just what I want to find out."

Christmas

IN THE CHURCHES

Nearly two thousand years ago, three Wise Men followed the Star of Bethlehem to a manger . . . the humble birthplace of Him who was to bring a new spirit into the World . . . the spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." Today, as in all the years between, that spirit lives on in the hearts and minds of all mankind . . . calling us to church on this, our Saviour's natal day . . . to lift our voices in those beloved old Christmas hymns and carols . . . and lift our hearts anew with the courage and hope of His message.

Colorful, Casual

WORTH SHOWING OFF is this handsome wool challis vest in yellow, with its pattern of hunting dogs in gray and red. A most appreciated gift, it's one of a wide selection of fancy vests now available. The sports jacket is a richly-colored coat tweed with warm brown stripes and soft red and light blue accent striping. Note the jacket's narrow lines, pocket flaps and the new ticket pocket.

Outward trimmings and festivities are a fine Christmas tradition, but the true Christmas spirit springs from the heart.

7:30 P. M. Topic: "What Happened At A Dance."

May you have a happy Christmas too!

May you have a tree, no matter how large or how small — whose branches hold the sweet fragrance of wind and earth and rain.

May your hearth be cheerful with firelight, with the crackle of the gift paper, and the laughter of little folk who believe they heard Santa come over the rooftop on Christmas Eve.

May your day be bright with friendly visits, the music of bells, and the age-old greeting of "Merry Christmas" that sounds so welcome on the ear.

But above all — may your heart be open to receive that great wave of love and brotherhood and understanding that circled the earth when Jesus was born in Bethlehem. That is the greatest gift of this day. That is the priceless gift of Christmas — from the Son of God who knew that brotherhood among men was their key to eternity.

Your church, with deep sincerity, wishes you each and every one a Merry Christmas!

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

Legion Post Plays Santa For Crippled Kiddies

Smith Barratt Post of the American Legion was host last Saturday afternoon to more than 30 crippled children who are wards of the state. A sumptuous dinner with all the trimmings, a floor show and a visit from Santa loaded with toys of all descriptions rounded out the day's festivities. The party was financed by a "What's This For?" drive headed by Chairman John Bowser.

YOUTH

To open this week's column, I would like to pay a compliment to the Hilltop Lions Club on the wonderful Christmas party they had last week for 25 children from the State School. The party was "chuck full" of entertainment, refreshments and gifts to all from Santa Claus. It was a true Christmas gesture and really showed the true Christmas spirit. Nice job well done, fellow Lions!

Speaking of Christmas brings to mind that the Hilltop YMCA Christmas Vacation Fun Club for boys and girls started last Saturday morning. The schedule calls for 12 days of fun, excitement and Christmas spirit for all concerned. The Girl Scouts kicked-off the program Saturday night with a formal dance at the "Y" office.

The West Jr. Hi-Y and West Jr. Tri Hi-Y then followed up by jointly attending a church service at Glenwood Methodist Church last Sunday morning.

Last Monday morning, boys and girls alike went to Holton Park and had "gads of fun" hunting chocolate Santa Clauses which Bob and I had hidden all over the park. The person who found the "right" Santa Claus was rewarded with a special large size Santa Claus.

West Jr. Hi-Y and West Jr. Tri Hi-Y once again showed the Christian spirit at Christmas time by throwing a Christmas party for 20 kids last Tuesday at Central Community House. Games, refreshments and gifts were the highlights of the party. Members of the clubs who organized and conducted the party were Phyllis Guyton, Nancy Heil, Patty Shay, Fred Lanch, Wendie Waltman, Tom Botkin, John Kuntz and myself.

And now, our Christmas present to ALL Hilltop youth is a bunch of special craft classes and movies. Here is the schedule:

Movies:
Tuesday, Dec. 23—Hilltop YMCA, 3 p. m.
Saturday, Dec. 27—Oakley Avenue Baptist Church, 2 p. m.

West Jr. Hi-Y Margined 41-32 By Chillicothe Junior High School

By Dick Wilson

West Fifth Junior High School of Chillicothe won its fifth straight game of the season last Tuesday on its home floor by margining a scrappy West Jr. Hi-Y quintet by a score of 41-32.

The West Fifth boys have been their district champions for the past four years and are predicted to come through with another championship this year. They have lots of experience and height along with a coach who is "worldly wise" in the field of basketball. This combination spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the game inexperienced boys from the Hilltop. In the early stages of the initial period the Hilltop "Y" boys jumped into an 8-4 lead behind the fine shooting of Coffman and Waltman and continued in front by a margin of 11-8 as the quartet ended.

West Fifth bounced back in the second quarter with Martin and Fairrow hitting consistently from the outside and underneath for a total of 12 points. The Chillicothe defense also tightened up to hold the "Y" boys down to five points in the quarter. The half ended with West Fifth holding an 18-16 margin.

The "Big Red" from West Fifth broke the contest wide open in the third period as Martin and Fairrow continued to spearhead the attack with the score mounting to a 31-20 lead at the end of the three quarters.

In the fourth and final period the "Y" boys once again came to life with substitute forward, Fred Lanch, putting on a fine exhibition of ball handling and hoop ringing for a total of 7 points. West Fifth was outscored 12-10 in this period, but nevertheless, gave a good account of itself by meeting the "Y" rally with nerves of steel to gain a 41-32 victory.

Red Martin of West Fifth was high point man for the night with 13 members, while Bud Fairrow of West Fifth and Tom Coffman of West Jr. Hi-Y followed with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Glenwood Pre-Season Cage Leagues End In Hot Races

The Glenwood Center boys' pre-season league finished their play this week. The Bears won the Little League Championship, the Atomic Five won the Senior League championship, the Cardinals won the Junior League Championship and in the Intermediate League the Panthers and the Atomic Five tied for the championship which will be played off on Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 7 p. m.

Eley of the Panthers has 100 points to lead the league (Intermediate) while Jackson, also of the Panthers, has 75 to be in second place. Poston of the Atomic team is in third place with 71 points.

The Senior League came to a torrid finish this week with an upset of the Firehouse by the Grace Methodist team in a game that was nip and tuck all the way with the final score of 57-54 indicating the closeness of play. Harrington of the Grace team moved into second place in league scoring with 95 points to nearly top Voss of the Atomic who is in first with 97. This league will reform during the holidays and begin play for the regular season during the week of Jan. 5.

The Junior League wound up league play on Saturday with the Cardinals annexing the title of the league that they had led all the way, losing only one game of six. The Wildcats gained second place. Nichols of the Wildcats squeezed into first place in league scoring with 33 points to top the Cardinals' McGraw's 32 who is in second place. Robbins of the Wildcats is in third place with 22 points.

All the Glenwood Leagues will reorganize during the holidays and begin regular season play the first week in January. Any team that is interested in entering the leagues should see "Doc" before Dec. 27, which is the deadline for entry in the leagues.

The Junior Girls' League took a break in league play this week and used the league time for practice.

The Glenwood Senior Girls' League played its last round of games until after the first of the year, since the center will be closed on the next two Wednesdays. The Hilltoppers took the Rocket 88 by a 14-7 score to gain the first place in the league. The loss by the Rockets drops them in to second place.

Mattex has edged in to the league scoring lead by one point with 66, topping Ackers who has 65.

All the girls leagues will be reorganized after the first of the year with leagues for the junior age girls up to 13, for the intermediate age girls 14 through 15, and senior age girls 16 through 18.

The girls leagues will continue their play on Jan. 7.

Troop 58, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Saint Paul Evangelical Church at 22 S. Warren-av, and one of the Red Feather participants observed its third birthday this November. Formed late in 1949 with a group of eight boys it has more than tripled its membership. Charter members still with the troop, all of whom are now explorer scouts are Ted Calvert, Clare Baileys, Bob Chesser, Don Keller and Don Chesser.

During the time the troop has been in operation it has sponsored several drives to present toys to various children's organizations and paper drives to help finance the improvement fund at the church. They have also earned the money to completely outfit the troop with tenting and cooking equipment, etc.

Troop 58 has actively participated in all district and council activities. At the council camporal held at Delaware this year two patrols from 58 took part and received two of the four excellent awards given this district.

They also took part in the Scout Circus held last February during Scout week at West High School and took four firsts, two seconds and two third place ribbons in the competitive events. They plan to take part in a similar event to be held this year.

These scouts serve as ushers at the football and basketball games, help out at the State Fair, etc.

The troop committee is composed of the following: Mr. Moran, Mr. Calvert, T. Graham, Mr. Stone and C. Graham. Scout leaders are Austin Hutt, Explorer advisor; Harry Keller, scoutmaster and Lee Chesser, assistant scoutmaster.

Recipe For A Happy New Year

Take 12 fine, full grown months. . . . see that these are thoroughly free from old memories of bitterness, rancor, hate and jealousy . . . cleanse them completely from every clinging spite . . . pick off all specks of pettiness and bitterness . . . in short, see that these months are freed from all the past . . . have them as fresh and clean as when they first came from the great storehouse of Time.

Cut these months into 30 or 31 equal parts. Do not attempt to make up the whole batch at one time (so many persons spoil the entire lot in this way), but prepare one day at a time, as follows:

Into each day put equal parts of faith, patience, courage, work, (some people omit this ingredient and so spoil the flavor of the rest) hope, fidelity, liberality, kindness, rest, (leaving this out is like leaving the oil out of the salad—don't do it), prayer, meditation, and one well selected resolution. Put in about a tea spoonful of good spirits, a dash of fun, a pinch of folly, a sprinkling of play, and a heaping cupful of good humor.

Pour love into the whole and mix with a vim. Cook thoroughly in a fervent heat; garnish with a few smiles and a sprig of joy; then serve with cheerfulness, unselfishness and cheerfulness.

The above was written by a man named Link and was presented Sunday morning by Jack Bensenbrenner before his Sunday School class.

Hilltopper Dies In Christmas Eve Auto Crash

A Hilltop man was killed Christmas Eve when his car skidded and smashed into an embankment near his home, sheriff's deputies reported. The victim was John E. Buskirk, 23, of 3081 Pleinview-dr.

He was pronounced dead at Mt. Carmel Hospital with a broken neck suffered when his car careened into the bank at Wilson-rd and Brookside-dr.

Sheriff's Sgt. James Potts said Buskirk had apparently been pinned against the bank by the door of the car which flew open across Wilson-rd.

Sgt. Potts said that the auto was traveling west on Brookside-dr, at an apparently high rate of speed, when the brakes were applied where the street ends into Wilson-rd. The car went into a spin and finally crashed into the bank after throwing Buskirk from it.

Just before the accident, a car driven by John Girton, 222 E. Fulton-st, had been hit by Buskirk's car as it backed from the driveway at Buskirk's home. The left rear fender of Girton's auto was damaged, but Buskirk's car did not stop, deputies said.

He was fleeing from that accident, apparently, when the fatal mishap occurred, officers theorized.

Buskirk is survived by his wife, Shirley Ann; a son, Howard; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buskirk, 693 E. Welch-av; a sister, Helen Albright of Zanesville, and two brothers, Cecil and Charles, both of Columbus.

Funeral were held in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

Burial was made in Green Lawn Cemetery.

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

We are optimistic people. Maybe that's because we are Americans, and that's another one of our privileges brought on by our "American way of life."

With the closing of the old year preparations are being made to put the past behind us, especially the unpleasant parts of the past, and to open the door to 1953 with smiles, eagerness and hopefulness.

To many, 1952 may have been kind and the good-bys may not be regretful but for those who have not had a pleasant year it is the closing of a chapter in their lives that must not be repeated and the beginning of a new, more pleasant and more hopeful chapter.

Regardless of what 1952 has brought, there has not been one of us who cannot but have profited by the past years experience and should therefore be more able to face 1953 more easily, and although we do not know what is in store for the new year let us hope that as Americans, whatever the future brings, we will face it with courage and fortitude.

Glenwood Center News

The annual can-good movies held at the Glenwood Recreation Center was enjoyed by young and old alike. Two features and several cartoons were shown. Cans of soup, vegetables and fruit were contributed as admission to the entertainment and was later given to a charitable organization to be given to the poor.

Teen-agers and the younger set at Glenwood caroled through the neighborhood just before Christmas and on several occasions were rewarded with cookies by those who enjoyed the singing. Surprisingly more boys joined the carolers than girls. The group caroled to many shut-ins on the Hilltop.

Many children from this area attended the Christmas Eve party at Glenwood. Cartoons of Mickey Mouse, the CooCoo Bird and several others were shown. The surprise and main feature of the party came after "Doc" Reister read "Virginia's Letter" to the Sun; Santa appeared and gave a treat to each child and listened to what each one wanted for Christmas.

The Charm Club party was very successful. Dancing was the main activity and Cranberry red foamy punch and cookies were served.

The teen-agers held their party in the gaily decorated center under soft lights and mistletoe. Small gifts were contributed by all who attended to be given to Neighborhood House Nursery.

The center has a festive look for the holidays decorated in the traditional greens and ornaments. Hanging of the greens and the decoration of the tree was a participation of all ages from both the Hilltop and West Siders.

Teen-age representatives were guests to the Teen-age Council Party held at Sunshine Recreation Center the week before Christmas.

A Hilltopper Sees—

Other Lands

Editor's Note: A Hilltop minister, Chester G. Stanley, 196 Eldon-ay, who is pastor of Highland Avenue Friends Church, and his companion, Rev. Charles A. Metti, of Urbana Friends Church are now on a round-the-world missionary observance trip for their church. From time to time Rev. Stanley will drop communications to The Hilltop Record reporting his observances of world conditions as seen by a Hilltopper abroad. The following is the second of the dispatches received from Rev. Stanley:

Lutheran World Federation
33 Granville Road
Hong Kong. 12-21-52

Dear Hilltoppers.

By Northwest Airlines we rode above the clouds from the Island of Formosa to this great city of the Orient. As we approached the Port we could look into the distance and see mountains of Communistic China. As we looked down we were able to see a great many boats and ships. Hong Kong Harbor is one of the busiest in the world.

Here we are staying on the Kowloon side of the city, which is actually a part of the mainland of China but owned and governed by the British as a part of the Free Part of Hong Kong.

This surely is the capitol of the Orient to all English speaking people. Here one finds people from every land and nation. Little stores by the thousands and many of them operated by natives of other lands. The Cantonese of China are great business people and do a thriving business here. Many stores are operated by natives of India. These shop keepers stand at their doors and would almost force you into their places of business. Of things to buy there is no limit, things of beauty and art. Carved furniture that makes an American wish he could take enough home to furnish a whole house. Carved ornaments from coral, jade and ivory, carved in almost every possible design, and designs so intricate they would seem to us impossible.

Here one travels on the left side of the road. We are becoming quite mixed up in this thing of right and left travel. In the U.S. all are supposed to keep to the right, in Japan it was to the left, then in Formosa all traffic drove on the right, and now, in Hong Kong we are back on the left again. It surely is a good thing we travel in busses, taxies, pedicabs, and rickshaws instead of trying to do our own driving and change with every country entered.

With every move from one country to another sights and customs change. This is an English Port and many Britishers are on the streets. It is mush easier for an English-speaking person to get around here than either Japan or Formosa.

Wages here are unbelievably low. Exchange is $6.00 Hong Kong money for one U.S. dollar. Native women do heavy day labor for only $2.00 H. K. a day or 33c American. The men get another dollar making their wage about 50c American. Their days are long, they know nothing about Sunday and work seven days a week, beginning at seven in the morning and working until dark. How would we live in Columbus on such wages as these? Water is a scarce article here, too, and hot water seldom ever shows itself. We take so much for granted in the States. We could well be more thankful for all the blessings that come our way.

From Hong Kong we go to Singapore, Malays. We'll be there over our Christmas day. Surely this will be a different Christmas —away from our families and in a strange land.

May you each have a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,
Chester G. Stanley

Hilltop Youth Church Attendance Is Rewarded

Scenes such as this were repeated in many Hilltop churches on Sunday, Dec 28, as pins were awarded to high school youth of the community who were certified to have attended church for the past 10 Sundays. The Youth For Church movement was started and originated this year by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. The group above receiving their pins are from Burgess Avenue EUB Church. They are receiving their pins from their pastor, I. H. Lens, while Harold Lloyd, chairman of the Kiwanis Church Committee, looks on.

In Passing

By ESTHER WEAKLEY

"Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing." Romans 15:13.

YEAR'S END

When a great change has come to street and byway,
When years have built with stone upon the earth,
And trees are gone, landmarks lost on the highway,
The heart has no reminders, feels no dearth.

For there is challenge while the young are listening,
How time has wrought, how you were by her side,
And what is new, gives forth its own calm glistening
And you are gladdened by a secret pride.

But, when the place has seen no change, when alley
Or road or meadow claims no altered chart,
The sound of river-quiet in the valley
Will cheat the ordered mind and break the heart.

Catherine Haydon Jacobs, in The Poetry Chap-Book.

After Christmas—gaily colored Christmas wrapping paper and ribbon being blown along the street, muddy and torn (if I were poetic I'd write a poem about the briefness of glory as so many have done about Christmas trees after Christmas) . . . that feeling of landing back onto terra firma after living on a holly-trimmed cloud for a week or two . . . tired clerks ready for the exchange melee, most of them ready, complete with smiles and courtesy, bless 'em . . . good memories to help through the next year . . . looking over Christmas cards and picturing each friend who remembered.

Somebody clipped this and sent it to me. Since the author's name is not attached credit cannot be given, but it is worth passing along. "All of us are frustrated. None of us can force life into his own pattern. No one attains all he wishes to attain. No one can avoid all he wishes to avoid. But the sane realize this unpleasant reality and face it. They compromise, they adjust; they strike an average between their basic desires and what can be achieved."

How to live with a broken heart—turn turtle; grow a hard shell. That might work, then again it mightn't.

From The Atlanta Journal ("Covers Dixie Like The Dew"): At a dinner party several of the guests were arguing whether men or women were more trustworthy. "No woman," said one man scornfully, "can keep a secret." "I don't know about that," huffily answered a woman guest. "Why I have kept my age a secret since I was 21." "You'll let it out someday," the man insisted. "I hardly think so," responded the lady. "When a woman has kept a secret for 27 years she can keep it forever."

Mail—"We took her to a Christmas play and while some of the children were singing about Santa Claus giving a big party she piped up 'Do you have to have tickets?'" Cowboys Set Scoring Mark At Delaware

By Woody Owen

West High's cage squad nearly wore out the nets last Tuesday night at Delaware as they buried Willis High of that city under an avalanche of points by a score of 102-75.

Five new records may have gone into the books as a result of this contest. The 102 points scored by the Cowboys broke both the Franklin County and West all-time record.

The torrid 54% with which the Cowboys connected is also a new mark. The total points of 177 scored by the two quintets may also be a new record, along with the Cowboys' 39 field goals. Further search of the records will have to be made to confirm the latter two.

Bob Thornton and Jerry Trabue combined to account for 59 of the Cowboys' markers as Earl Redman again turned in a fine rebounding performance.

Ed Harter tallied 18 points for the home quintet.

Atomics Win Pre-Season Cage Title

On Tuesday night the Glenwood Intermediate League played off for the pre-season championship. The very closest battle was won by the Atomic 5 in the closing seconds of the game. The game was close all the way. The Panthers held the lead at the first quarter 8-6 and at the half 16-14. The score was tied 19 all at the third quarter. The last second basket by Bill Bryant iced the game for the Atomic.

Bill Jackson was high point man for the game and the losers while Bill Bryant got 8 and Poston got 6 for the winners.

This game made little difference in the league scoring B. Elzy is still the top scorer with 100 points, Poston moved into second position with 79 points. Jackson is in third with 75 points.

The winners of the leagues with their squads are as follows:

Senior league — Atomic Five, Jerry Imes, Dwight Reynolds, Durward Vincent, Ken Garber, Perry Creed, Bill Voss, John Whalen and John Chesher.

Intermediate League — Atomic Five, Dick Black, Bill Bryant, Clark Bryant, Gary Bryant, Norm Buckingham, Ronnie Hill, Jerry Pollock and Byron Poston.

Junior League—Hotshots, Larry Davis, David Luster, Donald Luster, K. Williams, Ray Brattos, McGraw, Cargyle and Milton.

Little League — Chicago Bears, Jerry Bellamy, Cliff Conner, Bob Friend, Ken Gressiere, Jerry McQueed, Dick Brothers, Jim Davis, Gary Garrett, Sammy Miller and Don Shaffer.

The Glenwood leagues are being reformed and will begin play on the regular season schedule during the week of Jan. 5.

Money Bedecked Christmas Tree Starts Fund For Mission School

An unusual kind of Christmas tree covered with greenbacks bedecked the front of the auditorium at the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Sabbath school Saturday. Members brought their year-end offerings for missions and pinned them on the tree, some in the form of bills of $1 and higher denominations, and some in envelopes containing pennies, nickels, dimes, and quarters. The offering totaled over $250 which will help make possible a new school in South India, Mrs. Glen Coffin, 1084 Georgesville-rd., superintendent, said.

Mrs. Edward Pohlman, a former member of the Eastwood Church now living at Oxford, Ohio, who spent 17 years in India as a missionary, sent a story written by some people in India among whom she had worked. This story was dramatized by three members of the Columbus church during this morning's program featuring the needs and opportunities for Christian missions in India, Pakistan and Burma. Also three girls from the upper grades of the Church's grade school sang a trio.

Church leaders hope that, when reports are in from the denomination's 3,127 Sabbath schools in North America, this year's offering will top even the record-breaking $1,238,934 given a year ago for missions.

The offering is expected to provide $70,000 above regular budgetary needs of the denomination's world missions program for special projects in India. In addition to building the new high school at Tanjore, the fund will make it possible to send more missionaries into the Hills of Assam, where a widespread revival of interest in Christianity, first introduced 80 years ago, is creating an urgent demand for workers.

Dec. 7 Ceremony Unites Betty Roederer and Kenneth Kile

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kile

Glenwood Methodist Church was the setting on the afternoon of Dec. 7 for the wedding of Miss Betty Roederer and Mr. Kenneth Kile. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Shellhaas, assisted by Rev. G. W. Eley of the West Jefferson Methodist Church.

The couple repeated their vows before an altar banked with palms, fern and white chrysanthemums with the soft glow of candlelight from the tapers of the seven branch candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Martha Brown sang the favorite selections of the couple, "Through the Years," "I Love Thee Dear" and "The Lord's Prayer." A prelude of organ music included "Clair de Lune" and "Serenade" from The Student Prince, then swung into the familiar strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March" as Miss Roederer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Roederer, 452 Belvidere-av, approached the altar on the arm of her father.

She wore a gown of traditional ivory satin, with long sleeves tapering to points over her hands, and skirt extending into a graceful train. The gown was the one worn by her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Owen, at her wedding. A fingertip veil fell in cascades over her shoulders and she carried a white Bible, adorned with white camellias.

Miss Sara Kile, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and the bride's only attendant. She wore an off the shoulder gown of red velvet, with fitted bodice and full, floor-length skirt. An arrangement of holly leaves was worn in her hair and she carried a colonial bouquet of green pompons and holly leaves.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Kile, West Jefferson, had his brother, Mr. John Kile, as best man. The guests were seated by Mr. Terrill Hay, Mr. George Eley, Jr., Mr. Dick Lehmkuhl and Mr. Jack Winnestaffer.

Mrs. Roederer chose for her daughter's wedding a pink boucle suit with navy accessories, and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. J. C. Kile was attired in a dressmaker suit of brown, with accessories in winter white, accented by a russet mum corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Newton Perry, sister of the bride, Miss Ruth Ogle, Miss Lou Ann Rhoades and Miss Dorothy Penny.

The new Mrs. Kile was attired in a suit of grey with navy accessories when she and Mr. Kile left for a short wedding trip to Michigan. Mr. Kile has now returned to his base in Key West, Fla., where he is a sonarman aboard the submarine, the USS Sea Poacher. He will be joined by Mrs. Kile in January.

Out of state guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Newton Perry, Ocala, Fla., Mr. Herbert Roederer, Tulsa, Okla., a brother of the bride, and Dr. and Mrs. James Kile Jr., Oak Ridge, Tenn.

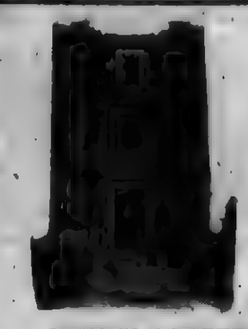
Harris B. Anthony, Minister — 400 SOUTH WARREN AVENUE
10:45 A. M.—Morning Worship: Rev. and Mrs. F. D. Savage, returned missionaries from Japan will speak. He is a former Columbus pastor.
7:30 P. M.—Sermon by Rev. F. D. Savage.

All of us stand at the gates of the New Year.

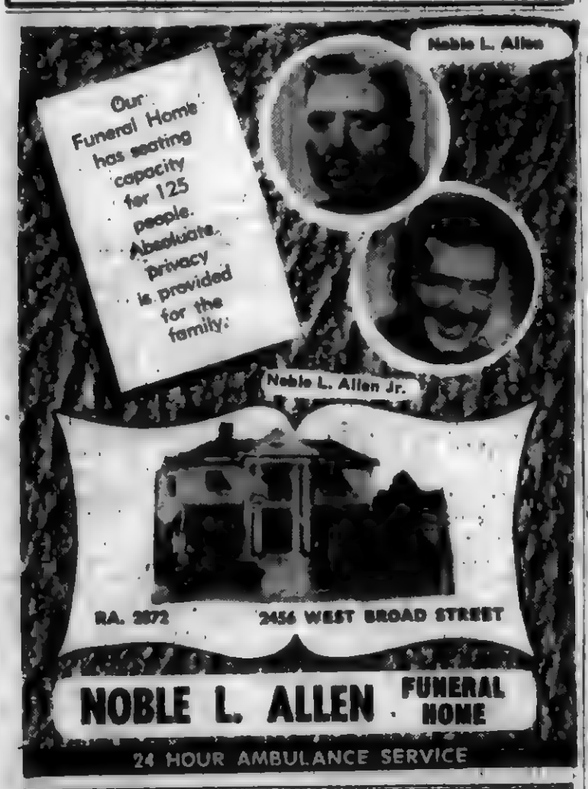
All of us will enter them soon.

What shall we carry with us? The regrets for things left undone in the old year? Or shall we shoulder our hopes for the New Year—and pass bravely through the gates . . .



It is a temptation to carry the old regrets with us—the plans, the dreams, the ambitions never quite realized. It is hard to leave them behind.

But the New Year calls for courage, and a "free step". We cannot carry the old regrets forever. Now is the time to drop them, to back up our new resolutions with action, and with the courage that comes from the Church, march happily into this brave New Year.



Carry your good memories of bygone days, for they are light. But cast the regrets aside—they can only be burdens. Enter the gates of the New Year with courage and hope and faith, and the road will be clear ahead.

With the hope that you will make this year count as one of your best years, and with the thought that a lifetime is measured by action—not hours—your Church wishes you and your dear ones the happiest of New Years.

Cast away from you all your transgressions . . . and make you a new heart and a new spirit.
Ezek. 18:31

EAST OF EDEN
By John Steinbeck

"East of Eden" may or may not be a great book—I'll leave that to the professional critics. It is definitely one of the best books to appear in a long time. Most people, or let's say everyone who reads it will like it, enjoy it, love it, or secretly wish they could have written it!

"East of Eden" covers, more or less, our nation's last hundred years and our trek from East to West in search of an Eden that is always just out of reach.

The principal characters are members of the Trask family—Adam, the father; his evil wife and his two sons. The Hamilton family, Steinbeck's own forebears, and Lee, a Chinese servant, also figure prominently in the story. Indeed, it is from Lee and Sam Hamilton that the real meaning and philosophy of the book is gleaned.

Steinbeck's characters, each with his good and bad traits, are quite believable and very human. Adam's wife, Cathy, is the exception—she is all bad. However, the author convinces the reader that Cathy is real too by explaining that she is very unlike a human being with faults and virtues, but, rather a monster from which all good has been removed.

One critic, H. C. Webster, says, "'East of Eden' can be taken as a long parable expertly told. Adam Trask is a fallible, gullible and intelligent man who thinks he has found his earthly paradise in the Salinas Valley, is seduced by his Eve, and comes out of the moral wilderness this sends him into to achieve belief in himself and in the world in which he must learn to live." The story of Cain and Abel and every human's power to choose which way he shall go in the eternal struggle between good and evil plays a meaningful role in the book.

A person looking for fast physical action had better skip this book; anyone wanting some mental and psychological exercise with thought provoking philosophy, beautiful word pictures, a bit of horror and nasty realism, and a first rate story had better not miss "East of Eden."

GOOD HEALTH FOR ALL

By Marian Lewis

DIPHTHERIA

WHY TAKE A CHANCE?

Parents once dreaded the approach of winter. Cold weather meant diphtheria. The very name struck terror in their hearts!

Until the discovery in 1895 of diphtheria antitoxin, too many parents had to sit helplessly by while diphtheria strangled their children to death or paralyzed them with its poisons.

There was little or nothing they could do.

Medical progress since that time, has reduced deaths from diphtheria in this country from 35 per cent to five per cent of those stricken. Diphtheria toxoids now provide almost complete immunity against the disease.

Parents can do something about diphtheria, the Columbus Tuberculosis Society emphasizes. They can protect their children from birth by having them immunized.

In fact, they can't afford not to. For diphtheria today has lost none of its deadliness. It is a killer, strangling or poisoning its victims. Those who recover are sometimes left with heart trouble or lingering paralysis. Every year diphtheria attacks more than 15,000 Americans and kills more than 1,200, most of them children less than five years of age.

Wise parents, the Columbus Tuberculosis Society advises, will consult the doctor about immunizing the baby as early in life as possible. Diphtheria's distinguishing mark is a grayish membrane which forms in the throat or nose. Its early symptoms include fever and sore throat and often resemble those of an ordinary cold.

Like tuberculosis, diphtheria is caused by a germ spread from person to person by those who are ill or those who have picked up the germ. Healthy adults or children can pass on diptheria germs even when there is no case of the disease in their community. It is almost impossible to protect your child against such unsuspected or unsuspecting carriers except by immunization.

Your doctor can tell you when your baby should have his first injections. The usual recommendation today is for two successive doses of diphtheria toxoid when the child is two to six months old, reinforced by booster shots three to 12 months later. To control diphtheria effectively, booster doses should be continued in preschool days and on through the early school period.

It is now possible to combine the immunizing agents for diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus into a single series, with less inconvenience and greater protection for the child.

Don't take a chance on your baby's life.

Ring out the old—Ring in the new. And put on your new finery to go out and see the New Year in. New costume jewelry, lingerie, hose and dresses will find their way to parties and dances come tomorrow night.

Few people give dresses to the lady for fear of wrong size, color or style, but many have received checks, cash and gift certificates to go find the dress for the big night out. Seiller's has some party dresses that just shout "party" and "good time".

The debutant or the seasoned hostess will be able to find the best in styles and material at the local store.

For the formal party they offer a lovely gown with an off-white brocaded top that features a soft wide strap around the neck and a TV neckline lined with brocade flowers. The skirt of net billows forth from the small peplum which encircles the waist. Another eye-catcher features grey nylon tulle in a strapless gown with a trim of bright green tulle overdrape caught with sparkling sequins.

Taffeta and velvet which are the best for party-goers over 45 (if they are willing to admit it), are featured in many of the gowns at Seiller's. A purple velvet and a wine velvet that feature small cap sleeves would both look stunning with grey or white hair. A changeable taffeta in green which features a wide ruffle around the ballerina skirt looks very youthful but anyone with a "school girl figure" would look wonderful in this sweet dress.

A wide selection of day time dresses is also available at Seiller's, many featuring the sheath dress and dressy jacket . . . they make a quick change easy and are ideal for going from a dinner date to a dancing date.

Complete your outfit at Seiller's with many fine accessories and go out and have a good time. Happy New Year!

JULIE

By Jane Kesner Morris

This is a story of a young English woman and the life she chose, a life radically different from the one into which she was born. The background of the story moves from the social gatherings of England to the soup kitchens of America in the nineteenth century.

The heroine of the story is Julie Corper, a well-bred English society girl. She leads a somewhat sheltered life and not until she meets and falls in love with Phillip McManus, an unsuccessful playwright, did she realize there was another world besides the one she lived in. Phillip urges her to marry him and go to America but she refuses, unwilling to forsake the comforts of her own home for what was then a rather unsettled America.

However, she soon meets and marries Leon Dekker, and with him comes to America to start a new life. The story tells of their struggles to eke out an existence in a country new to them under conditions entirely unfamiliar to them.

The story of Julie is a very interesting one, especially in the comparison of the rich social life of London and the turbulent times of America at that time.

Golden Agers Observe Holidays

On Dec.23, the Golden Age Club of Sunshine Recreation Center held their annual Christmas Party.

There was a gift exchange and each member brought a present; and each received one. Frank Hogan acted as Mailman and delivered the packages to the group. The Club spent some time recalling and singing Christmas Carols.

There were refreshments served and everyone filled themselves. Special Christmas movies were shown for the group; and everyone recalled the many Christmases of the past.

Cloche and Cup Chapeaux Bare Hairlines

BY EDNA MILES

Dark green wool jersey makes a debonair turban tilted just off center. The fabric is swathed about a flat crown, fastened by jet clips and tied in a casual knot at the side.

THE deep hat that cups the head but does it becomingly, keynotes the fall millinery collections of top designers. This means that the hairline is bared and the hat is worn deep and straight on, or tilted ever so slightly.

As done by Tatiana of Saks Fifth Avenue, these are young-looking hats with a great deal of flattery. Black is all-important, but this year it's black polished with jet, satin or velvet braid. In color, there are delicate shades of lavender, pale blue, plus glowing reds and greens.

In fabrics, there are velours, velvets, pleated horsehair, wool jersey, and a new very thin silk stocking jersey. There's news in a French fabric that's imaginative. It's fuzzy and soft much like angora, but is in reality a mixture of nylon and rayon.

The cloche is much in evidence. This designer does one in purple velours, gives it a short, rippled brim and a long black quill.

For the equally important turban, there are lines that bare the brow and curve over the ears. One such is done in dark green taffeta with markings of cut black velvet.

For after-five-o'clock wear, the beret appears in white sequins, dazzling as mid-winter snow, slanted against a black velvet arc.

For a second beret, there's black velvet dotted by tiny red silk tassels.

The three-cornered hat in a pixie mood, with swirls at each corner so that the crown lies flat yet addies in pretty dips about the head. Made of a new nylon that looks like angora.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

Over 90 per cent of the 10,000 doctors of veterinary medicine in the United States spend most of their time vaccinating food-producing stock such as cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, inspecting meat and milk, and carrying on activities to control such diseases as tuberculosis and brucellosis that can be transmitted from animals to men. Healthy animals are necessary also to supply insulin, liver extract, adrenalin, cortisone, ACTH and other products important to the modern treatment of disease.

Answer to Question No. 2:

It is a disease causing severe muscular spasm and can result in death. When it invades the muscles of the jaw, it is known as "lockjaw." Puncture type wounds made by rusty nails and other such objects are the most frequent portals of entry for the tetanus bacillus which is the direct cause of the disease. The disease may be prevented if tetanus antitoxin is administered promptly.

Answer to Question No. 3:

Glaucoma is a disease of the eye diagnosed by too much fluid in the eyeball and increased tension. The actual cause is unknown. Glaucoma may lead to blindness, but if treated early and persistently, it can be held in check over many years. It is primarily a disease of older people.

Books . . . Your Neighbors Are Reading

THE PRIVATEER
By Gordon Daviot

What do you think of when you hear the name Henry Morgan? Morgan the Pirate? If so, you should read "The Privateer." You'll get an entirely new conception of the man and of the whole race of privateers. They were not pirates, says Miss Daviot, and her facts are documented at the end of the book. Privateers did not even speak to pirates; who preyed on everybody, friend and foe alike. Privateers preyed only on Spain (if English) or on England (if Spanish).

Morgan himself turns out to be a young Welshman who was raised in a strictly religious home. At the opening of the story he is a bond servant in Barbados; but the plantation owner, bankrupt because of a long drought, is setting his servants and slaves free. Young Henry, at loose ends, meets a privateer crewman in a tavern and goes with him to his ship. Here he conceives the first of those brilliant plans for taking a Spanish ship which were to make him a nightmare to Spain; he takes the ship, and his career is begun.

The action of the story is mainly at sea, of course, with one episode on land in Panama; but it is interspersed with peaceful interludes on his plantation on Barbados with his pretty and understanding wife.

In the end he is called home to England for an investigation, but is vindicated, partly by a letter from one of his worst enemies who, in spite of his dislike, cannot bear to see him pilloried for crimes he did not commit.

Altogether this is an enthralling story, with plenty of action and good insight into character; the people are distinctly three-dimensional and believable, especially Henry and his friend, Bartholomew, the man he met in the tavern. And, as mentioned before, the facts are well documented; the tale is well written and well worth reading.

JOURNEY TO THE FAR PACIFIC
By Thomas E. Dewey

An unusual book in that the author tells what he saw and heard during his journey in the "Far East" instead of assuming that after a quarter-year spent in viewing a very wide territory he knows everything, comprehends the whole situation and is in position to decide policies.

This is a book to be read by the person who has a reason for wishing to know more about the significance of the "Pacific" countries and what is developing there. His reason might be political or economic, or might be simply good citizenship.

Too many people are confused about the countries in the area visited by Mr. Dewey, hardly know that some of them exist, and do not grasp the fact that their concerns concern America and Europe.

The forthright and courageous Mr. Dewey relates facts. When the reader finishes his book he will have a new understanding of the lives of the people of Korea, Formosa, Angkor, and Indonesia, and why Communist ambitions are concentrated there. The chapter on Hong Kong alone will open the eyes of the reader to what is at once a tragedy and a peril.

Not only are the leaders of each country visited and interviewed, the farmers are visited in their homes and the opinions and tendencies of the common, every-day people are discovered. Mr. Dewey will express an opinion; he does not lay down the law. His book is an education in itself.

A test of Spears' political drawing power will be made next November when he will be required to run for re-election to a full term as his party's choice for the task.

Spears said this week: "I want the entire public to know that in accepting this job I am dedicating myself to a term of real service to the people of Columbus. If there is anything I can do as councilman I want the people to call me and I'll do my best to serve the interests of all."

John Burroughs And West Broad Win "Y" Holiday Tournaments

By Dick Wilson

John Burroughs Gra-Y won the Hilltop YMCA Class A basketball holiday tournament last week with convincing victories over Gra-Y Clubs from Westgate and West Broad.

The John Burroughs boys have been undefeated this season and are predicted to come through with a league championship this season.

In the first game the Sullivant Avenue boys swamped a smaller Westgate, 35-1. Fred Ash was the big gun in this game with a total of 12 points which helped put his team into the finals.

J. B. Gra-Y continued with their high scoring tactics in the finals by overwhelming West Broad Gra-Y, 18-1. This time Dave "the Mule" Francis was high by kicking in a total of eight points.

West Broad got into the finals by defeating Highland 12-3 and edging West Mound 10-9.

Gra-Y All Stars Top Glenwood Yankees 34-18

By Dick Wilson

The Hilltop Gra-Y All Stars exploded on the Glenwood basketball court last Friday like a New Year's Eve firecracker as they downed the scrappy and highly favored Glenwood Yankees 34-18. Glenwood started out strong by having the upper hand all through the first half. The Yanks led one time in the first half as much as five points with the half ending 9-8 in favor of the Glenwood boys.

In the third quarter the visiting Gra-Y team began to pull ahead with Fred Ash and Bill Ingle leading the barrage of points. The quarter ended with the Hilltop YMCA boys on the long end of an 18-13 count.

The fourth quarter proved to be a duplicate of the third as the Gra-Y team swished through 14 points while holding the Glenwood Recreation team to five counters. The final score as the gun sounded was 34-18 in favor of the Gra-Y All Stars.

Gra-Y captain, Fred Ash, turned in 19 points, followed by teammate Bill Ingle with nine. Jerry Hummel of the Yankees turned in five points for his team and played one whale of a floor game while doing most of the Yank rebounding. Bill Ingle was the star floor man for the All Stars and despite his lack of height, managed to snag the major percentage of rebounds credited to his team.

Gra-Y coaches, Woodie Waltman and Keith Jenkins, had nothing but praise for their proteges and said they are looking for more games for their sharp-shooting team.

Cowboy Five Renews Action After Holidays

West High School's cage squad added two more victories to their already fine season's record over the holidays, as they captured top honors in the four team, two day basketball carnival held at St. Charles High School Dec. 26 and 27.

Along with the Cowboys and the host five, Bexley and Worthington were the other participants.

Opening night saw the Cowboys take a 50-42 decision over St. Charles. The low scoring was due mainly to the slow, deliberate control style of play of the Saints.

In the other contest of the evening Worthington edged Bexley by a score of 60-58.

The final night found St. Charles taking a low scoring fray from Bexley by a count of 47-45.

The rangy Cowboys and Worthington then clashed in the title contest with both teams hitting with amazing ability from all angles during the first part of the game. But the Cowboys and their superior height began to pull away early in the final half and won going away by a score of 72-63.

The rebounding play of Earl Redman was the key to the locals' win, as Jerry Trabue again led the offensive with 24 points. Jerry Cox, a brilliant guard, led the losers' attack with 18 markers.

Worthington, in losing, hit an amazing 48 per cent of its field goal attempts, while the Cowboys hit for a fine 41 per cent.

This Friday night the Cowboys will swing back into City League competition by visiting Linden McKinley High. This is one of the crucial games on the local schedule and the outcome of the contest depends upon the ability of the Cowboys to stop the high scoring of Lute Cain, 6'6" center, and Chuck Kessler, 6'1" guard.

These two players rank second and fourth in scoring in Greater Columbus and have accounted for more than half of their team's points.

The Cowboys have a better balanced attack but with the home floor advantage of the Panthers the contest looks like a toss-up.

Tuesday night, Jan. 13, an upset minded Central quintet will visit the local gym to clash with the Cowboys.

LIVING WITH CANCER by Edna Kaehele is another addition to the large and ever-growing group of popular works on cancer. In it Mrs. Kaehele describes her battle against a cancer that was pronounced incurable. Refusing to accept the verdict that she must die in six months, Mrs. Kaehele, with the help of her devoted sister, Dorothy, waged a slow, agonizing, but always uphill struggle against death. By living from day to day and minute to minute, by maintaining a grasp, however tenuous, on normal existence, by remaining as much as possible an active member of her family group, Mrs. Kaehele was able to overcome pain and weakness. The strategems used by herself and her family, the attitudes toward pain, the healthy insight into the need for some philosophy in such a situation, are all worthy of highest note. These factors can well be used by anyone faced with a long, debilitating illness.

Mrs. Kaehele does not, however, seem cognizant of the difference between a disease as such, and the patient's attitude toward that disease. Cancer is a disease which all medical science has so far been unable to conquer. It is only through early diagnosis and prompt radical treatment that we can control it. Though Mrs. Kaehele underwent the most intensive treatment with x-ray and radium, she gives this therapy little credit for her recovery. She advises her readers, ". . . stuff the body with protein . . . saturate it with vitamins . . . then hold on . . ." Thus, she says, one can live with cancer. As a physician who more than once has had to shake her head helplessly and hopelessly in the face of cancer, I must emphasize that cancer IS a killer, that people DO die from it every day. Mrs. Kaehele's advice is a fine adjunct to treatment—but it will not replace it!

In "Living With Cancer" Mrs. Kaehele has pointed up, with insight and sensitivity, the significance of psychological adjustment in the prognosis of a physical ailment. She has also outlined many of the mechanisms of such an adjustment. The book is small and well written. It is a worth-while evening's reading.

THE ALEXANDRIANS, by Charles Mills.

Covering 100 years from the period prior to the War Between the States through the Great Depression, the story records the beginnings and growth of a small Georgia town in 675 pages of well-written but often boring prose.

The author has succeeded fairly well in presenting the small town—anywhere— in rather disturbing starkness. In the early days of the town the schoolteacher and the minister were forced to leave because their views were at variance with the rest of the good people of the town. At about the same time a young blood shot a man one night and spent the rest of his life alternately terrified for fear someone would find out, and later unable to make people believe it.

The very souls of the people of the town are laid bare in the story. In fact the probing is so deep that it cannot be said to make exactly enjoyable reading.

Most people will probably not particularly care for this book. Continuity between chapters is often ragged and hard to follow, although taken individually they are sometimes good. Mr. Mills spent over 10 years writing this tome and one is prone to wonder why he took the trouble.

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

During the first week of the New Year many of us give serious thought to resolutions that might bring about a new beginning or at least change the new into a better one than was the old.

In most cases resolutions are short lived and soon forgotten — even a waste of time. But serious thought for a better year should never be abolished.

The refrain of Christmas season, "Peace on Earth, to men of good will" always seems to create the most favorable spirit of the entire year, therefore, this same theme should be an ideal one to hope and pray for in the new year.

Even though we have felt sure on the threshold of many past new years that peace would come and even though we have been disappointed each time, we must never give up hoping, but must redouble our prayers during the next 12 months and perhaps by the time another New Year rolls around we will have achieved the one thing that is equally important to all of us for a happy New Year.

Silver Dollars To Reward Store Patrons

Spencer's Tot-to-Teen Store at the new Central Point Shopping Center during the month of January is conducting an unusual event which benefits all customers of the store who make purchases totaling $10 or more during the month. The store is giving one silver dollar for every $10 worth of sales slips turned in during the month, according to Spencer Alexander, owner.

The store, which specializes in a complete line of apparel for children from the infant to teen age, has adopted this plan, which will effect a reward to its many customers of such nationally advertised brands as Kate Greenway Frocks, Nitey-Nites, Playskool toys, Pinkie toys and Billy the Kid overalls and jeans for boys and girls.

Mr. Alexander emphasized the point that purchases need not be made all at one time, but that by saving the slips they can be cashed in for the silver dollar award whenever the amount reaches $10 during the month of January.

106 Christmas Trees Make Up Boys Fort

If you happen in the vicinity of 602 S. Eureka-av these days and are suddenly startled by the cry of "Don't shoot till you see the whites of their eyes!" just don't be too unduly alarmed. It's just a group of the neighborhood boys getting all the fun they can out of their Christmas tree fort.

Every year following the holidays the fort arises after the boys scour the neighborhood for discarded Christmas trees and this year it is constructed of more than 106 trees. If you look closely at the above photo you can find some of the defenders of the fort in the midst of the boughs. They are Dick Norris, 591 S. Eureka-av; Dwain Derr, 575 S. Eureka-av; Fred McPherson, 602 S. Eureka-av, and Pat Williams, 644 S. Eureka-av.

What eventually happens to the trees? Well that's a problem always faced by K. C. McPherson of the Eureka-av address. Seems he always gets the job of disposing of the fort.

We will deeply miss our comrade whom we all remember well despite the fact that illness curtailed his active participation in our post several years before. His type of comrade is difficult if not impossible to replace. It was an honor to have been associated with a comrade of his stature.

Can You "Afford" To Have Polio?

In the picture—Marjorie Willack, 26-year-old first grade school teacher is shown using the chest respirator, which is not quite as familiar as the iron lung. This particular respirator is comparatively new, and has several advantages over the iron lung type. Although Marjory must still use the iron lung she is relieved at intervals by the new respirator. She has been a patient at Children's Hospital for several months.

The dimes or dollars you give to the March of Dimes constitute the best investment in polio protection an American citizen can make.

By no stretch of the imagination can this uniquely American institution be called a charity. It is rather an inspiring example of how enlightened individuals can protect each other and themselves from the bankrupting assault of an enormously expensive disease.

Even if the Franklin County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis did no more than pay the cost of treatment for every polio patient who needed it, the March of Dimes would not be a charity. If it were, then four out of five patients would be "charity cases" . . . including newspaper editorial writers. For few of us indeed can pay costs that may run above $80 a day and, in some cases, add up to more than $30,000 per year.

But your March of Dimes investment does more than pay the treatment bills. It buys and transports iron lungs; it finances the training of skilled professional people; it meets the cost of transportation, salaries and maintenance of nurses recruited for service anywhere in the nation; it finances the most determined scientific onslaught ever waged by volunteers against a disease; through every medium it seeks to inform the public about the problems of polio and protection against it.

All of these vital services of direct benefit to patients and public alike . . . whether we are well-heeled or down-at-the-heel.

This means that all of us—whether we can "afford" to have polio or not—are investing in our protection when we join the March of Dimes.
